QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a quesion of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to announce a very important meeting of the Ways and Means Committee immediately after the session this afternoon, in room 523. We will not keep you very long.

RELATIVE TO CONDITIONS IN EASTERN PENITENTIARY.

Mr. EARLY asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the folowing resolution, which was read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, June 5, 1923.

Whereas, The grand inquest for the city and county of Philadelphia empanelled for the April Session, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three of the Quarter Sessions of the peace of said county and city on the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, made a report to the Honorable John Monaghan, a judge of said court, of the conditions existing in the Eastern Penitentiary, located in said county and city, and

Whereas, The report of the said grand inquest was of such a nature as to shock the community, and bring reproach upon the Commonwealth, and the conditions exposed therein were such as demand instant correction, and

Whereas, It is alleged in the said report that the sale of narcotics was carried on by some of the inmates to such an extent that an income of three thousand dollars a year was realized by some of the prisoners, and

Whereas, During the past six months, between forty and fifty stills, used for the manufacture of beverages of high alcoholic strength were confiscated, and it is alleged in the report that whiskey could be readily secured from the outside with the connivance of corrupt overseers and guards, and

Whereas, The said report charges that the moral conditions existing in said Eastern Penitentiary were of a nature too vile for enumeration, that young men were morally corrupted and became degenerates, that even women inmates became the victims of this reign of lawlessness, and that the institution became a breeding place of crime instead of a place of correction, and

Whereas, An apparent break down in discipline has resulted in the prevalence of a unique carnival of lawlessness, and that guards were assaulted and were in constant fear of their lives, and

Whereas, The said grand inquest recommended that the members of the State Legislature acquaint themselves more thoroughly with the present conditions and more actively participate in the administration of the institution, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That a Legislative Investigating Committee, consisting of three members of the Senate, to be named by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and four Members of the House of Representatives, to be named by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, is hereby constituted and authorized to thoroughly investigate conditions existing and which have existed in the said Eastern Penitentiary and to report their findings to this Session of the Legislature, together with such recommendations as to them may seem advisable to prevent the further occurrences of any evils which may be revealed by their investigations, and be it further

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses by subpoena, and any failure or refusal by any person or persons to obey any subpoena issued by said committee, shall be reported by them, to the General Assembly for such action as may be determined upon.

The said committee shall have power to employ such clerical services as may be necessary. The members of said committee shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for any necessary expenses incurred by them. An item not to exceed two thousand dollars shall be inserted in the general appropriation bill for the expenses of the said committee, and the compensation of any clerks or stenographers employed by them.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FLAG.

Mr. HAWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 5, 1923.

Whereas, The Fine Arts Commission of Washington has recommended to the President of the United States that the proportions of the standard Flag of the United States should be changed for artistic purposes; and

Whereas, The State of Pennsylvania has enacted legislation requiring the display of a standard flag of fifty-two by sixty-six inches at entertainments, public gatherings and public meetings; and

Whereas, The change of size as suggested will nullify this law and involve a large expenditure of money to supply flags of the new standard size by persons and organizations who desire to display only flags of a standard size; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully petitions the President of the United States to disregard the action of the Fine Arts Commission and to retain the standard size of the United States Flag so that the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania enacted for patriotic purposes may be preserved to their full intent;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 854, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Salvation Army Inc., of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of two thousand seven hundred dollars ($2,700) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Salvation Army Inc., of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three for the purpose of maintenance to be paid at the rate of ninety (.90) cents per diem for the care treatment and maintenance of each indigent person maintained in said institutions the same to be paid quarterly on requisition of the Commissioner of Public Welfare when accompanied by a certificate from the Auditor General of the State that such sums have been properly earned as shown by audit made by the traveling auditors of the Auditor General's Department

Any part of this appropriation not actually earned by the said institution in accordance with the terms of this act shall lapse

The purpose of this act is to provide a fund out of which payment can be made to the said institution for actual service rendered to persons to whom the Commonwealth owes a duty and not to grant a gratuity to the said institution

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

COMMITTEE DISCHARGED.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee on Mines and Mining be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1473, (Senate Bill No. 390), entitled:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund" Apporpriating a Portion of the State Tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission and Imposing Duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General

Also of House Bill No. 1474, (Senate Bill No. 391), entitled:

An Act creating the "Anthracite Municipalities Fund" appropriating pro rata according to population a portion of the tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Cities Boroughs and Townships from which the anthracite coal taxed was removed in course of mining and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in defense of this motion, I want to say to you that the people of the anthracite coal fields have exhausted all patience. We have attempted to be fair. Early in this session bills were introduced for the protection of life and limb in the anthracite coal regions and for the protection of property, but we are thoroughly convinced that some little pet measure which amounts to nothing in this state gets far more consideration than the lives of human beings. I care nothing about the bills which I introduced, due to the fact that many members of this House were antagonistic to me because I represent labor. I did not attempt to force my bills but these bills 390 and 391 which provide that a fair amount of the taxes be sent back to the anthracite fields to take care of the property, and the lives of our people, were passed without one dissenting vote in the Senate but we find men here, from the Governor down, who say this is not meritorious measure. What kind of a Governor have we got? I went to the Governor with the Chairman of the Committee and plead for the measures. The understanding we had at that time was that if we could place the bills on the calendar and if we had sufficient revenue in sight he would be glad if he had thirty days to consider. I later called upon the Governor of this Commonwealth and had an understanding that when the end of the session was in sight the bills would be released from the Ways and Means Committee and placed on the calendar, and I further agreed that I would make a motion in this House to place these two bills on the postponed calendar until the last day. Is there anything fairer than that? Yet we find that he tells others that he did not want the bills out of Committee, to save him don't let the bills come out. I want to say to you that I have opposed the Governor on previous occasions upon the floor of this House, and I did it without fear. When his other legislation came up he asked how we felt about it, and I said that we were not against him, and we were agreed to go along. We played that game fair and square. The time has come now when the cards must be placed upon the table. We have heard a great deal of political pledges from various organizations in this State and from his Honor himself, but a pledge he made to the women and the children and the property owners of the anthracite fields is being winked at in this House. I don't want to play upon the sympathy of the members of this House, but those of you who have witnessed the cave-in of our homes in the anthracite coal fields, you need not be talked to here today. Our children, according to the laws of this State, we are forced to send them into schools, and without protection. Only a short time ago, a few nights ago in this House they said fifteen minutes after our children got home the school yards caved in. Many, many lives have been lost in the anthracite coal fields. When you walk the streets you don't know whether you are going to go into the mines in ten minutes or not. I want to say if your law is strict, enough to force our children into the schools then the Mines and Mining Committee should be decent enough to send out the bills to protect them. I want to say, as a representative from that field, I stood upon the same platform with the Governor there was only one plank that we didn't agree upon, and that was the wet plank. he had a dry one in and I had a wet one, but on the question of mine cave legislation, when moving pictures are taken of certain people for grandstand plays, and say "I am for the protection of your homes", but when it comes down to running a banking institution in the State of Pennsylvania then he begins to look at the almighty dollar and he does not compare human life equal to the almighty dollar. I am bitter, because a promise is a promise. I never went back on mine. When I gave my word, I attempted to stand by it. His word has been given to me and given to the representatives of our fields, and we agreed with him if the revenue was not in sight when the bill was on his desk, he had a right to do as he pleased, but he is not willing now to even give you a square deal on the floor of this House, and see that these bills are given the same rights as his own bills. The Governor's measures are permitted to come upon the floor of this House because they are very meritorious and we are going to vote law enforcement, but we are not voting for the protection of the people. We are hearing so much of law enforcement that I am almost afraid to speak upon the floor of this House for fear I may be considered not American. I want to say that we are Americans. Let us protect the property, let us protect the dollar that the old man and old woman have spent their years of earnings to build a home and then caved into the mines regardless of their sacrifice of life or protection of property. If we are in the Legislature, and have no further ideas but saving money, down the people, who are as good citizens as there are in the State of Pennsylvania. I say to you I am giving to you the tears, groans and heartaches of the men, women and children in the anthracite fields. I want to ask you for a square deal to place these bills on the calender

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I recognize the serious condition in the county of Lackawanna, and two years ago at the session when a mine cave bill was before this bill I spoke on it and approved of it and voted for it. Unfortunately the Supreme Court declared the bill unconstitutional and left the same condition existing there as had been existing for years. To place this bill on the calendar when we need seriously to meet the expenses of the Commonwealth is ill-advised, I think at this time, especially when for almost six months we have been worrying our heads over the way we are going to get enough money to meet the expenses of this Commonwealth, that these bills should lie over. I move that the motion be laid upon the table.

Mr. KOHLER. The motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, was not seconded, and the Chair recognized me before his motion was seconded.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Kohler, is advised that the motion was seconded as soon as made. The Chair has been endeavoring to ascertain who it was that seconded the motion.

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order,

The SPEAKER. The Gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DUNN. A motion to lay upon the table is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, is well taken.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. When I spoke a few minutes ago with regard to the fairness and unfairness of the people in this House, I think the motion to table has clearly demonstrated that we have not been treated fairly when we are not even given a chance to voice our opinion.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that under the rules of this House it requires sixty votes to discharge a committee from further consideration of a certain bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that that is true, that is the rule of the House.

Mr. McDERMOTT. On a motion of this kind that we are now considering to table, this rules simply declares that rule null and void, doesn't it, for the reason that in order to table this motion that is beore the House at the present time it requires a majority vote of this House.

The SPEAKER. A motion to lay upon the table is carried by the majority vote of a quorum, that is to say, a majority of those present and voting.

Mr. McDERMOTT. And the other rule of the House requires only sixty votes to bring a bill out of committee?

The SPEAKER. The Chair states the rules are there. The Chair does not care to argue with the member.

Mr. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHAEFFER. I desire to know from the gentleman from Phidadelphia, if the same conditions prevailed in Philadelphia, as prevail in the anthracite region whether he would make this motion?

Mr. DUNN. If the same condition prevailed we would not come into the State and ask for money, we would try to meet the condition in our own city.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HARER. A motion to lay upon the table is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Harer, is well taken.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the call for a roll call.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the motion in order to give the bill a fair chance.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I seconded Mr. Dunn's motion and I now withdraw my second.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining, which had this bill under consideration less than an hour ago, and which in its wisdom decided to hold the bills for the present, I don't think there was a single member but who appreciates the conditions existing in the territory to which the gentleman from Lackawanna refers, and there is not a member of that committee but who would like to see financial assistance rendered. The chief point before the committee for consideration was the point that if these bills were passed under the present condition they would take from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a large amount of revenue and that revenue is not in sight at the present time. I simply want to say that that was the predominating question that the Committee on Mines and Mining where, if these bills were enacted into law, the money would come from. I have been advised that the Mayor of Scranton has been in conference regarding these bills, and that he was in a fair way to arrive at an agreement which probably would meet with the approval of the committee and probably need the financial stringency which confronts the Commonwealth in such large measure. I don't know what the Mayor of Scranton has in mind, but I do think that we should at least give the Committee on Mines and Mining an opportunity to see what that position of his is, so that if he has something which would meet with the approval of the gentleman from Lackawanna himself, that the bills might be amended and reported out in proper form. So, it seems to me, that we are not hurting the situation any by declining to agree to the motion of the gentleman from Lackawanna which would mean the discharge of the committee on Mines and Mining from further consideration of these two measures.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. I have no intention to back up. They had sufficient time upon these bills, they have had months and months. The fight is now on the floor. I don't intend to back up now, the promise was made, and I stand by that promise. I am not going back.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman.

The SPEAKER. Will the getleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. There has been a rumor going around the House in the last hour or so that during or before the discussion of the amendments to the code that his Excellency the Governor sent for you and had you go and make a deal with Mr. David Fowler, that if he would vote against the amendments offered to that code that the committee would report that bill out, is that correct?

Mr. WHITEMAN. I don't have authority to speak in the name of the Governor, I will say in answer to the question of the gentleman from Delaware that the gentleman from Lackawanna and myself did call upon the Governor some weeks ago when these bills were referred to my committee, and that the Governor did ask us at that time if we would be satisfied to allow these bills to remain in committee where they were until such a time as there would be in sight sufficient revenue that would enable the Commonwealth to meet the obligations which the bills would entail. Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, I might say that as far as I have authority to say that the Governor still feels that there is no surety thus far of the revenue which these bills would necessitate.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was in hopes that the rumor that was going around was not true. I was in hopes that the gentleman from Westmoreland County could clear up a serious charge of that kind about the Governor. He has sidetracked the proposition and therefore we can take for granted that that allegation is true, and therefore the proposition was made, a promise was made to influence a member of this House in his vote upon the floor of this House.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I believe in the last session we have been well informed as far as the conditions in the anthracite coal fields were concerned, and the danger which confronted the residents there. I believe, actually I believe, that it is not more than humane and fair to those residents in the anthracite fields that we should protect their homes and their lives and their limbs and their property. Now, the question has been raised about the financial condition of the State. I want to be fair, we want to help the Governor wherever we can, and I believe the tax and revenue raisers which are now before us no doubt will pass this House. Now then, there is the deficiency which exists. It is not necessary to pay the deficiency in the next two years. The credit of the State of Pennsylvania is as good as it ever was. We are not bankrupt yet, let us extend that deficiency over four years and spend some of that money in the anthracite coal fields danger. That is my belief. Therefore, I ask you ladies and gentlemen to help the anthracite coal fields and take these bills from the committee.

Mr. GORHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GORHAM. As a member of the Mines and Mining Committee, did I hear the chairman of this committee make the statement that he has given due consideration to these bills? I say he has not. He has given no consideration whatever.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker in reply to the gentleman who has just spoken I want to say that I do not have authority to divulge the proceedings of the committee here other than to say that I think the gentleman from Lackawanna will bear me out when I say that I asked the gentleman from Lackawanna myself to explain the bill in committee.

Mr. GORHAM. In the meeting this afternoon this bill was out before the committee, and without any consideration by that committee the bill was reported with a negative recommendation is that so, or is it not so? I will leave it to any member of this House who was on that committee.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I didn't catch the gentleman's question.

Mr. GORHAM. I repeat, that that bill was reported with a negative recommendation without any consideration whatever.

Mr. WHITEMAN. The bills have not been reported out at all, they are still in the hands of the committee. The gentleman from Lackawanna has moved to discharge the committee.

In reply to the gentleman from Delaware, it would seem as though I did not catch the drift of his question. If the gentleman from Delaware meant at all to imply that the Governor attempted to make any deal with respect to any measure of legislation whatsoever, either with the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, or myself, then the gentleman from Delaware is laboring under a delusion, because nothing of that kind occured in my presence at least.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Did the gentleman from Lackawanna hear the answer given by the gentleman from Westmoreland?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. I could not hear on this side.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The gentleman from Westmoreland has said that the Governor did not have the promise made that he would report this bill out if you voted against the amendments this morning to the code, is that correct?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. The Governor, while Mr. Whiteman and I were there, said the minute he saw any revenue in sight that he would be glad to have the bills go on the calendar. On the other point, Mr. Whiteman says that the Governor said that he hoped that the committee would keep the bills in committee.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Until he could be sure—

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Until when? Until the day after the session was over.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Until there was sufficient revenue.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Certainly Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Didn't the gentleman from Lackawanna say within a few hours, make the statement within a few hours, to an official of this state, that the Governor sent for the chairman of this committee, after which the chairman of the committee came to you and promised that if you would vote against the amendments to the code that this bill would be reported out?

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. I didn't say anything at all about that. The agreement made by the Governor was, he asked me if I was going to be for the code, and I very cleverly said I was, because I thought he was going to do something.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in accordance with the wish of the House I desire to report the following bills.

Mr. WHITEMAN, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed House Bill No. 1473 (Senate Bill No. 390), entitled

An Act creating the "Anthracite Mine Cave Fund"; appropriating a portion of the State tax on anthracite coal to the use of the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General.

Mr. WHITEMAN, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed House Bill No. 1474 (Senate Bill No. 391), entitled

An Act creating the "Anthracite Municipalities Fund"; appropriating pro rata according to population a portion of the tax on anthracite coal tothe use of the cities, boroughs and townships from which the anthracite coal taxed was removed in course of mining and imposing duties upon the State Treasurer and Auditor General.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 367.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber Harrisburg June 5, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 367, for the purpose of amendment. Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 367, passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. W. T. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. W. T. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the words "fifty-four" and insert in lieu thereof "eighty-four"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out the figures "($54,000)" and insert in lieu thereof "($84,000)"

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, by adding at the end thereof the following paragraph:

"Thirty thousand dollars, ($30,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary for erection and construction of new buildings to replace buildings destroyed by fire."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 5, 1923.

Whereas, one of the tragedies incident to the disappearance of the forests of Pennsylvania—"Penn's Woods"—has been the loss of the wonderful primeval trees, the axe, saw and fire having almost obliberated these specimens of that high forest development which gave the Commonwealth world renown, and

Whereas, there chances to remain in the Allegheny Plateau in Northwestern Pennsylvania, the largest remaining stands of virgin white pine east of the Mississippi River, which contain many trees that for more than two hundred summers have lifted their spires to meet the sunshine, and a number of which were trees grown tall before our American Colonies were founded, and

Whereas, our timber is the only important natural resource that we cannot renew and perpetuate, and more particularly as white pine is indigenous to Pennsylvania's soils and climate and here reached its highest state of perfection in the East, and furthermore has so largely contributed to the industrial development and frame of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, it seems meet that there be preserved at least a remnant of virgin white pine as a sample of the forest glory that once covered vast areas of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, this Commonwealth is prevented by statute from paying in excess of ten dollars per acre for timber lands, and it appears that it is not good policy to expend the large sums necessary to acquire mature timber since cut over lands can be purchased and developed to greater economic benefit, and

Whereas, a group of citizens of this Commonwealth have organized an Association for the purpose of purchasing certain areas of virgin timber and presenting the same to the Commonwealth as a gift, and desires assurance, before further steps are taken as to the acceptibility of such gift, and

Whereas, it is the desire of these citizens that the areas so donated shall become a part of the State forest system, subject to its rules, regulations and policies and also to any special provisions as to certain parts of these areas being allowed to remain in their present primeval condition; Now Therefore Be It:

Resolved, (The House of Representatives concurring), that it is to the best interest of the Commonwealth, as a whole, that the proposed gift of forest lands be accepted, and

Resolved, that the Governor of this Commonwealth be and he hereby is authorized to accept the gift from the donors subject to such conditions, stipulations and reservations as may be determined as necessary to carry out the purposes of the bequest, with particular reference to the free use and enjoyment of the same by the people and where birds and wild animals may be seen in their native environment; and

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Commissioners of the Forest, the Water Supply and the Highway Department and to the Association of the donors.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

RESOLUTION No. 19.

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1923.

Whereas There have been serious and repeated charges in the public press and other publications that a number of text books on history now used in the schools of the Commonwealth contain offensive material tending to destroy the faith of pupils in the public schools that the American Revolution was waged for clean and exalted principals of of human rights and that American historical characters were heroic clean and upright and

Whereas A committee of twenty-one superintendents principals and teachers in New York City after six months of investigation found these texts unfit for use in the public schools and characterized one in the following language

"Mr. West presents only the views of the counsel for the Crown He is constantly finding defense for the course of action taken by the British Government The American side of the argument is entirely ignored No Weddeburn no Crown advocate could plead the British cause in a more bitterly partisan spirit than West has done"

Whereas Said committee further reported as follows

"The paragraphs complained of in the books indicate an attitude of mind toward the founders of the Republic which in our judgment is entirely reprehensible" and

Whereas These historical texts have been condemned in formal resolutions by the American Legion the descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence the Grand Army of the Republic the Knights of Columbus the Sons of the American Revolution the United Spanish War Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and

Whereas It is alleged these texts teach that many Patriots were drawn into the Continental Army by money bounties and promises of land that the Boston Tea Party was wholly a lawless destruction of property that if you called Washington an American he would have thought you were applying a nickname that the American Revolution was not an attempt of England to tyrannize over the Colonies that the wisdom of the break from England is a debatable question that the English Colonial system was not tyrannical that the War of one thousand eight hundred and twelve originated in blunder and was conducted discreditably and that it was a mistake that the first signer of the Declaration of Independence was a smuggler that the Continental Congress was made up of scoundrels and was the scene of petty bickerings and schemings among selfish unworthy short sighted narrow minded office seeking and office trading plotters and many other offensive provisions and

Whereas Such teachings do not constitute honest history and are not designed to be an accurate presentation of the truth and must inevitably result in the deadening of pride and confidence in the characters and principals of our Nation's founders the poisoning of the springs of patriotism and the lessening of National spirit and morale in the next generation and

Whereas We should in all justice do honor to our forefathers credit to ourselves and justice to our children by purging the public schools of histories that are disloyal to American tradition spirit and prestige and

Whereas Laws have been passed in the States of Oregon Washington Wisconsin and New York prohibiting the use of such texts and measures of the same kind are pending in Colorado Idaho Missouri West Virginia and Florida and in Indiana the legislature in letting a five-year contract of text books excluded all the accused histories therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Department of Public Instruction shall make an immediate investigation of all text books of history in the public schools of the Commonwealth and ascertain whether any of such texts ignore omit discount or in any manner belittle ridicule falsify distort question doubt or deny events leading up to the Declaration of Independence or connected with the American Revolution or the spirit determination or patriotism with which this Nation was founded defended and preserved or the accomplishments motives and acts of American patriots or cast aspersions upon their lives

Resolved That the Department of Public Instruction shall after such investigation make a report of its findings and therein shall specifically list any text book of history which in its opinion teaches improper matter or in an improper way and shall send a copy of its report to each board of school directors of the Commonwealth with the request that further use of said text book be discontinued

Resolved That the Department of Public Instruction shall make a report to the next Session of the General Assembly showing what was done in accordance with this resolution and what if any legislation is needed to prevent the further use of improper text books in the public schools

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the Secretary of the Commonwealth

NAYS—1.

Allman,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1179, file folio 7801, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and seventy-eight) entitled "An act relating to and regulating the use and operation of motor vehicles and vehicles propelled by or trailing after motor vehicles requiring the registration of the same and the licensing of all operators thereof providing the fees therefor and the disposition of such fees prohibiting the unauthorized use of and tampering with motor vehicles limiting and defining the powers of cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and counties as to the regulation of the use and equipment of motor vehicles and the taxing registration or licensing thereof imposing certain duties on the State Highway Commissioner and on proprietors of public garages providing procedure and penalties for violations thereof and the disposition of fines collected and regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising from the use of any motor vehicle" as amended by further regulating the use of registration plates prescribing fees for omnibuses and changing other existing fees changing the date for the licensing year limiting the weights of certain trailers providing for the examination of operators authorizing the State Highway Commissioner to publish and sell lists of registrations authorizing municipalities to erect certain ordinances making an appropriation for refunding moneys and providing penalties was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the idea in asking for the reconsideration of this bill is to return it to the Public Roads Committee for amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1179 passed on third reading be reconsidered?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1179 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads, for amendment.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. ALEXANDER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 581, entitled:

An Act imposing a poll tax for county purposes on male and female residents over the age of twenty-one years and abolishing the occupation tax

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Will the sponsor of this bill permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Will you kindly explain the purpose of this bill to the members of this House?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is the bill that does away with the occupation tax throughout the Commonwealth, and placing in lieu thereof a poll tax of fifty cents a year. In other words, the country districts believe that they should be enabled to vote just as cheaply as the city of Philadelphia votes, all it costs them is fifty cents, whereas it costs some people anywheres from one dollar to one dollar and fifty cents for a poll tax in order to enable them to vote. Now, this does away with the occupation tax entirely and makes it a flat fifty-cent tax for poll tax uniform all through the State. It has been the experience that many people complain about it and a great many of the tax collectors complain that it is absolutely impossible to collect hardly any of this tax. The municipalities, boroughs and townships complain because they make up their budget with the understanding that they are going to have so much money and when the final windup comes they find that the occupation tax they were unable to collect. Of course, Philadelphia is not bothered with that because they have done away with it many years ago, that is the occupation tax, and they have had no occupation tax. I understand that the members from Philadelphia are going to vote against this bill because they try to say that they have an occupation tax down there of twenty-five cents a year, fifty cents every two years, and that that is a poll tax. I have tried to explain to them that that is true. What that means is they have a poll tax of twenty-five cents a year. They only have to pay it every two years because under the constitution just the same as it is here their poll tax is good for two years, and when you pay the poll tax of fifty cents this year, the voter in order to vote under the constitution is not obliged to pay another fifty cents for two more years, and therefore that is a fifty cent tax every two years, and of course, the gentlemen in Philadelphia when they go to pay their poll tax, fifty cents every two years, and that is good for two years, but we cannot get it into their heads. By the act of 1869, away back there somewhere, it gives the council of Philadelphia the right to fix a poll tax, and we have had everybody busy I can think of, on the floor of the House, including Mr. Glass, who is an authority in Philadelphia, and we cannot find any ordinance in Philadelphia, about paying a tax, but they just go up and pay something and that entitles them to vote there. That is the proposition, and that is why Mr. Marcus asked me to explain it. I had explained it to him a dozen times, as far as that is concerned.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not from Philadelphia, but I am not for this bill. There are other features connected with the provisions of this bill which are far reaching, which are entirely separate and distinct from the question of the right to vote. At the present time we have throughout Pennsylvania an occupation tax, and in most counties this tax is classified according to the various occupations. Under our constitution in determining the amount of bonding power in any district it is determined upon the amount of valuation in that particular district, and in computing that valuation they include the occupation tax. Members of the House, this is a bill that affects every district in this State, unless it is Philadelphia, and it is all important. As I say in determining the amount of a bond issue in any municipality under the constitution you can bond a municipality up to two per cent of its valuation without a vote of the people. In determining that valuation you take into consideration and include with the value of your real estate the total amount of the occupation tax that is assessed throughout that district. If this bill is passed it will take this tax away from the valuation in the district throughout the State, borough, school districts, and it is going to reduce very materially the bonding power in those districts. Two years ago I had occasion to look into this matter. I was informed at that time by one of the members of the Allegheny County Board of Assessors that the occupation tax in Allegheny County amounted to thirty million dollars. You can readily see if you take that valuation off of your various municipalities what effect it is going to have on your bonding power. Not only that, but you are going to lose a very large amount of tax each year. Under the provisions of the poll tax, where a poll tax is assessed against an individual, for instance, he is assessed at three hundred dollars and the school tax the borough tax the county and poll tax is all computed upon the basis of that occupation tax. For instance, if a man's occupation was assessed at three hundred dollars, and you paid a twenty mill school tax, that amount would be six dollars school tax on his occupation. If you had a ten mill borough tax he would pay three dollars, and if you had a county and poor tax of ten mills on a three hundred dollar occupation he would pay twelve dollars on his occupation, on a basis of three hundred dollars on the above stated millage. Under this bill as introduced he would pay fifty cents as a poll tax, and he would pay nothing on those various items that I have mentioned. A man not owning any real estate would not pay another cent of taxes throughout his district, and that is the only way that you can reach the man who don't own real estate, that is on the valuation of the occupation tax. If you had that eliminated from the school districts and the boroughs and the townships and the counties an immense amount of money that you are getting from an assessment of occupation tax, where are you going to make it up. There is only one palce to get it, that is to shove it on real estate and by so doing increase the millage of the men who are already paying a big millage on their real estate, and get nothing from the man because he doesn't own anything. That is the result of this bill if it passes. For those reasons, members of the House, I think it is a grave mistake to eliminate this occupation tax. If we are going to eliminate the occupation tax it is a fundamental principle in all occupational tax levies that it ought to be made high enough to cover at least the cost of collection. The fifty cent tax is as much trouble to collect in the form of an occupation as a ten dollar tax on the basis of an assessment of your occupation. This fifty cent tax provided in this bill would not cover the cost of collecting and the tax when it was collected you would not have anything after you paid your collector. For these reasons I am opposed to this bill and hope it does not prevail.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Marshall.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Marshall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I have always found the gentleman from Beaver truthful, so I would like him to try to correct the statement which I think he made a while ago in which I think he said the occupation tax in Allegheny County for one year was thirty million dollars. You are mistaken about that, are you not?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. If I recall those are the figures that were given to me.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't you mean the assessment was thirty million dollars, the occupation assessment?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. The assessment on the occupation.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, you said the tax was thirty million.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. I beg your pardon, the assessment on the occupation was thirty million dollars, that is what I meant to say.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I didn't want you to tell a falsehood.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. I am glad you directed it to my attention, because I did not mean that.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McVICAR.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1285, entitled

An Act establishing minimum standards of plant equipment service administration and care and treatment for State-aided hospitals requiring the Department of Public Welfare to investigate any hospital to which an appropriation is made and if such hospital conforms to at least the standards established by this act to so certify to the Auditor General and prohibiting the Auditor General from drawing a warrant upon the State Treasurer in favor of any hospital which does not conform to the standards established by this act

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. I will.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. McVicar, on page 7 at the close of this act it provides that "the minimum standards specified in this act such an appeal may be taken from the decision of the Commissioner of Public Welfare to a Board composed of the Governor, ex-officio, the Attorney General, The Commissioner of Health and Auditor General, whose decision shall be final." I should like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he would permit an amendment to be inserted in this act that if this decision was adverse to the hospitals in question, that they could still resort to the court of quarter sessions in the county in which the hospital is located so as to have an appeal from that decision.

Mr. McVICAR. This bill has been before this body for a long time. It has been amended much and we thought amendments had been inserted to meet the views of everyone, but I find out that there is one amendment still desired, and I believe that the amendment offered or suggested by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, is all right, but on account of the lateness of the session I will say this to him, that I will agree that that amendment may be inserted while in the Senate.

Mr. STEEDLE. That is agreeable, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. This bill refers to state-aid hospitals. Now, you members who have state-aid hospitals in your district know how hard it is to even get sufficient money from the state to pay their service. It was never intended by any law, or any act of assembly, that the Department of Public Welfare should supervise these hospitals, state-aid hospitals. Their duties have always been as your board of charities was a visitorial one, and now for this House to say when they cannot get the full amount that they will have to show that they have such an equipment and therefore put those hospitals to a great deal of expense that they otherwise would not have to be placed to, just because they are dictated to, just because the State legislature gives them a little sum each and every year to help them out on their service, it don't seem to me that we should impose upon those hospitals these restrictions in the requirements of this bill.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is one of a series designed originally by the Welfare Department for the control and government of hospitals in connection with the appropriation bills, practically all of which we have passed, and all of which carry provisions in them correlated with this series of bills. Mr. Speaker, these bills originally were passed upon by the State Hospital Association and received their approval. They were actually taken up with the Judiciary General Committee and due to the stringency to their terms were modified very materially with the approval of the Welfare Department. As far as we know there is not a single hospital in the State which does not at present comply with the minimum standards required in this bill, and in case there should be one unable to comply the bill is not to go into effect until January 1923, or until such time as that particular hospital is examined, so that the bill as now before you is eminently fair. It meets with the approval of the State Hospital Association and it meets with the complete approval of the Judiciary General Committee which redrafted it in many respects.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know of no legislation that might be as dangerous as this present bill, and the suggestion that I offered as to an amendment and accepted by the sponsor is only a fair and equitable one. We who were in the session of 1921 well remember the night that the Welfare Bureau bill gave us the rump session in this House. At that time I was utterly opposed to the Welfare Bureau as an organization, because I believed, sincerely believed, that it is instrumental in building up the biggest machine in the State of Pennsylvania that we have now on our statute books. Just imagine a poor hospital, and when I say a poor one, I mean one that is within the minimum standards, which has trouble year in and year out to meet its expenses, and it is going in the hole each year, if for any reason that Commissioner of Welfare, and I have the greatest respect for the lady who now occupies that eminent position, but there is a day coming when she is not going to be in that place, when we may have a Commissioner of Welfare who would use all the political weight that he may possess against those hospitals, and put them up against the wall and say, "This is wrong and that is wrong and something else is wrong." For that one particular reason they would take that hospital and prefer charges against it, saying "You are not living up to the standards. I must enforce this legislation that I have as passed in this House this session." I hate to disagree with my good friend from Westmoreland, but I think I would sooner see this bill defeated, if I knew that over in the Senate they would not give these amendments a fair chance. I think in lieu of the fact that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman, pleads for the bill simply because it is a department bill, I think that is one good reason why we should vote it down when there is nothing there to protect us. If I thought for a minute that we would not get a square shake over there in the Senate I would ask the members of this House to go along and vote against this bill. There is a question in my mind now whether we should not do it and vote both these bills down until such time as we can get an agreement with the Senate that if the bills come over there that they will amend them, that every hospital may get chance to appeal from the decision made, appeal in the court of common pleas in the county in which the hospital is located.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House this bill and the companion bill is based upon two principles. First that every hospital receiving aid from the State should be required to furnish a minimum standard of service prescribed by law. I think you will all agree that that is a reasonable proposition, and that is what these bills contain. The second proposition is that there shall be an agency of the State to determine whether that service for which the State is paying is actually being furnished or not. These bills provide for that. In regard to the centralization of power I want to call your attention to the bill. It provides that from the decision of the Commissioner of the Department of Public Welfare, that an appeal may be taken to a board composed of the Governor, ex-officio, the Attorney General, the Commissioner of Health, and the Auditor General, and as already stated before in answer to the interrogation to the gentleman from Allegheny, we are willing to go even further than that to protect against an arbitrary exercise of power by allowing an appeal from that decision to the court, that amendment to be inserted in the Senate on account of the lateness of the time in which this amendment is asked for.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to say very briefly with respect to this bill that three of us were appointed a sub-committee of the Judiciary General Committee to take the matter up with our constituents at home. I called a meeting at my office, and that meeting was attended by, as I believe, all of the hospitals of Allegheny County and Dr. Steedle was present at the meeting. At that meeting objections to this bill were raised and thoroughly discussed, and all of those objections made on behalf of the hospitals on that occasion were met by amendments which removed from the bills the objectionable features. And added those which the hospitals desired. As I now understand these bills are satisfactory to the hospitals in my community.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. LUDLOW,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1361, entitled

An Act to prohibit the bribery of agents employees or servants and the giving or use of false documents with intent to deceive a principal employer or master to regulate evidence in such proceedings and to provide penalties for violation of this act

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 4, by striking out beginning with the words "to provide" and ending with the word "purposes" in the last line of said title, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and to provide penalties for violation of this act".

Amend bill, page 3, lines 5 to 26, by striking out all the words in lines 5 to 26 both inclusive

Amend sec. 6, page 4, lines 2 and 3, by striking out the words "such fine and imprisonment"

Amend sec. 6, page 4, line 3, by striking out beginning with the word "If" and ending in line 7 with the word "aforesaid"

Amend sec. 7, page 4, line 8, by striking out the figure "7" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "5"

Amend bill, page 4, by inserting after line 11, the following: "Section 6. This act shall not be construed or deemed to prohibit that practice which is commonly known as "tipping".

Amend sec. 8, page 4, line 12, by striking out the figure "8" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "7"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. POSEY.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1457, (Senate Bill No. 657), entitled:

An Act empowering School District to employ Policemen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the school board of the city of Reading is desirous of having its property protected by a duly appointed officer of the law. This bill, you will observe, makes it entirely optional in any school district, and simply gives them the power if they desire to have such an officer appointed. The Reading school district has had a great deal of trouble with boys and young men during the summer months damaging school property, and inasmuch as the city of Reading has not asked this body to pass any legislation in its favor the whole session, I would ask the members to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

(SPECIAL ORDER).

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House [illegible] as follows:

An Act imposing an emergency profits tax for State purposes on the net earnings or income of certain corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships and companies incorporated organized or doing business in this Commonwealth providing for the collection of such tax and prescribing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "corporation" as used in this act shall include every corporation having capital stock every joint-stock association limited partnership and every company whatsoever now or hereafter organized or incorporated by or under any laws of this Commonwealth and every corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever now or hereafter incorporated or organized by or under the laws of any other State or Territory of the United States or by the United States or by any foreign government and doing business in and liable to taxation within this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of any limited partnership or joint-stock association company or corporation whatsoever association or associations copartnership or copartnerships person or persons or in any other manner The term shall not include building and loan associations nor any corporation joint-stock association limited partnership or company now required to pay a tax upon its gross receipts under the provisions of section twenty-three of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine"

The term "net income" as used in this act shall mean the net income for the calendar or fiscal year as required to be returned to the Federal Government under the Federal Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one together with all interest and dividends less interest received upon bonds notes and certificates of indebtedness of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania and less all taxes paid to the United States.

Section 2 IMPOSITION OF EMERGENCY PROFITS TAX Every corporation shall be subject to and pay into the Treasury of the Commonwealth an emergency corporation profits tax at the rate of one-half of one per centum (½%) per annum for two years upon each dollar of the net earnings or net income of such corporation from all sources during the periods covered by their return of income to the Federal Government due next prior to April first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and next prior to April first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporations under the provisions of existing laws

Section 3 EARNINGS OR INCOME SUBJECT TO TAX In the case of all corporations incorporated or organized under the laws of this Commonwealth and in case of other corporations if the entire business of the corporation is transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon the entire net earnings or net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar years hereinbefore designated subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as ascertained by the Auditor General and State Treasurer If the entire business of any corporation not incorporated or organized under the laws of this Commonwealth is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net earnings or net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar years hereinbefore designated as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of intangible property or if they consist of real estate tangible or personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains received from the sale of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part of this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of the net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situate within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Comonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditure of the corporation for wages salaries commissioner and other compensations to its employes and held under rulings of the Auditor General to be assignable to this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the total expenditure of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all of its employes

(3) Of the remaining one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business held under rulings of the Auditor General to be assignable to this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the amount of the corporation's gross receipts from all its business

(b) In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the said remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

Section 4 REPORTS PAYMENT OF TAXES Every corporation subject to tax imposed by this act shall on or before the first day of September one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and on or before the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four make a report to the Auditor General under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer Such report shall be in writing on a form or forms to be prescribed and furnished by the Auditor General and shall set forth (a) a true copy of its last return due prior to April first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and April first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four respectively to the collector of internal revenue of the annual net income arising or accruing from all sources in its fiscal or calendar year next preceding or such part or portion of said return as the Auditor General may designate and (b) such other information as the Auditor General shall require

On such report the Auditor General and State Treasurer shall settle an account for taxes imposed under the provisions of this act in the manner now provided by law for the settlement of public accounts

At the time of making such report the corporation making the same shall pay into the State Treasury the amount of tax imposed by the provisions of this act Such tax shall draw interest at the rate of one per centum per month or fractional part thereof from the date such reports and payments are required to be made

Section 5 CHANGES MADE BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the federal collector of Internal Revenue is changed or corrected by the commissioner of internal revenue or by any other official of the United States such corporation within ten days after the receipt of notification of such change or correction shall make return under oath or affirmation to the Auditor General of such changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file the return within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars for every day during which such corporation is in default but the Auditor General may abate any such penalty in whole or in part If any deduction is made from the net income as returned the Auditor General shall certify to the State Treasurer the amount of any tax paid upon such deduction and the State Treasurer shall pay said amount without any further act of assembly making appropriation therefor or if any addition is made such corporation shall within thirty days after receipt of notice from the Auditor General of the amount of such addition pay the tax thereon

Section 6 ESTIMATE OF EARNINGS OR INCOME WHEN NO REPORT FILED In the event of the neglect or refusal of the officers of any corporation to make the report to the Auditor General as hereinbefore provided it it shall be the duty of the Auditor General and State Treasurer to estimate the net earnings or net income of such corporation for the calendar year next preceding and settle an account for taxes penalties and interest thereon from which settlement there shall be no right of appeal

Section 7 PENALTY WHEN NO REPORT FILED If the said officers of any such corporation shall neglect or refuse to furnish the Auditor General with the report as hereinbefore provided or shall knowingly make any false report it shall be the duty of the accounting officers of the Commonwealth to add ten per cetum to the tax of said corporation for each year for which such report was not so furnished which percentage shall be settled and collected with the State tax imposed under the provisions of this act in the usual manner of settling accounts and collecting such taxes

Section 8 EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE REPORTS The Auditor General may upon application made before the last day of September in the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and before the last day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four and upon proper cause shown extend the time of filing returns for a period not exceeding sixty days

Section 9 GENERAL POWERS CF AUDITOR GENERAL PENALTY FOR DIVULGING INFORMATION The Auditor General or any agent appointed in writing by him is hereby authorized to examine the books and papers of any corporation to verify the accuracy of any return made under the provisions of this act In the collection of said tax the Auditor General and State Treasurer shall have all the powers now vested in them by the laws of the Commonwealth for the collection of State taxes Any information gained by the Auditor General or any other person as a result of the reports investigations or verifications herein required to be made shall be confidential Any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to undergo imprisonment not more than one year or both

Section 10 PENALTIES Any corporation and its officers directors or trustees who fail neglect or refuse to make the returns and to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who refuse to permit the Auditor General or any agent appointed by him in writing to examine the books or papers of such corporation or who makes any incomplete false or fraudulent return hereunder or who does or attempts to do anything whatsoever to avoid a full disclosure of the amount of business done or to avoid the payment of the whole or any part of the tax due shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or in the case of an individual to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six months or both Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 11 PAYMENT OF FINES All fines collected under this act shall be paid to the State Treasurer for the use of the Commonwealth

Section 12 CONSTRUCTION The provisions of this act shall be independent of each other and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decisions of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act nor prevent the collection of the tax imposed by this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill which is now under consideration, House Bill No. 1648, file folio 8857, is a bill which imposes an emergency profits tax for state purposes on the net earnings or incomes of certain corporations. At the request of the sponsor of the bill I want to say a word or two about its purposes. What does the bill propose to do? This bill imposes an emergency tax for two years on the net profits of corporations, excepting those who pay the eight mill tax on gross receipts, transportation, electric light and other companies of that kind, and excepting also building and loan associations. With those exceptions it is an emergency tax. As originally drawn, it was the intention of the Commonwealth to ask these corporations to fill out a special annual return, but because it was an emergency tax imposed for two years it was desired to put it into operation with as little disturbance as possible in the ordinary business life of the corporation, and therefore, by amendment that has been changed so that the corporation will still be required to make a report but it will be the same report they make to the federal corporation income tax. This bill provides that for two years, 1922 and 1923, there shall be imposed on these concerns computed according to the federal income tax returns, a tax of one-half of one percent. It is thought that this will produce revenue sufficient to tide the state over the present period or crisis. It is a new form of taxation in Pennsylvania, but it is not a new form so far as taxation in other states is concerned. It is in existence today in

New York, where the tax is 4½%, as compared to this tax of ½%; in Massachusetts, it is 2½%, as compared with ½% here; it is in existence in Connecticut, where it is 2%; it is in existence in Ohio,—I forget the percentage, although I have the memorandum upon my desk. This form of taxation in New York at the rate of 4½% produces a revenue of $45,000,000 a year. As is well known to the members of the House, on account of the discussion in the House, New York derives its income largely from two main taxes one of which is this tax on corporate net profits, and the other is the state income tax. Whereas, we in Pennsylvania have a variety of taxes, each of which contributes a certain amount, relatively speaking, a small amount, while in New York, think of these two taxes which, plus automobile taxes and other things of that kind, bring in the income to run the state. We invariably ask, "What will this tax produce for Pennsylvania?" and I feel free to say that this is one of the taxes concerning which the income cannot be predicted with certainty. When business has a prosperous year, one-half percent will be a comparatively large amount. If business has a bad year and loses money, it pays nothing under this tax. If business breaks even, it pays nothing under this tax, and therefore the yield on this tax depends in large measure upon business conditions, but taking a comparison that has been given from the best figures I have been able to get, take for instance Massachusetts and comparing that with Pennsylvania, accepting the estimate in Pennsylvania, our net income would be double as much as Massachusetts from the same grade of corporations. It would seem likely that the minimum from this tax would be of six million dollars, and the maximum might be ten million dollars a year. The estimates, I have taken have been based upon the figures of 1921, and 1921 as you will recall, was rather a poor year so far as general business conditions are concerned, but the Auditor General was good enough to have his corporation reports for 1921 summarized, as many as he was able to count, and when he got through with 7,500, which is about one-fourth of the total number of corporations on the list in Pennsylvania, the net income for the year 1921 was $399,000,000.00, and if that same ratio held good, it would look as though it would be $600,000,000,000.00 for all the corporations on which ½ percent would be paid in this year.

I think I would be safe in saying that the tax yield would be $7,000,000 if business is good, possibly less if business becomes depressed. We have then, members of the House, a form of tax that has been tried and tried successfully in states whose economic and industrial conditions are very similar to Pennsylvania's. I think you will agree that conditions in Massachusetts and New York are fairly comparable to this state and the methods tried there are methods which we may fairly expect will succeed when tried in Pennsylvania. We have a tax that is based upon the principles of absolute fairness, for certainly there is nothing fairer than to ask the great business organizations of the state to pay to the state from profits a very small percentage of their net earnings. If they make only $100.00, a year they only pay 50¢ to the state; if they make $10,000 a year, they pay $50.00 which is a very small percentage asked and it seems to me fair to ask them at this time to make their contributions to an emergency tax because this tax is to be devoted to cleaning up the deficits of past years which accumulated, because the taxes themselves have not been sufficient. So much for what the bill does.

May I say just a word or two more for the urgency for this kind of a measure. We have had a great many interesting and clear reports presented to us upon the financial condition of the state. I do not want to attempt to add to the excellent statements submitted to us from time to time, but I merely want to bring those statements down to date. The last figures from the clerk of the Appropriation Committee, and they have been revised up to tonight show the total appropriations of the session to be, roughly speaking, $129,000,000. Of that $129,000,000, there is $2,000,000 added for the appropriation for the Delaware River Bridge. It is clearly recognized that that will not be needed during the next two years, so that makes it about $127,000,000, and of that $127,000,000, about $7,000,000 is for deficiency appropriations, leaving $120,000,000 to run the State for the next two years. Now, as against that $127,000,000 that we have appropriated, we have the Auditor General's estimate of income of $119,000,000. We are, therefore, face to face with the fact that on the present list of appropriations more revenue must be provided, and I want to say, my friends, that it seems to me that one may fairly criticise those who vote for appropriations and then afterwards, as a matter of principle, vote against revenue raisers. Down to the present time, with the single exception of the enforcement bill, I do not think there has been a vote cast against a single appropriation bill, and if these appropriation bills represent the unanimous judgment of the House, surely we may ask the members to aid in providing the necessary revenue if the state is to keep on functioning. When we met here this year, we had before us a serious problem, should the state curtail its program or should the state continue to administer this program, economizing where possible, squeezing out waste where it can be done, but without giving up any essential portion of the program. I venture to believe that if the tax raising program meets with the approval of the House tonight, and with our friends in the Senate we can then feel absolutely sure that we have put the state on an even plane financially, that we have maintained the state's program without dropping any essential feature and we have done it as honest men should by providing the revenue necessary in order that the state may keep on functioning. For this reason, members of the House, I hope this bill will appeal to your favorable consideration.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am supporting this measure because I believe it is the fairest revenue raiser yet suggested. I do not feel very kindly, however, to that particular provision which exempts railroads and others who are now subject to the gross receipts taxes, unless it exempts the anthracite coal companies who now pay $15,000,000 gross receipts tax. However, I am entirely agreeable to its passage here with the understanding that we may make an effort in the Senate to there exempt the anthracite coal companies from the provisions of this tax, either that or include the railroad companies in this tax. There is no more reason why one corporation should be exempt than another. All companies that are now subject to the gross receipts tax should be exempted. The argument has been used that the railroad companies should be exempted. Of course, other reasons have been advanced, but there has been no reason advanced concerning the railroad companies that should apply quite as forcibly or should tend to exempt any particular corporation other than the anthracite coal companies. There is no industry in Pennsylvania that pays a greater tax than the anthracite coal companies and I am going to support this measure with the thought and idea that when this bill reaches the Senate a proposition shall be made exempting anthracite coal companies.

Mr. MILLER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds permit himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Edmonds, has the Governor consented to this taxation?

Mr. EDMONDS. My answer to that will be this: that according to the Governor's conception of the functions of the legislature and himself, it is the business of the legislature and himself, it is the business of the legislature to pass measures of this kind. I might say, however that this particular form of tax has been considered with the Governor and has met with his very hearty approval. So far as the actual language of the bill is concerned, I don't think the Governor has seen it. May I say in the line of history that this tax in New York started away back, twenty years ago, when Theodore Roosevelt was the Governor of New York, and this tax upon corporations was the thing which first attracted attention to Theodore Roosevelt as an administrative officer. Now, it seems to me, that having said so much, I have answered clearly the argument of the gentleman.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are not living in the state of Connecticut, neither are we in New York. We live in Pennsylvania. The Governor in his campaign issues said, "No additional taxation". He came before this House last January and said, "No additional taxation". On that issue the Governor and I are in perfect accord. Therefore, members of the House, I would ask every fair minded person to take him at his word and vote for no additional taxes.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, several weeks ago a request was made from the Auditor General, a resolution was passed here asking the Auditor General to submit an estimate of the expected revenue and the expenditures for the next biennium. This report was made to this House and I believe got into our hands two weeks later. Mr. Lewis, who I presume is the highest fiscal officer in the state said that after lapsing the $11,000,000 which had been appropriated to the Highway Department two years ago, that $7,000,000 will be all the money that would be required to conduct the affairs of this state, and to take care of necesary appropriations for the next two years. Now, this demand, or this request was made upon the Auditor General because he is presumed to know what the state needs.

Now, the Governor who for a long time kept this House under the impression that no more taxes would be required, that he could get along on the revenues in sight, gradually informs us that he could get along with all the expenditures save those for the schools. Now, members of the House, who are we going to believe? Where are we to get our information so that we can intelligently act upon the business before the House tonight. It seems to me that if $7,000,000 is all that is required, why then levy a tax which will produce about $20,000,000. It seems to me that we have not gotten over the war yet. It seems to me we are still thinking in billions. It seems we are still thinking of taxing, taxing, taxing, when the people at home are burdened almost to death. It is not taxes alone that we levy here, it is taxes in the county, taxes in the municipality and in the township, there is where we are called upon to pay more taxes to the great masses, those who are least able to present their case before the legislature, those who merely go to the Court house to state their grievances, the old people, the widows, those of small or no income; those people whom we might mention, the widows of the G. A. R. who have probably just a very little home, a very little pension to go on, are groaning under the load of taxation and we proceed to load them up with more and more and more. Now, they are to be considered. It is not you or I, it is presmued that we can all pay our taxes. I am in the manufacturing business myself and I will gladly pay my share of these taxes, but I maintain members of the House that no more taxes should be levied than are absolutely necessary. If there is no legal obligation to pay those $11,000,000 appropriated by the last legislature, how many members here now, and how many people at home know anything about that $11,000,000? Very few. There is not even a moral obligation because there have been no contracts let against those $11,000,000 or any part of it, at least according to Auditor General Lewis. Now, my friends, I am not against all taxes by a good deal. I don't believe that I was simply sent here to vote against all taxes, I believe that I was sent here, as you and I have been to conduct, or help to conduct, the business affairs of the state of Pennsylvania in a business like manner. The time has come when this legislature, and every legislative body should cease to place more of a burden upon the people's backs than they have to, or at least unless they have better reasons to do so than we have here tonight. Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to show my good faith in this matter, to show that I am not trying to shirk in this matter, to show that I am not against this particular measure, I will ask unanimous consent to have the following amendments placed in this bill.

The SPEAKER. Before the amendments can be offered, the vote by which the bill passed third reading must be reconsidered.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I asked unanimous consent that the amendments of the gentleman from Beaver be read simply for information, reserving the right to object.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing before the House.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a word with reference to the argument which the gentleman from Beaver has just presented. You will notice that it is his thought, based upon the Auditor General's report of last week, that we should lapse appropriations to the Highway Department of $11,000,000, and that would leave us with a deficit of $7,000,000 to which however you may have to add three or four millions representing increased appropriations since the Auditor General made up his report and the gentleman from Beaver does not tell you how we are to pay the deficit as it will then be. But I want to say a word about lapsing these figures $11,000,000. It can be done, but you know what it means. It means cutting at the very heart of the highway program. I have this letter from the Commissioner of the Department of Highways. The items of approximately $8,000,000 are made up as follows: State Highway construction $3,700,000; State-aid Highway construction $6,650,000; maintenance and repairs of state-aid roads $240,000; maintenance and repair of borough-aid roads $285,000. Now the biggest item there is the State-aid Highway construction, that is the money the State gives to the counties when the counties themselves expend an equal sum. Some counties have already expended their sum and have their requisition here now in Harrisburg, asking for the return from the State. Other counties have negotiated loans, expecting to spend their quota so that the State may pay its half of the construction. Now I say that it isn't fair to say that that money is not marked in any way; it is marked for a moral contract. The State of Pennsylvania, when it started on its highway program, promised to the counties that if they would spend their share of money the State would give them fifty per cent, and we have not repealed the law that makes that condition obligatory, and I may say to the gentleman from Beaver that there is an appropriation of $48,359.71 to Beaver county in that assignment. Is it fair when the counties have had this promise from the State, is it fair then for the State to attempt to repudiate this promise after the counties have gone ahead with the expectation that the State would fullfill its obligation. That is the reason why I think it is a mistake to lapse the $11,000,000 of the Highway Appropriation, and that is one of the reasons why I think we need additional revenue.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, as to the lapsing of the $11,000,000, every one knows that I hold no brief for the last Administration, but I want to say with due regard to that Administion that when the Auditor General in 1921 made his report showing that the finances are in the condition in which they were, that he directed Mr. Sadler, then Commissioner of Highways to stop further payment of any of the $11,000,00 which was then in the balance of the $17,000,000 appropriated by the last sesion of the legislature. He refused to encumber any more of that $11,000,000 because he said at the next session of the legislature that $11,000,000 may be lapsed. Now, let us see the condition of the Highway Department as it is at the present time. I agree with the gentleman exactly when the says that it is not right to withhold from these townships that money which they have already borrowed, or in other words raised a sufficient amount of money to meet it. That is true, but it does not mean that those $11,000,000 must be used for that purpose, if there is a sufficient sum appropriated or coming to this Highway Department in the next biennium with which we could do it. In the last biennium, or the last session of the legislature, we appropriated to the Highway Department $17,000,000 that gave a total to the Highway Department for the last biennium of $41,000,000. If you will look at your budget, you will find that they have allowed to the State Highway Department only $1,000,000 in excess of what they would raise from their licenses and their license fees. The Highway Department was told by the budgeteer that at that time all they would expect for maintenance was $34,000,000 plus $1,000,000 which they allowed in the budget, making $35,000,000, and yet a statement has been made here by the Commissioner of Highways before the Senate Finance Committee in which he expected to receive an appropriation of $56,000,000 or $15,000,000 more than was appropriated to him, more than he received in the last biennium and then he proceeds according to the statement which I hold in my hand, which was produced by the Highway Department, to show how it was to be expended, amounting to $28,000,000 annually. Now, mind you, we have been told just as has been said before, and it is true we, have ben told a number of things that this was necessary for. In the first place, we came out here and we were told that the only thing we needed money for was the educational department, and we needed nothing so far as the Governor was concerned, that he could run the departments without extra money. It was up to the legislature, if we wanted to take care of the educational department to raise sufficient money to conduct that. At that time, we were given given to understand there was a deficit of $29,500,000 that has dropped to 18,000,000. Is it any wonder, therefore, that we went to the Auditor General's Department to get some kind of a statement that would stand water, that somebody knew what they were talking about, at least thought they knew or would stand hitched for at least 15 minutes after making their statement. Now, if it is true that there is $56,000,000 to go to the Highway Department in the next biennium, we can lapse the $11,000,000 as suggested by the last administration, and still there will be $5,000,000 more than the last biennium had. Now, what does he say he is going to use this for in the Highway Department? According to the statement, general repairs to all classes of roads, $4,000,000; bituminous surface treatment for stone roads, $1,500,000. I understand that with the method now being used in the Highway Department, under the kind of specifications they are asking for, it is costing about twice as much as it has ever cost before for bituminous surfacing of the roads. Now, we are talking about economy; we are preaching economy continually all the way along the line. I would like to see a little more practice and a little less preaching. He goes on and says further for resurfacing stone roads, $5,500,000, all a guess, purely and simply, he cannot put his finger on a place where he is going to resurface. The replacement of stone roads on a 25 year program, $5,000,000. $5,000, 000 seems to be the limit. Now, as I say, this goes to make up the figures of $56,000,000, more than any other administration has every had for the purpose of Highways. I say at the present time when we are curtailing expenses, when we are on an economy program, when we are taking the platform as we promised to do, that we could run this government without any extra taxes or revenues, and when we told them that on an economy platform that that could be done, I would like to see it tried, at least for two years and see whether it cannot be done.

It is true, not long ago I did consent to come in and see if we could raise a little more tax, but since that time the more I investigate, the more I am satisfied that we cannot and we do not need more taxes. Now, let us see another thing that is facing us at the present time. We are told that this money is to be used solely and only for the educational program. That is very nice, but what is being done with the educational program at the present time. The head of that program is being held up, unconstitutionally held up. We hear a great deal of talk about obeying the constitution and down in the county, the adjoining county to which I live, only last week, the Governor was there attending a horse show and somebody asked him how he was going to get around the constitutional provision whereby he was obliged on the first of June to appoint a Superintendent of Public Instruction for 4 years, and if his newspapers report him properly, he said, "We have found a way to get around that." So, there is some constitutional provision we can get around and still be good citizens of the Commonwealth and this United States. Now, I say for one, until he shows where he is going to start, and whom he is going to put at the head of that Department, I don't propose for one to stand here and give his revenue and then him pussyfoot this thing until after this Senate goes by and they will not have to confirm the appointment of the head of the Educational Department. Let him be a man, and stand on a man's feet once at least during this six months. He has been here at least six months and there has not been a spark of economy practiced yet. The men that have been running over the counties, that have been employed in the Highway Department, and as I said before at an extravagent expense to this Commonwealth, are still running around practically doing nothing and not one of them have been taken out of these departments. It is about time he would start this program of economy and let us save something before we get to going into the pockets of the people of this Commonwealth and taking from them extra taxes. I say for one, I will not until he determines what he is going to do, and whom he is going to place at the head of his educational program, I won't vote for one single cent of taxes for him.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, circumstances alter cases. It seems to me that it is a most inconsiderate thing on the part of certain members of this Assembly to repeat every time that a tax measure comes up for our consideration that when a candidate for Governor, Pinchot said to the people, "I ask for no additional levies; I ask for the imposition of no other taxes, for I can run your government at Harrisburg on the income that is now received in the State Treasury." The candidate Pinchot did not know what the Governor Pinchot knows. The candidate Pinchot did not know that he was inheriting a deficit of twenty millions of dollars that had to be paid by his administration in order that the good name of Pennsylvania might be preserved, in order that we might pay our debts and that we might proceed in the future to pay as we go. Of course he could have run our government on the income which we were then in the receipt of, had not this deficit unexpectedly and without his knowledge turned up to confront him. Ah! Mr. Speaker, this is not the ideal tax; it is not the tax that appeals to me nor is it the tax that appeals to seventy-five per cent of the citizens of the State of Pennsylvania. We have witnessed the humiliating spectacle of the Commonwealth brought down to its marrow bones before the august manufacturers association, asking them whether or not we might place upon their capital stock a tax to meet this emergency of one or one and a half or two mills, and they have said, "No." All hail to the lobbying; the triumph is theirs; the humiliation is ours. But with the ending of this session of the Legislature the tax history of Pennsylvania will not close. As the State progresses in wealth and in population, it necessarily grows greater and greater. The expenses will not lessen. A great lesson, a great exhibit has been brought before the people, and let me say that the handwriting is on the wall. Future legislatures, future sessions of the General Assembly may win what we have lost, but gentlemen, the emergency is great. We must pay this inherited debt and we must seize upon what is available. By the grace of the powers that be we are permitted to place a tax of one half of one per cent upon the profits, the net profits of the manufacturers. Now, there has been with great emphasis sent forth by the public press, sent forth by the sponsors and the special program committee that have devised this beautiful plan as being a tax paid by the manufacturers, 75 per cent of it will be paid by the manufacturers, we are told. They have failed to tell the whole story. If they had said it will be paid by the patrons of the manufacturers, because the one half of one per cent will be passed on to the ultimate consumer, the profit of the manufacturers, not only one-half of one per cent, but will go to the "whole hog" and will add the one per cent plus to the cost of it to the consumer. But gentleman. I am here and I can congratulate you all that I can see by the enactment of this measure the consumation of things to be desired, the money coming into our treasury and that we can have an early day of adjournment and move home to our loving constituency, long looking and hoping for our return. I appeal to every member here to sink his own individual ideas and preferences for tax measures and vote for this measure.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I feel like appologizing to the members of the House for taking any of valuable time at this period of the Legislature when we are so anxious to bring about an adjournment, I hope on June 14th; but I could not let this expression on the part of the gentleman from Delaware pass without interrogating him on that one point. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Did I understand the gentleman correctly to say that the Highway Commissioner, in his statement, gave the figures of several millions of dollars for the resurfacing of roads and that he could not put his finger on a single mile of this resurfacing.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I did.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot- understand how the gentleman from Delaware, with his long experience here in this House, could make a reckless statement like that. The only reason that I can give for such a reckless statement is the frenzied frame of mind under which he was laboring when he delivered his address. If he had gone to the Highway Department he would have ascertained that there are sixty-six miles of roads on which bids are advertised and are being received and those bids are to be opened on the 7th or 8th of this month and all over this State where they have macadam roads, such roads, miles of them, are in need of being resurfaced.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. George W. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. George W. Williams permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. He is welcome to it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Did you ever take enough interest in this matter to attend the Finance Committee of the Senate the time the Highway Commissioner appeared there.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I attended a meeting of the Public Roads Committee when the meeting was held there.

Mr. ALEXANDER. May I ask, at the time this statement was made by him?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I was not there. I would like to ask the gentleman, now, whether his question referred to the resurfacing of stone roads or the replacement of stone roads on a twenty-five year program?

Mr. ALEXANDER. What I said was that he couldn't put his hand on a stone road that was included in his item of replacing stone roads on a twenty-five year program, of $25,000.00, not the resurfacing of stone roads of $5,000,000.00.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. What does the gentleman call a stone road?

Mr. ALEXANDER. As the gentleman is chairman of he stone road committee, I suppose he knows something about it.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Not the resurfacing. I think the gentleman must be a little frenzied at the present time, or else he would have assented to my question to him.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I ask him again, in fairness, if he wants to be a least bit fair, if he said resurfacing or replacing.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I asked if our statement was the resurfacing, and you said yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I misunderstood you then. I understood you to say, "the replacing of stone roads," that is what

I referred to, the replacing of stone roads when the question was asked him in the Finance Committee of the Senate, and he said he was unable at that time to give it.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened to the arguments by the different members. They have talked about deficits, and I don't know what else; but the whole thing seems to me like this: A teacher one day said to the class, "Give me a number with two figures." One bright boy said, "Forty-eight." The teacher put it on the blackboard, "Eighty-four." She said to the next one, "Give me a number," and that one said "Forty-three." The teacher put it on the blackboard," "Thirty-four," instead of "Forty-three." To another she said, "Give me a number." The scholar said, "Fifty-four." She put "forty-five" on the blackboard instead. The next fellow was a bright little chap and she said to him, "Give me a number," and said, "Thirty-three. Now juggle with that."

Now, then, there your are. They have juggled with figures, they have tried to make us believe that we need more taxes. The man who is now Governor of the State of Pennsylvania made pre-election promises and has not kept a single one of them. He reminds me of the fellow that came to a man who owned many acres of land, hundreds of acres that were long and acres that were wide and acres that were square. And he said to this land owner, "I would like to rent your farm. I only want to plant one crop, and I will give you so much rental for it." The land owner was surprised at the amount that he offered. He was also suspicious, which the people in the State of Pennsylvania had a right to be before election, but at last the oily tongued tenant convinced the land owner that he was earnest. "I will give you so much to sow one crop on your land," and he agreed. The rental was paid, the lease was executed, and then he sowed the farm with acorns. It was one crop, but it took an awful long time before he realized on it.

I stand before you gentlemen of this House, and ladies too, representing an angry constitutency. The ill-advised criticism by Governor Pinchot of the Governor of New York State, added to the equally ill-advised remarks by Pinchot at Gettysburg have filled the people in my district with indignation. I believe that to pay a tribute of reverence and respect at the altar of sacrifice, where the men of this country have wrought their lives and their property and laid it down for the good of the nation, is worthy of a true American; but you cannot make me believe that any man can use an occasion like Memorial Day exercises at Gettysburg to make a prohibition speech. Whenever in kingdoms, citizens feel that the party in power is corrupt, there occurs that we have come to know as the inauguration of a reform administration. Now, these reformers, as tools, are amiable well-meaning men, and nowadays women. But unfortunately, they do not have presistency, but simply agree that if the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would have used as much brains as he did in sending that bottle of buttermilk in here we would be further. The gentleman from Tioga coined a new phrase when he said, "Our valuable time." I still have hopes of getting away from here before I die of old age. "Recurring back," as the Speaker says, whenever indignant citizens feel that they need a change, they inaugurate a reform administration, and this reform administration is composed of well-meaning, amiable men and women; but unfortunately they may not possess any of these qualifications for office. It is not their persistent interest in public affairs nor their study of state-craft or their proven ability that has forced their election in office, but as in this case, they are elected to office, not because of their own value as a rebuke to some one else. There is, of course, a great deal of occasion for fault-finding, and one political machine which is supposed to be corrupt crashes to the ground; but the reform administration is nothing but the dust of the grandstand. It has no character of its own. It just simply comes into existence, and the people expect a great improvement and the only thing that they ever get is a great disappointment. We shall be asked, in a few days, to pass a Reorganization Code—tomorrow. I might just as well say right now what I have got to say on that. If all the pages of those primeval days that cover history, about which the women of today reads and shivers with fear and the men of today read and shudder with horror and disgust, when both man and women go back to some quiet corner and pray that those days may never come to this world again. I have never yet found where people cried or ruling tyrant ever was possessed of such frightful power as this Reorganization Code intends to confer upon the Constitutional ruler of a free people. When I look down the avenues of time I think I can see the lips of Nero curling into a smile when the Roman Senate presents him a toga that confers on him power equal to—

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not discussing the bill before us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken, and the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Stofflet, will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. STOFFLET. We'll discuss this at length tomorrow.

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Posey, John G. Marshall, George W. Williams, Gelder, Earley, Aston, Haslett, Bidelspacher, Spangler, Dun, Orr, Fratt, J. W. Smith, Connor, Howard Smith, Armstrong, Himes, Bush, Henderson, Lucas and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas ond nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker two weeks ago I voted "No" on the gasoline and auto tax revenue raisers. At that time I was hopeful that the affairs of the State could be so adjusted that it could function on its present revenue. But that time I find more revenue is necessary, and feel certain that this revenue raiser which collects ½ of 1 per cent on the net earning of corporations is the best. Therefore, I vote "Aye" on this measure.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker reasons for voting "Aye" on this bill. That I have no desire to embaress the Administration in the endeavor to provide enough revenue to wipe out the deficit encurred by previous administrations. The amendment I proposed was to strike out one-half of one per cent and insert one-fourth of one per cent, which would have provided enough revenue to wipe out the deficit referred to after lapsing the $11,000,000 appropriated by the last Legislature to the Highway Department.

Unanimous consent to have amendment inserted having been denied and wishing to assist in every honorable way to place the financial affairs of the State upon a solid business foundation, I support this bill.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WHITEMAN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1041, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand twenty-one), entitled "An act imposing a State tax on gasoline, and on all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas, produced, prepared, or compounded or usable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth, except for the purpose of resale; providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom; making an appropriation; and fixing penalties;" by imposing an additional emergency tax for two years.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. VICKERMAN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1327, entitled:

An Act to restrain and regulate the manufacture sale and furnishing of intoxicating liquors for medicinal scientific commercial or other non-beverage use requiring and authorizing licenses therefor and prescribing license fees and penalties defining intoxicating liquor and repealing existing alcoholic liquor laws and alcoholic liquor license laws

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is a bill that has been prepared regulating the use of alcoholic liquors. A mutual agreement has been reached on this bill by the parties at interest. The large manufactures of chemicals in Pennsylvania are interested in this bill and desire its passage for the protection of their business. The representatives of the firm of Smith, Kline and French, of Philadelphia, have been made familiar with all of the contents of this bill and have agreed to it. I also want to say that an understanding has been reached with the Attorney General's office that the bill will be amended in the Senate in Section 5 making the fee three hundred dollars. This amendment will be satisfactory to the sponsor of the bill and to the Attorney General's office where the bill was drafted. We do not find any objection to the bill from the folks interested throughout the State.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vickerman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Does this bill have a clause of search and seizure in it.

Mr. VICKERMAN. I think not.

Mr. SOWERS. It relates to liquor doesn't it?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Yes.

Mr. SOWERS. And it relates to the licensing of brewers?

Mr. VICKERMAN. O No, this is not the brewers' bill at all.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the sponsor of this bill why it is that this bill was not amended in our own committee as far as fees are concerned? Why should it be left to the Senate? When we had the hearings on the bill, that was the proper time to amend it.

Mr. VICKERMAN. In reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, this bill was in committee quite a long time and no objection was raised as to the amount of fees until tonight. Some of the friends interested on the other side when they found out the amount of the fees it was nutually agreed that the change was to be made in the Senate because of the shortness of time. It was agreeable to the sponsor of the bill and the Attorney General that the change should be made.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. I think, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, we are capable of looking after our own matters on whatever is to be done here during this session, and when it is done here we are sure it is done. I think it is the proper course to transact the business in this House and not take the risk of sending the bill over in the Senate and have it amended there. I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that the vote by which the bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The noes appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for. Seventy-five members having voted in the affirmative and ninety-six members having voted in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Vickerman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vickerman permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. VICKERMAN, I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STONER. Are we to understand there has been an agreement reached by which the fees charged for licenses under this bill shall be reduced to $300.00 by amendment in the Senate?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Yes sir.

Mr. STONER. In view of the stated objection of a good many people, in the view that this business has been declared an unlawful business, to derive state revenue from it, would you as sponsor of the bill be willing to consider in making that amendment by the proposition of placing this business on equality with other business and reduce the license fee from $300.00 down to a point where a criticism can be made on it on the ground that it is used as a revenue producer. I am simply asking you if you will be willing to consider that.

Mr. VICKERMAN. I think the reduction from $1,000 to $300, was made with that thought in view, and the parties at interest, the parties who were opposed to the bill at first told us they would agree if they set the amount at $300, but would not be in position to agree to anything more than that.

Mr. STONER. I was one of those who opposed on account of the amount of that license fee, and I positively don't object to the $300, but I think it is entirely too much. I think it lays it open to the accusation that we are endeavoring to use this business as a revenue producer, and I would like to see the State of Pennsylvania absolutely free from that accusation and that is the reason that I ask you whether you as sponsor would be willing to consider that. I don't ask you to agree to it, but I would ask whether you would be willing to agree to a further reduction in that amount.

Mr. VICKERMAN. I am always willing to consider anything but I would not say that we would accept that amendment.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vickerman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, whether he considers that whiskey or the other articles which may be sold under this act have any medicinal value?

Mr. VICKERMAN. I am not a physician, and I would not like to answer that question. There may be a difference of opinion.

Mr. GOLDER. I am only asking for the opinion of the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. VICKERMAN. I am not an authority on that. I never used it for medicine myself.

Mr. GOLDER. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether the licenses called for in this bill will give any rights to the holders of those licenses which they do not now have?

Mr. VICKERMAN. I don't supose it will.

Mr. GOLDER. I cannot hear the answer and I am sure my colleagues cannot.

Mr. VICKERMAN. I don't consider they will.

The SPEAKER. The answer of the gentleman from Allegheny that he don't suppose that the licenses called for in this bill will give any more rights to those intended to be licensed than they have without it.

Mr. GOLDER. May I further interrogate the gentleman?

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. GOLDER. If a license does not give any more rights to the licensee in this bill, what reasons have you for charging a $300 or $1,000 license fee?

Mr. VICKERMAN. That is regulating the system where there must be some fee for using a license. That was fixed at $1,000, and was afterwards reduced to $300 at the request of the proponents of the bill.

Mr. GOLDER. Does this bill give any more right to those that it is intended to license than they now have under federal regulation?

Mr. VICKERMAN. This bill is planned in harmony with the federal regulation.

Mr. GOLDER. Is it not a fact that this bill neither curtails nor extends the rights and privileges or the regulations which are laid down by the federal regulation?

Mr. VICKERMAN. This bill simply permit regulation in the use of alcohol in harmony with the present laws of our state and the federal government.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask for indulgence for just a moment because it occurs to me, and my own thought is born out particularly by the answers of the gentleman from Allegheny that this bill is nothing more than an attempt by those who realize that early in the session they took away from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $5,000,000. and just now they are beginning to realize, just as was prophesied upon the floor of this House, that the evil which they had hoped to correct has been magnified many folds. I need hardly call your attention to the newspapers articles which appeared throughout the entire state. I saw in the Philadelphia papers today, the same papers which several months ago were fighting so hard for the passage of the so-called Pinchot Enforcement Bill, in which they called to your attention, and to mine, that in Philadelphia and in other communities in Pennsylvania not only were the saloons doing business as they had never even done before, but grocery stores, shoe stores, drug stores, butcher shops and cigar stores, and every other kind of a store were selling beer and what not. Now, they realize that one particular evil is trying to reestablish itself and they ask the state of Pennsylvania to again collect money for something they said should not be done. Now, if this bill gave to any licensee, and mind you, who is to issue this license, if you please, not the various courts, but the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Mind you, where in all of the United States of America, have you found where the Secretary of the Commonwealth who is one of the Governor's cabinet, whose duties are as far removed from the issuing of licenses for the manufacture and sale of intoxicants as the heavens are removed from the earth. He is to issue, if you please, licenses to carry on the business which they said was unlawful and illegal. Mind you, it is not three-quarters of one per cent or one per cent, if you please, or four per cent, but wines whiskeys and liquors supposed to be used for medicinal purposes. It always appeals to my sense of humor when to hear the so-called reformer say, "Whiskey and wine has no medicinal value, But we ought to tax them any how for selling it for medicinal value." Is there any sense, is there any equity, is there any fairness or any good judgment in saying on the one hand it is unlawful, it is of no value, and then on the other hand saying that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue licenses and charge them $300 for them. It seems to me, members of the House, it is a paradox. We are here today and gone tomorrow. We reverse ourselves day after day by taking these bills in and humoring the sponsors of them, sending them back and humoring them again and then sending them back, and it seems to me we ought to determine this issue now and here. If it is wrong for any purpose it is wrong for other purposes. It is our duty at this time in order to remove if we can the blot which has been created by those who tried to impose upon us that which they in their fanaticism consider right. We ought to defeat this bill and defeat everyone of these fanatical jig saw bills they have been trying to impose upon us.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, no more ridiculous bill ever came before us than this bill. I hope our good Governor is never taken sick with the "Flu", when this bill is a law. I hope our good Governor is never taken sick with typhoid fever when this bill is a law. Look at page three, lines 14 and 15, no physician shall prescribe in the aggregate more than one half pint of alcohol for use by any person within any period of ten days. Our Governor may be a strong man, but if he should ever get the "Flu" I don't think he will last ten days.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr LUDLOW.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1342, entitled:

An Act to restrain and regulate the manufacture furnishing and traffic in alcoholic beverages made from malt or grain or any grain products by the usual methods of brewing fermentation or fortification by which malt and brewed liquors or beverages are or can be made requiring and authorizing licenses therefor and prescribing license fees and penalties providing for inspectors and inspection

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, this is not a bill to which there is any agreement like the prior one. This is not a bill as to which there is any license on one half of one per cent of "what not" whatever that may be. This is not a bill in which we will introduce the new lady member ethol alcohol. This is a bill to license operators for which certain members have expressed their ardent desire to stay here and vote and then ask for leave of absence and go home. This is a bill, the members of the House, ought to consider very seriously before voting for or against. You will recall, when sometime ago by a clear majority in the Senate and a very narrow majority in the House we passed the enforcement bill. That it was then admitted on all hands we did part of the work by enacting stringent regulation as to the individual who used alcoholic beverages in excess of one half of one percent but the gates were wide open as to the manufacture or brewer of the cereal and of more beverages which every everybody knows cannot be made having less, or in content of less than one half of one percent, and therefore, it seems to me in absolute fairness, without charges that anybody is fanatical, with out charges that anybody on either side may violate good faith, it seems to me that those who voted for the enforcement law should go further and vote for proper supplements to it. It seems to me that those who voted against that law could very well say, "Now, this is the law, this act that we passed a month or so ago, it has created a condition of regulation as to you and me, the individual consumer," but it has not created a condition of proper regulation as to the men or group of men or the corporation, which under the name of brewer or wholesaler, who manufactures or furnishes beveages in excess of one half of one percent. Now, let us not theorize, but let us talk about natural business, you know and I know that the reputable brewers of the country are today living up to the law and they say they are trying to do it in direct competition with the brewer of small volume of production because there is no adequate regulation of that brewer of small production. Now, just to show that there is nothing personal about it, just to show that nothing from our neighbor across the border of the state can have any influence upon your position and my position as fair minded men and women in our duties, let us forget throwing slurs at each other about fanaticism. I want to call your attention to two or three statements coming from reputable sources in both national parties, for illustration in the Harrisburg Patriot of May 16, 1923, on the editorial page there appears this statement, "The Legislature cannot ever claim it completed the machinery for prohibition enforcement or met its full duty unless it passes the Ludlow and Vickerman bills providing in the first instance proper brewery license and inspection service, and in the latter regulations for the handling of alcohol for commerical, scientific and sacremental purposes.

"These measures are of the utmost importance if the spirit of the Eighteenth Amendment are to be observed. This is especially true of the brewer's license and inspection feature. The brewery is the potential fountain head of high power beer. If such beer is brewed it is brewed in the brewery. That is the place for inspection, not only the many retail places at which the product is sold. To inspect the retailer alone and exempt the brewer is stupid regulation."

Now, whether you agree with it or not it is now the law of the State, that we are regulating the individual. Is it fair, the article says, and I think it is a proper comment, that we should omit to regulate the one who produces a high powered stuff. Now, for fear that the Republican members of the House may feel that they are slighted by reference to the editorial in the Patriot, the Harrisburg democratic paper, I would like to call attention to the letter of President Harding, written in the middle of May, on or about the same day that this editorial appeared in the Harrisburg Patriot, when he says that the executive of the United State and equally the executive of the state are sworn to enforce the Constitution. It is difficult to believe that public approval will ever be given to any other than a policy of full and liberal discharge of his duty. Now, members of the House, if we were approaching for the first time this problem of enforcement in its entirety, or if as in New York State the other day we were approaching for the first time the question of a repeal of what is on the books, I could not make this argument and you ought not to listen to it. But having made it the law, and there being no recall in this Legislature, and therefor it being our duty for two years to regulate the individual, what right have we deliberately to close our eyes to the truth that this little brewer, and the brewer who is carrying his own business in an irregular and illegal way, what right have we to say that that brewer shall escape regulation and allow our police and our officers to go out and enforce the law against you and myself and others like ourselves. Now, in Collier's Weekly of a few weeks ago there was an article entitled, "Out Where Wets are a Little Dryer," and curiously enough, and this is to your interest members of the House, the author I think is Charles W. Wood, Not however our Wood of the Anti-Prohibition Society, who comes here to influence us to vote one way or another on a certain bill about which we are talking. This statement is made and borne out by the fact that the big brewers like Schlitz, Pabst and the Anheuser-Busch people, concerns like that cannot afford to violate the law if they want to, and therefore they ask in fairness to the big brewing interests that we enforce a law and properly regulate the little brewing interests and not allow these little fellows what the big ones cannot and will not do. I mention that simply in the light of up-to-date comment. Now, you may ask what does the bill do or propose to do. It remains for you to say what it is going to do. In the first place when we passed our recent act we did not completely divorce the liquor license from that of the courts; we did not completely take away the liquor licenses from the court, but the wholesale license is still there. Some courts in Philadelphia have granted licenses for the next year beginning June 1st, and should this bill pass they would be compelled to refund, as they did in the case of the retail liquor license bill. Now that law is still in effect. We still go into our courts under the wholesale license law and ask for a license, and there is paid a considerably larger fee than would be charged under this act. In the next place, it is the regulation or control of the alcoholic content of a beverage at the source, and, right there, let me say that when the bill was first introduced, I was asked to introduce it, but I think it is a proper bill. I am not going to hedge on the grounds that somebody handed it to me, but when it was first handed to me certain members of this House came to me, and certain representatives of breweries in Pennsylvania came to me and said that the bill as it is drawn is unfair, and that it makes the flask, or container, or bottle, or whatever it should be, in which the liquor is contained first bear the imprint of the manufacturer or the bottler; second if it is found in the hands of the third person, with that name, and with more than the legal content, there should be prima facie presumption of guilt on the part of the brewer. It seemed to me at once that the contention was well taken, that it would be unfair because every lawyer and a number of business men are familiar with that line of deceit in trade where A uses the cask or bottle of B and refills it, and sells it, and it would be unfair to a properly regulated brewer or bottler doing business in the right way to have a presumption of guilt against him prima facie, simply because somewhere somehow they found a bottle or cask or keg containing his name on it. Therefore, that amendment which appears in the bill was inserted by me after conference with the deputy attorney general. To me that was a proper criticism. The other amendments which you will find there were made by a sub-committee of the committee on law and order, a majority of whom voted against the original enforcement bill, but who took the act as they found it and believed that if it passed it should contain these amendments. Therefore, as the bill now stands, it meets the objections of those who, if the bill passed, might be hurt by it, and second it meets the objection of the bottler or brewer who wants to hold to the law, but does not want to be responsible for what some other fellow does with his keg or bottle.

Now, there are other provisions, I will try to abreviate them because the hour is late, but we cannot dodge because the hour is late. It is important, if it goes down, to let the record contain the fact that you knew what the facts were, and that it went down with full knowedege. Nobody can ask more or less than that on either side. Next, it requires every brewer or bottler to obtain a license from the Secretary of the Commonwealth and my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, has an opportunity to hang his hat on a much beloved peg when he says, "Why should we turn from the courts to the Secretary of the Commonwealth"? Well, I admit that we might have turned to the Auditor General, or the State Treasurer, or some other officer here, but if it is going to be a state license we have got to have somebody do it, and if that is the only criticism, I think you will agree with me that there is not much to it. It certainly does add to the color of the picture in trying to show that it is some modern cubist picture, and not one of the old school, but the idea is to take the courts out of it, and if people first produce under this act a federal permit a permit under the Volstead law, or whatever may take the place of the Volstead law, a condition that he shall produce the necessary license fee, considerably reduced from what they are now paying under the existing law, a license shall as a matter of fact be granted, provided only, that the person shall not have been convicted within a year of some violation of the prohibition laws of this State or other states in their enforcement. There are other minor details. There is a detail which is not minor, of the inspection, and the committee which amended the bill amended out the provision that the inspector should be paid; then one of the members of the committee on the other side, came to me and said, "Well, you have got your inspectors, we suppose you are going to get a philanthropist to do the business, because you have got no money to pay them. Where are you going to get the money?" In the venacular of the day I said, "Well, if I don't worry, why should you?" In other words, I don't think they are going to attack this act because by their own action they have amended out of it the provision to pay for the inspection, and if you think that is sufficient objection to the bill why, of course, consider that with the others, and vote against it.

Now, there is the provision that the act does not apply to the home, it does not apply to the patent and proprietary medicine unfit for beverage use. It does not apply to the various things mentioned in the act as to which there was a mutual agreement which resulted in its defeat, and it does not relate to cider, vinegar and wine for sacramental purposes. Now members of the House, I don't see why, you all have your minds pretty will made up one way or the other, why I should take more time, except to say that if you have read the bill, if you believe in absolute fairness to the brewer who comes into this State, and the brewer who is in the State, and the bottler who is in the State; if you believe in absolute fairness to the individual, who by our law, whether you agreed with that or not is already on our statue books, if you agree that that individual should be regulated, and we must say that we agree, because it is the law, then, why should we allow one door to be locked and keep you and me in, and open wide two or three other doors and let the brewer go out with something which is high-powered, violative of the federal law, and violative of our state enforcement law. Now, that is the question you must answer, and you must answer by your votes, and I don't believe it is inconsistent for a member who voted against the enforcement law to vote for this law because we simply harmonize an existing condition. I therefore, not as a fanatic, but who as a member of this House has tried to apply the Constitution in all fairness to existing conditions, ask you to support the bill.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it was my pleasure to stand upon this floor a few short weeks ago and, brand the so-called enforcement bet, as a joke and a fraud. The more evidence of these so-called enforcement measures coming along looks as if I was pretty near right in the contention I made, but those differences voiced by my friend from Montgomery made me think that the more he talked, the less he let the House know about the bill that he is fathering. It says here that the manufacturer is subject to a fee of five hundred dollars and besides must pay a fee for license to sell or distribute. In other words, a man must pay five hundred dollars to manufacture a product and then turn around and pay two hundred dollars more for a license to sell the product that he manufactures, and that product, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, is a product that has been designated by the United States government as a non-alcoholic beverage. That is, the license fee was taken away by this House in its wisdom, and the courts who have proper jurisdiction over that matter were told that they could not legislate any more as far as the license fee of saloons was concerned. Now they come along with a bill of this character which they want you and me to vote for, where the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall issue a license for the manufacture and the sale of a product that it has been shown upon this floor dosen't contain as much alcohol as buttermilk. For this reason I think that the House, in its wisdom, should vote a bill of this character down.

Mr. Sowers. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the argument of my friend, Mr. Ludlow, from Montgomery County, as you remember it was really the argument for the return of the old system that previously the Pinchot enforcement bill had destroyed. We have heard from the prohibition element time after time and again and again that there should be no license, that the money that came from liquor was tainted money and that the State ought not to receive it. We heard that time and time again. We heard that from the lips of the prohibitionists from Montgomery County in their argument on the enforcement bill. Now how my friend could turn completely around and want to have licenses again and to participate in a plan where the State would take that money, the tainted money that they have talked so much about, I fail to understand. Now my friend says that it applies only to breweries, and yet when I look at the bill on page 2, it says, "It shall be unlawful for any person in any place to sell or distribute the same at wholesale from any place, except a license therefore shall have been previously obtained as hereinafter provided." Now at one time they sold liquor in this Commonwealth without a license and then came the license law and then the Brooks law, and then the Woner law; now the Pinchot enforcement law. "I will abolish the saloon," said the Governor, in effect, at Gettysburg; and now this bill is an effort to give him back the saloon under another name. I always heard the places spoken of as saloons, but this bill calls them distributors, and then that is the only difference. I ask this House not to vote for this bill, but to vote it down and to be consistent, as we want none of their money and don't need it.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLAR. How many inspectors of cereal beverages are provided for in the bill?

Mr. LUDLOW. My recollection is eight, I don't remember the exact number, eight or ten.

Mr. MILLAR. How many breweries are there in Pennsylvania?

Mr. LUDLOW. I cannot answer that.

Mr. MILLAR. Do you know how many breweries there are operating today under the Federal permit in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LUDLOW. I do not know.

Mr. MILLAR. Do you know how many there are in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. LUDLOW. I do not, but I know that the production in Philadelphia is one-third of the production in the State according to the Federal statistics.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are two reasons in my mind why this motion should be defeated. As Mr. Ludlow has said, this bill provides for ten inspectors of cereal beverages. There are a hundred and fifty seven breweries in the State of Pennsylvania operated today. That will mean that any inspector of cereal beverages should visit the saloon once about every sixteen days, or in other words, it would put him out of business twenty-eight days out of every month. How many brewers have permits in the State of Pennsylvania I do not know, but I do know that in the City of Philadelphia there are twenty-eight breweries operating today. And out of those twenty-eight only two have Federal permits and the reason the other twenty-six do not have Federal permits is not because they have either violated the law or failed to make application for permits, but it is because the prohibition enforcement office of the State of Pennsylvania was so cluttered with work and so inefficient in its operation and for some reason which we do not know, it cannot or will not issue permits, and if you will remember a few short weeks ago, the United States Senator representing this State called on the Prohibition Commissioner in Washington and insisted that some reform be made in the prohibition office of this State relative to permits in general to persons entitled to them in this State, and that applies to drug stores as well as to brewers. It is a fact that brewers cannot get permits in Pennsylvania for months and months and sometimes years after the applications are filed even where there is no violation, just because they have refused to grant the permit, but the fact still remains that they did not get the permit. Under his bill no license shall be issued to a brewer, as Mr. Ludlow says, although the bill in no place mentions a brewer but calls it a vendor, no license can be granted until a Federal permit or a copy of a Federal permit is produced. The practical effect of that under the present system would be to confiscate the property of the brewery, or at least put them out of business because they cannot get a State license without a Federal license, and they cannot produce a Federal license if the Federal Government does not grant it. Now that is an evident fact and everybody knows it, and the United States Senators have taken cognizance of it and have attempted to remedy the defect. There is another reason to my mind which would excuse any one for not voting for the bill. No matter what the bill says it only regulates the manufacture of soft drinks. What it calls a cereal beverage, a cereal beverage is in no other class than ginger ale, Hires Root Beer, and coca-cola, so that when this bill attempts to regulate one soft drink as distinguished from hundred of other soft drinks, it is clearly class legislation, and being class legislation, is unconstitutional. And then there is another reason why the bill should not be passed and that is that there are breweries which have been manufacturing cereal beverage in strict accordance with the United States law which have never produced a beverage the alcoholic contents of which exceed one-half of one per cent, and there is no more reason why those breweries, or factories as they are called in this bill, should be required to get a license then there is that you should require a license for coca-cola or the other soft drinks you know of. For that reason I ask that the bill be voted down.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker I have listened with a great deal of interest to the discussion of this whole thing by the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Ludlow, as well as those who have spoken in opposition to it. Mr. Ludlow has well covered the ground as to the details of this proposed legislation, but in my mind the real purpose of this bill is to bring about a proper enforcement of the law. We have, as has been said by the gentlemen who have spoken on both sides, recently passed the enforcement act and placed upon our statute books a law for the enforcement of the liquor law. Now this bill in my estimation is nothing but a proper and right supplement to that act of Assembly, the enforcement act, and narrowing it down to that question, is the only one I care to speak about at this time. It does seem to me that the members who have spoken in opposition to the bill have simply wanted to side-track that issue. That is the issue that is before this country today, are we or are we not going to have a proper enforcement of the law, whether it be on the part of the retailer or on the part of the brewer, as provided in this act. These are the questions, and I beg of you to lay aside all prejudice that you may have because of the fact that you may be opposed to the enforcement act or not. That act is on the statute books and I hope this House will not go on record as opposing a measure like this which, as I view the case, is simply a fair enforcement of the enforcement act already passed. And so I hope that every member of this House will well consider his vote along these lines and vote for the enforcement of the law. There is nothing in this act that would be inconsistent to this act, there is nothing in this act that I can read anywhere is any section of it that would violate that theory, and so i do hope that every member of this House will well consider his vote along those lines. My friends, we can't do too much these days to bring about the proper enforcement of all laws. Of course, at the present time and especially in the State of Pennsylvania, we do have perhaps more prominently before us the liquor question, but we have the law, so let us enforce it, and this has been suggested by Mr. Ludlow as an ample and proper measure to bring about a proper enforcement of the law as we already have it, and if we are going to have enforcement, let us vote for this bill.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Ludlow, is it not true that it is at the present time unlawful to manufacture and sell any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol?

Mr. LUDLOW. Manufacture and furnish it, yes sir.

Mr. STONER. And it is not also true that it is lawful to manufacture and furnish a beverage containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol?

Mr. LUDLOW. I think that is so.

Mr. STONER. How can the proposition then be defended in view of our position, and I say it as one of those desirous of prohibition, how can it be defended, the charge to the manufacture of a beverage containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol, $700 for the privilege of manufacturing and selling it and thus following a lawful business.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, for the benefit of those who may not have heard the inquiry, I am asked how it is fair to charge a license fee of $500 to the manufacturer, or $250 to sell that which is less than one-half of one per cent. Anybody who knows anything about the workings of a brewery, I don't pose as an expert, but anybody who knows, and I think my friend from Allegheny knows as much about it as I do, knows that when you manufacture, not what Mr. Millar of Philadelphia has called a soft drink, but when you manufacture, you know what they make from rye, that which they make from rye, when they manufacture that which you know they make from grain, when they manufacture that which you know they make from the other cereals, they cannot make that which is one-half of one per cent and less, and this act permits the making in larger alcoholic content, provided it shall first be reduced to within the law of one-half of one per cent. Now, that answers Mr. Stoner's question, and the answer is that every one, and with all due respect to our friend, Mr. Sowers from Philadelphia, who is not a prohibitionist, but one who like myself is pledged as I see the law to enforce the law.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. STONER. Dont you think that if we undertake to derive revenue from this business as though we intended to derive revenue by winking at the violations, would it not appeal to the public about in that light?

Mr. LUDLOW. They are not in the same class with the money derived from the sale of liquor under the old law. You know and I know under the old law when they took money from a retail or wholesale liquor license, that we were taking money, I am still not talking as a prohibitionist, but just as a man who knows what goes on about the place, we took money which we knew authorized the sale of high-powered stuff to men and women, as to whom in many cases, it not only did no good, but it did a lot of harm, if the average person were moderate and temperate, we would not discuss this question for a minute, but under this bill there is no such intent, there is no money taken for selling that which is more than one-half of one per cent, the money is taken for a license to say that while permission is given to manufacture that which is more than one-half of one per cent, it shall first be reduced to a content below one-half of one per cent, and anybody familiar with the workings of a big brewery knows that is what they are doing all the time. Does that answer the question, Mr. Stoner?

Mr. STONER. Only partially. I have just one more question. Do you believe that the manufacturer or brewer, who really manufactures beer, or any other beverage containing less than one-half of one per cent, could afford to pay $700 for the privilege of selling it unless he is exceeding that content.

Mr. LUDLOW. I will have to answer that in a Yankee question. Do you know of any brewer or manufacturer of malt or cereal beverage which at its maximum is less than one-half of one per cent?

Mr. STONER. I don't know any brewer.

Mr. LUDLOW. I will not answer the question any further because I don't believe there is any such.

Mr. MILLAR. I should like to answer the question last asked by Mr. Ludlow, and refer him to the decision of the court with reference to cereal beverage not exceeding one-half of one per cent, and it is recognized by the United States as not exceeding that percentage in the case of the United States against Hohen Ahel Brewery.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Walker, Heffran, Bell, Rhoades, Little, Lucas, Harer, Haws, Evans, Edmonds, Speiser, Craig, Heyburn, Hall, Hetrick, Haslett, Diehm, Eaches, Posey and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Henderson

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1450 (Senate Bill No. 497), entitled:

An Act relating to county bridges authorizing counties to issue and sell bonds for the erection thereof and providing for the division of the cost of construction and erection of joint county bridges and the collection of tolls thereon

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HENDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Huose Bill No. 1450 (Senate Bill No. 497) passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BUSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HENDERSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title line 2, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following: and for the acquisition of toll bridges

Amend title line 4 by inserting after the word "erection" the words or acquisition

Amend title line 4 by inserting after the word "bridges" the words "or toll bridges"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 9, by inserting after the word "county" the following: "or the cost of acquiring a toll bridge or bridges in any county or a toll bridge erected over a river or stream upon the line between adjoining counties"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 7, by inserting after the word "bridge" the following: "or jointly acquire any toll bridge"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 8, by inserting after "erection" the words "or acquisition"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "bridge" the following: "or in joint acquisition of any toll bridge"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 13, by striking out the words "or erection" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "erection or acquisition"

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 22, by inserting after the word "construction" the following: "or acquisition"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. VAN ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 225 file folio 481 entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 1173), entitled "An Act constituting a commission to make an investigation of the battlefields of France and Belgium, and to select points for the erection of monuments and markers of appropriate design to commemorate the achievements of Pennsylvania soldiers during the World War; defining the powers and duties of the commission; and making an appropriation;" continuing said commission; providing for the erection of certain memorials in France and Belgium; and making an appropriation.

on page 2 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, be extended five days.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HOWARD SMITH.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 950 entitled:

An Act providing for the publication of the estimated cost of all public construction, repair or maintenance work, exceeding fifteen hundred dollars; providing that the proper officers or agents of the Commonwealth and of every county, city, borough, township, school district or other political sub-division of the Commonwealth, shall keep complete and accurate accounts of the costs of all such work, providing for the furnishing of certified copies of such accounts; and fixing penalties.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker. I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 950 passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 23, by striking out the word "thereof" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "of this Commonwealth, except cities of the first class"

Amend section 2, page 3, lines 4, 5, 6 and 7 by striking out the remainder of the section, beginning with the word "in" in line 4 and ending with the word "furnished" in line 7, both inclusive.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. METCALF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 1158 file folio 7783, entitled:

> An Act to amend sections twenty-four as amended, section twenty-six as amended, twenty-nine as amended, section thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three as amended, and thirty-four and thirty-five of an act approved the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, (P. L. 678), entitled, "An Act relating to and regulating the use and operation of motor vehicles and vehicles propelled by, or trailing after, motor vehicles; requiring the registration of the same, and the licensing of all operators thereof; providing the fees therefor, and the disposition of such fees; prohibiting the unauthorized use of, and tampering with, motor vehicles; limiting and defining the powers of cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, and counties, as to the regulation of the use and equipment of motor vehicles, and the taxing, registration, or licensing thereof; imposing certain duties on the State Highway Commissioner, and on proprietors of public garages; providing procedure and penalties for violations thereof, and the disposition of fines collected, and regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising from the use of any motor vehicle," by providing for the hearing and disposition of certain violations thereof by traffic courts, in cities and in counties of the first second third and fourth classes creating traffic courts and providing for the appointment and compensation of the judges thereof.

on page 28 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed be extended five days.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, is there not a resolution now which provides that bills on the postponed calendar if not considered on Tuesday, must go over until the following Tuesday.

The SPEAKER. A resolution was adopted by the House fixing Tuesday of each week as the only day upon which bills could be called from the Postponed Calendar.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the Senate today fixed as the time for final adjournment on the fourteenth, subject to the concurrence by the House, and in view of the further fact that there are a large number of important bills on the postponed calendar yet to be considered, and if a bill goes over at this late hour until next Tuesday, it might as well be dropped from the calendar, I would move that we suspend the special resolution so far as it applies to the postponed calendar. I did not intend making the motion until tomorrow, to extend the time during tomorrow for such bills as are on the postponed calendar, but I do now make that motion.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in suport of the motion I want to say that we have had a large number of special order bills. The postponed calendar contains bills of great importance in which a number of us are interested on one side or another. There is one bill that will probably take two hours to consider, and those who have bills will not have them considered unless this motion prevails, and I might just as well make it a motion to include the whole postponed calendar. Because of the late hour I think the motion to extend the time on all postponed bills during to-morrow should prevail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the nays appear to have it,

Whereupon, A division was called for, and 54 members having voted in the affirmative and 64 in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. LUDLOW.

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 940 entitled:

> An Act to amend, revise, change and consolidate the laws relating to the assessment of persons, property and subjects of taxation, and the levy and collection of taxes in counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes, and in cities of the third class, boroughs, towns, townships, school districts of the second, third and fourth classes, independent school districts, and certain poor districts; permitting cities of the second class to accept the provisions of this act and become subject thereto; and repealing existing laws.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the Bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think I can safely say that there has been no bill introduced in this session that tends to a saving to the tax payers of this Commonwealth and in addition thereto tends to equalize the burden of taxation as much as the bill that has been called up at this time. The bill which we are considering at this time is a codification of the laws of Pennsylvania relating to the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for local purposes throughout the Commonwealth, except in the county and City of Philadelphia. This bill was drafted by the Pennsylvania tax law revision commission after a study of three years and embodies not only the best thought and study of this Commission, but also includes the best thought gleaned from the codes of five sister states which were studied at that time. In order to understand the purpose of the bill and the evil which it aims to correct, it is necessary to consider briefly the existing conditions, which brought about the appointment of this Commission which made this study and the things which they aim to remedy by their work. The men of this Commission decided that there was no branch of the law of Pennsylvania in greated need of codification than this branch of the law relating to the assessment and collection of taxes for local purposes. This was brought about largely by two things, in the first place, the great amount of legislation we have had on the subject in general, and in the second place the great number of special acts passed from time to time which applied to particular districts. I think more than one-third of the counties in this state are working under separate tax laws relating to the assessment and collection of local taxes, that is, tax laws relating to particular counties. The code which we are studying and discussing at this time deals with two features of the tax question. One is the question of assessment and the other is that of collection. In order to understand the evils existing in the present system it is necessary that we consider briefly the existing laws on the question of the assessment of property for tax purposes. The law as we have it on our statute books dates back to 1834. That act provides on the question of assessment that the electors of each district shall elect one of the members as an assessor. He assesses the property in that particlar district and communicates his return to the County Commissioners who sit as a board of revision. The result of this is that we have a great number of assessors in each district. In my own county, we have 78 assessors, and when they make their returns, we have about as many result is we do not have any equalization for the reason that the county commissioners are not familiar with the value of the property they are called upon to equalize the valuations thereof. The result is we have no equalization. When this bill was passed ninety years age it provided for the county commissioners to act as a board of revision, but conditions have changed in the various counties so that it is impossible to get any equalization from a board of county commissioners under those conditions. In order to meet this situation the Pennsylvania Tax Law Revision Commission recommended the creation of a county board of assessors in each county, except in counties of the second class where they have a board. That is the present existing law and no changes were made. This board of three in each county of third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes employes such assistants as are necessary the number of which is limited in the act and they make the assessment and equalize the same after it is completed, and that is turned over to the party to make up the proper duplicates.

That is not a new thought in Pennsylvania for the reason that we already have a county board of assessors in two counties of this State. On the question of collecting taxes, the present law of this State, the general law provides for a collector in each municipality. In addition to that, we have twenty some municipalities who have special acts under which they are operating for the collection of taxes in which they have various provisions for the collection. In my county we have one county tax collector and in addition to that we have one county tax collector for each kind of tax in each municipality. For instance, in a township we have one collector for township taxes, one collector for school taxes and one for county and poor taxes. In other words, if you had ten properties, under the law in my county in ten different districts you would have twenty-one separate and distinct tax collectors to whom you must pay your taxes on the ten properties at one particular time. To meet this situation or to remedy it, the tax law commission recommended a county tax collector for each district, for each county to meet the county need. This is not a new feature by any means although it is new in Pennsylvania. We have it in the State of Ohio on our west, and I learned last summer that they had it in other states west of the Mississippi River, and other states east of the Mississippi river and west of Pennsylvania except two, and one of those states has it in one-half of the counties. The advantages of the centralized system of assessment, or some of the changes are as follows: In the first place you get equalization which you cannot get under our present system, and in the second place you get a more equitable distribution of the burden of taxation. On the question of the collection of taxes one of the great advantages is the economical feature which is incident to the centralized system. Another advantage of the centralized system of collecting the one collector for each county is the convenience to the taxpayer. The great inconvenience of the system in Pennsylvania is that you scarcely know when you are through paying taxes if you own a number of properties. At a hearing held in the city of Pittsburgh, a representative at that hearing, representing one of the large corporations in the western part of the State made the request that if the commission did nothing else, that they should provide one place where all taxes should be payable in any one county. He stated further that he had charge of the payment of taxes for his company in a certain division of the state and he had more trouble paying the tax between Pittsburgh and the Ohio state line than he had throughout the entire distance of seven other states in which his company operated. The reason of this is that you never know where your tax collector is located. In the county unit you can always find him at the county seat. Another defect of the local collecting system is that the duplicates are not a permanent record. In a centralized system the duplicates are preserved from year to year and are accessible at any time. Another inconvenience of the various tax collectors is that you don't have a central point where conveyancers in examining titles can ascertain as to whether or not the taxes on the properties that are examined have been paid. Under the centralized system, you may go to the county seat, where the titles are being examined, and without any difficulty look up the tax record of any particular property. One of the greatest advantages, and I would like to call your attention to a few statistics in the State of Ohio, the cost of collection under their system—and this is an important matter to the members of the House, because there are few people have any conception of the tremendous loss that we have in our system of collecting taxes. In the county of Arden for the past year of 1921 and 1922 the entire tax duplicate in that county was $1,293,563, and it cost $6,140 to collect that duplicate, or 4.7 mills. The statistics for fourteen other counties running on a similar basis at the avermillage for the entire list of the fifteen counties in Ohio, cost 4.06 mills. During the same year in Pennsylvania the tax duplicates for the school districts of all classes amounts to $57,755,289. It cost us practically twenty mills to collect that duplicate, or five times what it cost in the State of Ohio to collect their entire tax. In the same year in Pennsylvania in our third and fourth class duplicates it cost us practically 30 mills or 7½times the cost of collecting the same tax in the state of Ohio. Referring to my own county, I wish to call your attention to a few of the figures in the cost of collecting school taxes in Beaver county. Under the system under which we are compelled to operate under in 1919-20, our duplicate was $1,852,498.00. It cost us $25,-040 to collect that or 29 mills, which was seven times what it cost in the state of Ohio for their entire duplicate on an average. The following year it cost us 28 mills and last year it cost us 28 mills. We had one borough where the tax duplicate was $32,000.00 and under our system it cost us $1,600.00 to collect that, and in the state of Ohio, under the average cost they collected the same amount of tax for $129.92 or a saving of $1,407.08 on the cost of collecting a $32,000 duplicate in a small borough.

The question has been raised as to the per capita of the centralized system of collecting. I wish to read to you a letter, or a portion of a letter received from M. B. Billingsly, ex-judge Billingsly of the state of Ohio, endorsing the centralized system which they have there, incorporated in the bill which Mr. Ludlow has presented. He says, as follows: I note what you say with respect to bills creating a new system now pending in the legislature of your State, and that you desire me to write you my views on the proposed new code. I have not seen a copy of this bill but understand that it proposes to create a single tax collector in each counand to abolish the present system which provides a collector in each municipality in the state. For many years I have represented a corporation which has considerable property in your state and I am familiar with the present system of collection of taxes. I have always regarded it as most intolerable. It seems to me that it serves no purpose except to furnish jobs to the various tax collectors. Under the system which has prevailed in Ohio for more than 60 years the taxes are paid to the collector by the controller of each county. During the period this statement has been in force there has never been any complaint. It says further that this system is economic. If you will bear with me just a minute gentlemen, I will suspend. He says further the system has never been regarded as an inconvenience to the taxpayer. All taxes, both municipal, county and state are paid to the treasurer, and so on. The county treasurer of Tioga county in which the city of Cleveland is situate indorses this system, and says that the practicability of the centralized system of taxation is proven in this city of Cleveland, the fifth city in the country, which is located within the county where the system has been in operation. He says there has never been a complaint of the centralized system of collecting taxes. Under the system recommended in the Ludlow bill, members of the House, the statistics of the population of the states where they have had this system ever since they were formed shows that they are collecting their taxes for one fifth of what we are paying in Pennsylvania. There are two fundamental principles involved in this bill. One is convenience and proper distribution of the burden of taxation, and the other is the savings to the taxpayers in cost of collecting. If you are in favor of economy and the principle proper and equitable distribution of the burden of taxation, then you will vote for this measure; if you are not in favor of these matters you will vote against it.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Marshall.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Marshall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Under this bill that is under consideration now how many township collectors will be abolished if this bill becomes a law?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. In answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, I do not know how many collectors we have in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Did you say approximately twenty-four hundred?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. I have no idea, we would have one county tax collector in each county instead of the great number that we have at the present time.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Then you are not in position to know whether it would be twenty-four hundred or less.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. I know it would abolish a great many that we do not need that the taxpayers are paying a salary to for performing their duties.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Had this bill been amended to exclude the treasurers of third class cities.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. The bill has been amended to allow third class cities to retain their local collector, but the cost or salary is distributed between the city and county and the school districts.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. If the bill was not big enough for third class cities why does it apply to second class cities.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. The bill is optional with second class cities. They have a right to elect to come in under the provisions of the bill. The bill does not apply to second class cities unless they elect to come in under it.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. In what way does this affect the assessment of the revisions boards of taxes in second class cities?

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Of second class cities?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Second class counties.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. It does not effect second class counties at all. It remains just exactly as you have it in your present county.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is nothing more or less than ripper legislation, it rips out of office hundreds of men who are performing their duty and doing it well. If this bill should become a law, It will work a great hardship. Under it, if a person wants to pay taxes he is compelled to travel a great distance to pay them. Under the circumstances, I think this bill is drastic in its nature, and being legislation which does not meet with the approval of the state as a whole, because I do not believe we are in favor of ripper legislation, I feel that the system should be allowed to remain as it is now. I therefore ask the members of this House to vote this bill down.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that this is a bad bill. I realize that it takes away from local districts the right to control and govern themselevs. This is one step more toward centralized power. It takes away from our local district the right to assess and collect our own taxes. Now surely there is no one more competent to say what the valuation of that property should be and the amount of taxes that should be collected and by whom it shall be collected than the people who are residents of those districts. I would, therefore, ask this House to vote down this bill and give the people home rule, and plenty of it.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you will realize a while ago that I asked that this motion prevail allowing this to go over until tomorrow. I do not know whether you realize it or not, but whether a bill is right or wrong we have a perfect right to discuss it. I hope you will bear with me for a few moments because I will only take up a few minutes discussing the provisions of the bill for which I ask you to vote. Do you realize in the State of Pennsylvania, in all of the townships of the second class, there has been collected during the last year, and I will give you just the high spots, the figures given to me by the Commissioner of the Highway, there has been collected in these townships for the year 1922 the sum of $10,700,829.00, and some odd cents, for road purposes alone? Do you know that to collect those taxes alone has cost over 4% according to the figures given to me by the State Highway Commissioner? Do you know that in the same district the school taxes have been collected by the same collector at a cost varying from 1½ to 3.4? Do you know that the average collector whose office you would eliminate here in voting for this bill, and the average assessor, is today costing the counties of this state, outside of Philadelphia, over $2,500,000.00, which you could save to your local constituency? I am going to show you how to save it, even though you vote not to save it, as some of you seem anxious to do, and I have no objections, but I want to have a record of just what you would save if you so desired under the bill. The bill is not a theory, but a practice in every state of this Union west of Pennsylvania, on a due line west to the Pacific. It has been in vogue in some states, like Ohio, for 50 years, so we cannot say that it is an untried theory which some persons, just as a theory, want to try in Pennsylvania. It might interest you to know the statistics which were obtained from the Department of Public Instruction, that in the years 1921 and 1922, it cost the state of Pennsylvania, for all counties including Philadelphia, which by the way our bill does not affect, it cost $1,558,463.00 or in easy figures, $1,500,000.00 to collect $80,354,924.00; or in other words, it cost $1,500,000 to collect $80,000,000. It cost on that basis practically 2½% to collect only the school tax. You haven't thought in terms of that size, have you? Now you haven't thought of that, when you are working up a sweat over the school problem, when as a state legislature we are asked to contribute to the local school districts which are spending $2,500,000 to collect taxes that in Ohio, as a part of the whole, could be collected for $500,000? If that is the record you want to vote on, there it is, take it. Now I want to call this to your attention, because it is mighty well worth while for the Philadelphia and Allegheny delegations to take home with them and think over. In Philadelphia today, and this bill does not apply to Philadelphia, it only costs $29,177.00 to collect sixteen millions and upwards or in round figures $29,000 to collect $17,000,000. Now listen to Allegheny county, which Mr. Marcus defends. It cost $230,931, or practically $231,000.00 to collect $13,488,552.00. How can you explain the system? We are up here working and worrying about our school taxes and state aid and are working under a condition which permits Philadelphia to collect $17,000,000 for $29,000, and Allegheny County to pay $231,000 to collect over $13,000,000. This bill is aimed to save that very kind of thing. This bill is aimed to save, instead of paying 4% to collect $10,000,000 out in the townships of the second class, it is aimed to cut that down. Under this bill, on actually averaged figures in other states, we would save $350,000 in collecting in townships of the second class. We would save $1,261,566.00 in the collection of the school tax; in cities of the third class, which members of the House well know, there is a condition that is a stench in the nostrils of decent citizens, you could save over $500,000 or a total of $2,000,000 a year, or $4,000,000 for the biennium in your home and mine, if we tried the bill out. What do you know about the fees paid in the cities of the third class? Do you know what the treasurer gets in the city of Chester, or in the city of Erie? Do you know that in Erie the treasurer gets over $40,000 a year, and after he pays some eight or nine thousand a year for clerk hire and office expenses, he nets over $30,000 a year? Why should a man aspire to be Governor of a state or senator of the state of Pennsylvania when all he has got to do is to stay back home in a city of the third class and hold down the job of treasurer and shame some of our city officials in Philadelphia and Allegheny by receiving a net compensation equal to the salary of the governor? or, under the new revised basis that of both United States senators and beside two or three Congressmen thrown in to boot. What do you find in Altoona? What do you find in Johnstown? What do you find in Allentown? Go back to your cities of the third class. When Mr. Horne regulating the salaries of treasurer in cities of the third class, we are going to get figures on that which are startling. How would you like to have, for illustration, even at this late hour, the figures from two or three sample counties that I would like to read to you? How would you like to come upon the floor of this House and have lobbyists from the Tax Assessor's Association, and how would you like to have the employees of this House as well as members, who have a right to do it, lobbying against this bill? How would you like to have the people saying "God save the Commonwealth, but whatever you do save the assessors who save the collectors, the government of the assessors, by the assessors and for the assessors, and collectors," and ditto all down the line? Or you say, "I don't live in a city of the third class, I don't represent a city of the third class;" and Philadelphia may say, "I am not interested because it does not affect us." But this is our chance to pay some personal calls to the members of some of the other counties who have been very good to us until this time and I do this to the music of the boy champion who is playing while I am talking. I want to let you know what the treasurers are getting for collecting school taxes while you and I are worrying over the school problem. How would you like to know what they are getting in Schuylkill, Luzerne, and Lackawanna Counties? Let me give you some data which will show what tremendous pay they are getting. In Lackawanna county, in the borough of Archibald they paid for the collection of school taxes alone $4,967, and if you add to that what the collector gets for collecting borough taxes and other things on the side, you will find that he is pretty nearly a $10,000 official, and I call this to the attention of you fellows who come from the big cities and you men who voted here on the floor of this House against salary increases. Now then, listen to this; In the borough of Blakely, in Carbondale city, it cost $2,032 just to collect the school tax; in Carbondale township $5,661; in Dunmore borough, $10,750 to collect school taxes. We hold our heads high in the public places and say, "We represent our constituency. God save the Commonwealth!" Again I say it, "God save the Commonwealth but please let alone the collector system and the assessor system." These are the people you have been hearing from, these are the people that are opposing the Ludlow bill and the Marshall bill, the bill drafted by a commission appointed by a resolution of your House four years ago and again two years ago; those are the people who say the bill is un-American because it is trying to save you and myself back home over two million dollars in cold hard cash. Why haven't we got the courage to stand up here and say the thing is wrong? Here is the record, if you want to vote the other way, go ahead.

Here are some figures for Fell Township, in the same county, $3861.00 to collect school taxes, and you add to this borough fees and other fees and see what it amounts to. In Old Forge Borough it costs $2,731; in Olyphant borough, $4523; and for the city of Scranton it cost $13,000; and then come on down to Taylor Boro, $2,630; in Thorp Borough, it was $5,000, and in the whole county of Lackawanna, it cost $74,394.00 to collect $3,500,000. How does that compare with the percentage in Ohio where for 50 years they have been doing the other thing? Work it out and you will find that it is practically two percent, or four time as much to collect only the school tax as it takes in Ohio to collect all the taxes. Just to show there is no hard feeling against Lackawanna, let us turn to Luzerne and see what some of our neighbors are getting up there. I find that in Ashley Borough, it cost $2856, you might say the amount is practically $3,000, and if you add to that another $3000 for borough fees and $1000 to $15000 on the side for collecting other taxes, the job is as good as George Pepper's or Dave Reed's, and yet that seems small to us because we make the changes in these things. Let us see what it costs in some of the other boroughs in this county. In Edwardsville Borough, $5267; in Exeter Borough $3410; in Hanover township $6531, and there is another township in this county that pays over $10,000 to collect school tax alone. What is the use of you and me coming up here to save money and talking about the dear people back home? Who are back of this thing? The League of Women Voters are for it. "Ah," you say, "you don't want their vote until it comes election time" Who else is for it? The State Chamber of Commerce is for the bill. Who else is for it? The State Newspaper Association. "Ah," somebody says, "the State Newspaper Association is going to profit by it". It is true, that they have suggested certain things, but they are not found among the amendments to the bill. But why advertise the assessments? They can be found under this bill at the county seat. I can go on and mention township after township. Take for instance Jenkins township where it cost over $4.000, and Kingston township over $3500, and Nanticoke Borough over $7,000, and so on. Schulykill county it not only in the same category, but I wont take more of your time at this late hour.

Members of the House, this is an opportunity if you want to go on record. It means nothing to me. If the bill passes, well and good; if the bill falls, it will come back to haunt you session after session until something is evolved where we don't necessarily follow employees and clerks and assessors and collectors, but come up here according to our oath to represent our people. When I was putting the bill in, members from adjoining counties who opposed me first ridiculed me in public and said, "In am going back to your county and find out whom you represent. You must represent some corporation." If you can find any connection between adopting this system in Pennsylvania, which is based on a system in vogue in every state west of the Mississippi running clear to the Pacific coast, whether on a direct line or not, and in half of the states, east of the Mississippi, if that is representing a corporation, then I am the fellow representing a corporation, but I am trying to represent my people back home. They are like your constituents, though you will find a lot of people utterly opposed to any such bill. Go back and analyze their reasons. Did somebody come before them, did they pass a resolution as the township supervisors did a month before the bill was introduced and two months before the amendments were introduced? Did they do what the Borough Association did, and I represent the Borough Association as well as you, when it went on record against the bill before it was introduced? The bill was considerably amended after its introduction and we made honest and reasonable concessions. Members of the House, I have talked exactly 11 minutes, by the clock, and have taken up as much of your time as I intend to. But in the face of these facts, if you think you ought to vote against the bill, that is a matter for you. This is not a question of whether you come back to this legislature or not, it is not a question of whether you are lobbying or not. The important thing is that here is a way of saving in our school districts, and townships and boroughs a sum of over two million dollars, conservatively estimated, per year, and the figures I have given you do not contain one cent of saving on borough and township taxes and if you add them to it I dare say you can add another million dollars without any trouble. These are not experiments. They have all been tried out. Give it a chance.

Now there are certain members in this House who honestly believe the bill should not be tried. I have no feeling against them if they vote against it, but there are certain members here who have said, "Why not let this be a local option bill? Why not let the counties vote for it as they want to?" They all know what would happen in the counties. We all know that the counties who need it most wouldn't try it out at all. Let's meet the bill in its entirety. If it is unworthy of your consideration, if it does not attack home rule in the fall primaries of this year when you and I go out to elect our county officers. If the bill is going to be tried out this is a good year, because we elect under this bill, a board of revision or a board of assessors when we elect the county treasurer, and his assistants who collect the taxes. It is not so, as Mr. Marcus says, that you must go into headquarters to pay your taxes. There are many ways if you would only open your eyes and read the bill to show you how this thing can be done. Now, if you think it is not right, vote against it. It is not against home rule unless your whole system of county government is against home rule, and I ask your earnest and careful consideration in that which is purely impersonal, and I think it is a fine opportunity to serve your state and to serve your district.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the gentleman from Montgomery is unnecessarily alarmed. I feel this tax proprosition is entirely within your districts and for your school boards. Your supervisors fix the rates, and if they are satisfactory to the people who pay the taxes and pay for the collecting of them, I do not see why we are not satisfied. This is only a step to get this farther away from the people. It will compel the people to go to the county seat at a great expense to pay their taxes when they can now pay them in their own districts. As I said before, I can see nothing in this but another step toward the centralization of power.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Scheaffer, Berger, Gibbon, Sowers, Heffernan, Dunn, Lucas, Harer, Fratt, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Storb, Bidelspacher, Metcalf, Hetrick, Wells, Himes, Bush, Posey, Armstrong.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,
Shall the main question be put,
It was agreed to.
On the question, recurring
Shall the bill pass finally?
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

TIME EXTENDED FOR CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILLS.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, due to the motion that was voted down awhile ago which makes it absolutely unfair to those who have bills on the postponed calendar, I should like very much to renew that motion to permit the consideration of postponed bills tomorrow so that my bill, or other bills on that calendar, may have a chance for consideration. I think that is a fair request to make to this House at this time. In renewing my motion I should perhaps explain that there are only seven bills on the postponed calendar that would come up for consideration or have a chance, mine being one of them. I cannot see why anyone should oppose such a motion, it is the only fair proposition, and it will be impossible to bring up the seven bills tonight. It seems to me that such a motion ought to be considered by this House, and I should like very much to have your favorable consideration of that motion.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to endorse very strongly the suggestions of Mr. Horne. It is only fair because we cannot expect to take up the seven or ten bills to night and give them a full and fair consideration. We are all tired and have had a long session. It is no more than fair that those bills should get another day inasmuch as today was occupied by special orders largely. I hope sincerely that Mr. Horne's suggestion may meet your approval.

Mr. NORMAN WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what effect this motion will have on the third reading calendar? Those postponed bills have had their chance and the third reading bills should have their chance.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is advised that the gentleman from Cambria stated that there were only seven bills on the postponed calendar, which could be called up tomorrow. The Chair has not checked that up but assumes that it is correct. It would be equivalent to adding seven bills to those that would be considered tomorrow.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that it would be fair to consider these bills tomorrow in view of the fact that many of the members of the Legislature went home on Wednesday and were not here on Thursday to conduct business as they should have been, and I think we ought to extend that courtesy to those who have stayed here and worked and were willing to work.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, if you will remember I called attention two weeks ago to this condition. If we allow those bills to be called up tomorrow morning all the other bills will be shoved back. Every one of the gentlemen who have bills on the postponed calendar have had plenty of time and opportnuity to get those bills heard on third reading, and for one reason or another they have been placed on the postponed calendar, and I think it is unfair to those who have bills on the third reading calendar to pass a motion of this kind. They have had plenty of time to get their bills up. They didn't want to call on their bills at the time they were reached, and for that reason placed them on the postponed calendar, and now this motion is unfair to everyone who has bills on the third reading calendar.

Mr, HORNE. Mr. Speaker, in support of my motion I wish to say that this bill was postponed last week for the very reason given by our friend Mr. McCurdy. The House was too thin to consider a bill at that time to attempt to call it up and give it fair consideration. I am perfectly willing to have it defeated, but I think it is unfair to any bill to bring it up in a light House. The third reading calendar tomorrow is not very heavy, and I therefore think that my request, instead of being unfair, is absolutely fair.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I wish to correct the impression as to the number of bills on the postponed calendar. I count seventeen bills on the postponed calendar, seventeen not acted on.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was informed there were seven, and took that information as correct. The Chair has been informed by the clerks that the official calendar shows twelve bill that could be acted upon tomorrow on the postponed calendar on final passage and third reading.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I haven't any bill, nor do I have any particular personal interest in any bill on the postponed calendar, but I think that the request of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Horne, is a fair and reasonable request. It does not necessarily mean that a member will call up these bills on the postponed calendar the first thing in the morning. We can go ahead on the third reading calendar, and we can dispose of the bills in a very short time, and then we can dispose of the bills on the postponed calendar later on in the day.

Mr. STAUDENMIER. Mr. Speaker, we do not have to adjourn. What is to prevent these bills being brought up now?

The SPEAKER. The Chair knows of no reason.

Mr. STAUDENMIER. Mr. Horne is very anixous to bring up the bill and the members are here, so why not bring it up.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and 71 members having voted in the affirmative and 37 having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MOFFATT asked and obtained unanimous consent to report a bill from committee.

Mr. MOFFATT, from the Committee on Judiciary General, re-reported as amended House Bill No. 1175, entitled

A Supplement to an act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 198) entitled, "An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny, and prescribing its powers and duties; regulating the procedure therein, and providing for the expenses thereof," further regulating appeals to the Common Pleas Court; regulating hearings in desertion and non-support cases; the handling of Juvenile cases and providing for the designation of two judges for such purposes.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to inquire what is the status of the Senate Resolution in regard to adjournment next week, on the 14th of June where is that resolution at the present time, what has become of it?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks is informed that the resolution of the Senate is in the hands of the House and will be presented tomorrow morning for action.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move this House do now adjourn until 11:00 o'clock to morrow morning.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:59 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1923. No. 66.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. George Edward Hawes, offered the following prayer: O Lord, Thou art our Father, besides Thee there is none else. Thou art the one who recognizes us, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Isaac and Israel adknowledge Thee. We give Thee praise to-day because of the privileges which we have as servants of Thine. We rejoice in opportunity for service. We thank Thee for the problems that challenge our minds and the great questions that come up for our solution. We praise Thee that we live in a day when big things are demanding the attention of big brains and men are doing great things for the kingdom of our Lord, Jesus Christ. We thank Thee for the great things that are being done in a legislative way in these days. We pray Thee to increase the efficiency of wise men, leading them out to an understanding of the solution of the great problems of this day in which we live. We pray for Thy blessing to rest upon this Senate of this great Commonwealth; may the Lord's blessing be upon each of these men individually, recognize them, we pray Thee, as servants of Thine and give them Thy mind; bless their homes from which they are separated, bless their business, we pray Thee, from which they have been drawn these days. Bless them, we pray Thee, as they are engaged in the great business of this Commonwealth.

Now may the blessing of God rest upon the Governor, upon the Lieutenant-Governor, upon every Senator, upon every officer of this body, upon all who are in any way connected with the management of the affairs of this Commonwealth. And all that we ask is in the name of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires at this time to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that the joint resolution providing for final adjournment of the Legislature on June 14th has been concurred in by the House, which will make necessary a session to-morrow, at which the attendance of every Senator is requested, for the purpose of transacting business of a general character.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1219, on final passage, entitled:

An Act regulating the selection of jurors for service in the several courts, civil and criminal, of the counties of the second class; creating a Board of Judges from the court of common pleas of said counties for this purpose; and prescribing the powers and duties of such Board; imposing the entire cost and expense of maintaining and operating such Board upon said counties; requiring the county commissioners of said county to provide suitable office quarters, equipment and supplies for said Board, authorizing the employment of the necessary clerks, assistants, deputies and other employees; abolishing the existing office of jury commissioners in said counties; and providing that the present jury commissioners shall become clerks of said Board until the expiration of their term of office; requiring other county officers and boards to furnish information to said board; and prescribing punishments for violation of the provisions hereof.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to know whether or not it is the desire of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, that the bill go over in its order?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, the request that the bill go over in its order for the purpose of giving Mr. Brennan a hearing on it. I promised Mr. Brennan a hearing on this bill and so stated before the Judiciary General Committee yesterday. I have no objection to its going over so that he may be heard.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I withdraw my objection.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1454, (House Bill No. 257), as follows:

An Act constituting a commission to make an investigation of the condition of disabled World War Veterans of Pennsylvania and to take appropriate action to assure such veterans of relief and full benefits and advantages and making an appropriation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a commission is hereby constituted which shall be composed of five citizens who were former Pennsylvania soldiers sailors or marines or nurses in the United States forces during the World War and shall be appointed by the Governor on or before the fifteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three to conduct an investigation into the condition of all soldiers sailors and marines and nurses and all former soldiers sailors and marines and nurses who were in the military or naval forces of the United States in the World War and who were wounded or disabled while in the service thereof Provided That all such present and former soldiers sailors and marines and nurses were legal residents of this Commonwealth at the time of entering the service of the United States or have been legal residents of this Commonwealth for at least one year since the termination of hostilities The members of the commission shall be empowered to take appropriate action in such cases as they deem essential to obtain relief and full benefits and advantages in compensation or training accruing to any such soldier sailor or marine or nurse under the laws of the United States The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their services as such but shall be allowed all expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties

Section 2 The commission is hereby authorized to employ the necessary clerical help and fix their salaries and for the purpose of paying for said clerical services postage and other necessary expenses the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 499, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred seventy-six entitled 'An act for the incorporation and regulation of banks of discount and deposit' and authorizing the creation and maintenance of suboffices or subagencies"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether or not this bill does not give the right to banks to establish branch banks in cities?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I think at the bottom of the bill it says that it does not. This bill is only for the purpose of allowing the various banks who have branch banks to allowing the money to remain in the branches and not carted to the main establishment every night. This is done on account of the present crime wave we have going around and the various banks have to get automobiles that are built almost like vaults to haul their money around through the city, with armed men on the inside, each night. The only purpose of this bill is to protect them.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether or not the amendment that is made in this bill which relieves the bank from taking back the deposits, and so on, to the main office does not in effect constitute a branch bank, and whether or not the assets, deposits and so on of the moneys that are in these branches would not necessarily have to be audited by the Department in the place where they are housed and not in the main office of the institution.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have been told that the Banking Department has no objection to this bill. Now all I am interested in is that this bill should go through the Senate and go over to the House and if there is any objection to the bill at all, whoever may be in charge of the Banking Committee there may call on me and I will bring the people up.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to say that if this bill affected only cities of the first class I would have no objection to it. The banking institutions of the west are opposed to branch banks. They so stated before the Committee in large bodies before the Committee on Banks and Banking and I believe that this bill makes it possible for the establishing of branch banks. It is true the Department of Banking is favorable to branch banks. The Association at Atlantic City, represented by Pennsylvanians in very large numbers, only last week was against the branch banks. The entire State of Pennsylvania declared itself as against putting through any law that would allow branch banks to be established and on account of this decision on the part of the banks of my own county I will be compelled to vote against the bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, My impression is, and I believe that I am right, that under this bill in no manner can a branch bank be established nor can it be any aid in any way to the establishment of a branch bank. It is simply for the protection of the bankers and to injure the business of the highwayman. That is all that is intended by this act. If this bill passes the Senate and between now and Monday Senator Barr finds it is anything different, I have no objection to going with him on Monday to the Chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking and ask him to hold the bill in committee, if he finds out anything different from what I say it is.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether this bill would permit the banks of Philadelphia to go out in the country districts and establish branch places for the reception of money there?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I am under the impression that it will not, and the same statement that I made to Senator Barr I will make to Senator Buckman, that if he finds that it does I am perfectly willing to go to the Chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking in the House on Monday night and request that it shall not come out. I am under the impression that it does not permit that.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, it does seem to me that we have reason for objecting to this measure. In the committee as the law was stated the money must be brought back to the parent bank each day. This says that they do not have to do that and that makes out of that agency in fact a private bank. It is true, as Senator Barr has said, that our Banking Department is not opposed to branch banks, but some of the rest of us are opposed to the branch banks and it becomes our business to voice our sentiments according to our convictions in that matter, and it does seem that with the amendment as they have it here, cutting out the requirement of taking their funds back to the parent bank, that you have in all reality a private bank and I believe that this bill is intended to accomplish that very thing.

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend strike out on page 2, section 2, lines 3 and 4 by striking out the words "the libellant in such divorce action or any other person who is" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "two disinterested persons who are"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I object to those amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shal the bill pass finally?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, this particular bill has had somewhat of a torturous course. There are a great many things that apparently happened in connection with the bill. I do not think that the bill will contain anything of benefit to the divorce courts in Pennsylvania. It provides that a respondent in a divorce case may be served by means of a registered letter with a return receipt which is to be signed by him and if his signature is sworn to by the libellant then it shall be a proper service. My objection to this bill is that it tends to make divorce easier than it now is in our courts. The divorce courts are wide open, entirely too wide open at the present time perhaps, but this bill makes it possible for a libellant to be at both ends of the proceeding. The libellant, of course, files the libel in divorce. Now it is provided that a libellant can swear that the return is a proper return in recognition of the signature of the respondent. It seems to me that it opens up a way for collusion, which will be very detrimental generally to divorce proceedings in the Commonwealth. That is the only interest I have in it. I believe that it is an improper piece of legislation for that reason. My amendment was to the effect that the signature of the respondent should be certified to by some disinterested persons, not by the libellant, as this bill provides. That amendment is objected to and as the bill now stands it seems to me it ought not to pass.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, my understanding of the operation of this bill is just exactly opposite to the objection described by the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Long. In the first place let us keep in mind clearly that this bill does not in any way affect divorces operative on people resident within the State of Pennsylvania. That is if the libellant and respondent both live in the State of Pennsylvania, it has nothing to do with them and does not change our practice one iota. Now whom does it affect? It affects a respondent living outside of the State of Pennsylvania and nobody else in the universe. Why is it that this bill does not put the thing on a cleaner basis than it ever was before? A man or a woman resident in Connecticut or New York or any other state of the Union, can move into the State of Pennsylvania and after a residence of a year in Pennsylvania can file a libel to secure a divorce from the person resident without. Now they take an honest means to secure service on that person living outside of the State of Pennsylvania? No, they do anything else but that. Under the present practice it is published in a newspaper and the respondent not once in a thousand times ever sees it unless some person happens to see it in the paper and sends them notice, because the law requires nothing of that kind. Now this requires that in suits in divorce the respondent living outside of the State of Pennsylvania may be required by law or by the rules of the respective courts to be served upon the respondent in such cases, may be served upon such non-resident respondent by registered letter and such service, when proper return is made by the Sheriff as hereinafter provided shall be good and sufficient service.

"Section 2. When the Sheriff of any county shall serve any notice by registered letter as provided by this act he shall request a return receipt for such letter signed by the respendent and when such receipt is returned to him bearing the signature of the respondent to whom the notice has been sent the sheriff shall require the libellant in such divorce action or any other person who is familiar with the signature of the respondent to make affidavit to the effect that the signature upon such receipt is the signature of such respondent. The sheriff may then make return of such service in the same manner as returns are made for personal service."

Now any fair minded man, any enlightened man, will admit that the respondent has a better chance of having his day in court and of knowing of the existence of suit by such service than he has by simply publishing it somewhere in a newspaper. I think every intelligent lawyer knows that to be a fact and he knows the absurdity of these eternal publications. That is the case, gentlemen of the Senate, and as I said to you in the beginning, I am not interested in this, for I practice very rarely in the divorce court. Personally I believe that there is a divorce evil, but this is not increasing the number of divorces, but to reduce them because under this Act, unless there is personal acceptance of service, the man does not get it. I believe that the people who file divorce libels, most people outside of the State of Pennsylvania, have no business to have it made so easy for them and the old law does make it easy and this does make it hard.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President. If this is a good service provided by this bill why then not apply it to the respondents within the State? If it is good service, it ought to be made to apply to respondents within the State. It seems to me, gentlemen of the Senate, that this enables divorces to be procured in star chamber and not out in the open.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1388, as follows:

An Act declaring it unlawful to make arrests without warrant except upon view of the commission of a crime

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it is unlawful for any sheriff deputy sheriff constable deputy constable or State city borough town township or private police officer or policeman or highway patrolman or other peace officer to arrest any person without a warrant unless such arrest is made for a felony or on view of the commision of any crime

Any person violating the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months or both at the discretion of the court

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title, page 1, line 1, by striking out the word "withont" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "without"; also amend the title by inserting after the word "except" the words "for felony or" and by striking out "a" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "any" also Section 1, line 8, by inserting after the word "made" the words "for felony or" also line 9 by striking out the word "a" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "any".

Mr. PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 827.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1177, (House Bill No. 827), entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" as amended passed finally.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the question?

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, so that there may be no misunderstanding, I had asked Senator McClintock while the roll was being called whether this was not the bill that was to go over for amendment. I asked that Senator McClintock would see that arrangements were made by which the bill would go over in its order and in due time amended. Upon that we are agreed and that is the position I am in.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I am likewise interested in this bill. It was presented in the House by a member from my district, and is an amendment to the bill of which I was the father, Senate Bill 1389, the second bill following this, is in the same shape exactly. Had I known that Senator MacDADE wished to make an amendment to the bill I should have been glad indeed to have had it go over in its order, and I will say to Senator MacDade now that while I have not the slighest idea what his amendment is, if there is any way it can be legally done, I will be very glad to have the vote reconsidered and put the bill over in its order, just so we may have an opportunity of conferring. I wish to extend to him every possible courtesy.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I understand from the sponsor of the bill, or at least from the Senator who is looking after the bill for his collegue over in the House, that he is perfectly willing to have the vote which the bill passed finally reconsidered. Therefore, I think the motion will be to postpone further consideration of the bill for the present, which will give an opportunity to iron out any misunderstanding which may have occurred.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Chester, I will say that Senator MacDade informs me that he desires to amend this bill by inserting one word, "efficient." I have no objection to the amendment.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1389, (House Bill No. 819), entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred thirty-eight) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of persons to the fire departments in cities of the third class constituting a civil service board in relation thereto providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing for fixing compensation of a secretary"

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1392, entitled:

An Act providing for a Legislative Auditor and for his election by the General Assembly defining his powers and duties authorizing the employment of assistants imposing certain duties and responsibilities upon the executive department of the State Government and upon agencies receiving State appropriations and making an appropriation

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is one of the most impotant pieces of legislation that has come before this session, and I hope the Senate will indulge me for a few moments to explain the bill.

This bill creates a Legislative Auditor, elected in joint session by the House and Senate, Instead of taking up time to explain this bill by section, I simply wish to say that the bill is not designed but the effect is to transfer from the Chief Executive to ourselves some of the powers which is sometimes called "The Big Stick". This bill was recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations and when I explained to the Senator from Lehigh that by passing it equal power with the Governor would be conferred upon him, he agreed to report the bill out, and it was reported out last night.

Now I simply want to make a few remarks for the purpose of the Legislative Journal. I will ask our distinguished Secretary, Mr. Baker, to please send a few copies to the Governor and his cabinet, marked "Please sit up and take notice". This bill, if enacted into law, would enable the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to sit on the chief throne there and wear a crown, and in consultation with the Lieutenant Governor and the President Pro Tempore, he can decide whether he will receive communications from the Governor, and if they were due on Monday and the Secretary appeared on Tuesday they would have to suspend

Rule 43 or 44 to let him in. This bill confers more power on the Legislative branch of the government. This bill augments trouble between the Executive branch and Legislative branch of the Government. The so-called Legislative Auditor will be empowered to go into any Executive Department in Harrisburg and look at all their books and ask them any question he likes, and if he discovers that Dr. Potter has had a joy ride under the guise of welfare, or if Dr. Miner has wasted a penny of the money of the taxpayers on quinine pills, or if Mr. Nathan Buller has bought fish eggs which do not hatch, the Legislative Auditor can call all parties before the General Assembly and demand an accounting of every penny of the taxpayers money, because, gentlemen, as you all know the Legislature is primarily the spender after all, and we are the guardians of the people's money. This bill, I hope, will not pass. I shall be obliged to vote against it, but I suggest that when I have made few remarks the bill will be recommitted to Senator Schantz's committee and there be kept as a rod in pickle. The bill is offered as you may imagine, half in jest and half in seriousness. Senator Heaton and I are the only members in the Senate who have read the bill, and I hope at the conclusion of my remarks the other Senators will read the bill. I would like to say, in closing, that it is my ambition,—after having had some very delightful experiences in the Pennsylvania Senate and my regard for politicians has arisen to an immense height,—it is my ambition to write an essay and have it published in the Atlantic Monthly or the Yale Review—I have pull with the Yale Review and I may get it in—The essay will be on the unsung virtues of the politician. I will not enumerate them here or it might spoil the article, but I will send a complimentary copy to each member of the Senate and I hope you will read it. I really mean this.

This bill, as I said a few moments ago, has considerable merit, but I would not for the world see it passed at this time. It might be called "The Anti-Code Bill", and if the members of this legislature find that after the code has had a good, fair chance for two years and that too much power has been transferred to the Executive branch of the government, then I hope we will return in two years and take the bill out of Senator Schantz's pickle and pass it, if it is needed. In other words, I would like to keep the bill up the Legislative Sleeve for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1479, as follows:

An Act fixing the compensation of the Auditor General the State Treasurer and the Secretary of Internal Affairs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act the salaries of the Auditor General and State Treasurer shall be twelve thousand dollars each per annum and the salary of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be ten thousand dollars per annum which salaries shall be full compensation for all services required by law to be performed by them as Auditor General State Treasurer and Secretary of Internal Affairs respectively or upon or in connection with any board or commission or in any other capacity whatsoever Provided That this act shall not affect the salary of the Auditor General State Treasurer or Secretary of Internal Affairs in office at the time of its approval

Section 2 The act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred sixty-five) entitled "An act fixing the salary of the State Treasurer" and the act approved twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred sixty-five) entitled "An act fixing the salary of the Auditor General" are hereby repealed and the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred two) entitled "An act reorganizing the Department of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth designating the officers and employes thereof and fixing their salaries" is hereby repealed in so far as it fixes the salary of the Secretary of Internal Affairs

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the file folio number here given is 5177. File folio 5117, the number on the calendar, calls only for raising the salary of the Auditor General and State Treasurer, to twelve thousand dollars and no other emoluments, while file folio 5177 is a raiser for the Secretary of Internal Affairs to ten thousand dollars. I want to tell the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, that I am heartily in favor of raising the salary for the State Treasurer and Auditor General to twelve thousand dollars per year, but I am not for the amendment, and on account of the amendment, I must vote against the bill, which I regret.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1177, (House Bill No. 827), entitled:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" as amended

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1219, as follows:

An Act regulating the selection of jurors for service in the several courts civil and criminal of the county of Allegheny creating a Board of Judges from the court of common pleas of said county for this purpose and prescribing the powers and duties of such Board imposing the entire cost and expense of maintaining and operating such Board upon said county requiring the county commissioners of said county to provide suitable office quarters equipment and supplies for said Board authorizing the employment of the necessary clerks assistants deputies and other employees abolishing the existing office of jury commissioners in said county and providing that the present jury commissioners shall become clerks of said Board until the expiration of their term of office requiring other county officers and boards to furnish information to said board and prescribing punishment for violation of the provisions hereof

CREATION OF "BOARD FOR SELECTION OF JURORS"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the better and more impartial selection of persons to serve as jurors in the several courts civil and criminal of the county of Allegheny there is hereby created a Board to be known as the "Board for the Selection of Jurors" Said Board shall consist of three judges of the court of common pleas of said county and the president judge of said court The president judge of said court annually on or before the first day of December of each year shall appoint the other three members of said Board who shall hold office for the calendar year next ensuing their appointment All vacancies arising in said Board shall be filled by the president judge of said court from time to time as occasion may arise Two members of said Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business

Section 2 DUTY OF OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS The county commissioners of said county shall provide suitable office quarters for said board at the county seat and shall properly furnish and equip the same and shall provide said Board with all needed supplies All expenses incurred in the maintenance and operation of said Board and all salaries and wages payable to clerks assistants deputies and other employees of said Board shall be payable out of the funds of said county in the county treasury upon payrolls approved by said Board

Section 3 CLERKS EMPLOYES AND SALARIES Said Board shall at all times employ a sufficient number of clerks assistants deputies and other employees as shall be necessary in the opinion of said Board to efficiently perform the duties provided herein The president judge of said court shall appoint all officers clerks assistants deputies and employees of said Board who shall be under the general charge of a clerk to be known as the "Jury Clerk"

All salaries shall be payable in monthly or semi-monthly installments All salaries payable to all employes of said Board shall be fixed by the majority vote of a county salary board consisting of the members of the Board hereby created the county commissioners of said county and the county controller

Section 4 JURY CLERK The Jury Clerk under the direction of the Board shall have general charge of the work of said Board and shall be responsible for the efficient operation thereof The Jury Clerk is particularly charged with the duty of collecting information relative to the various persons in said county qualified to act as jurors and their fitness therefore and for the preparation of proper indices for the purpose of making readily available to said Board at all times full information pertaining to jurors and the list of jurors

Section 5 LIST OF TAXABLES—DUTIES OF OTHER COUNTY OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES On or prior to the first day of September one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three the county commissioners of said county or other officers or board charged with the duty of making assessments for taxable purposes shall furnish to the Board hereby created a certified list arranged alphabetically of the names of all taxables of said county in the several cities boroughs and townships located therein together with the residence and occupation of each taxable and each year thereafter on or before June first a certified list of the names of all taxables who have been added to or removed from said list during the preceding year in each and every district in the said county together with any change of residence or occupation

It shall be the duty of the several local assessors to ascertain by strict inquiry the proper name of each taxable person within his respective district the exact place of residence the taxable's present occupation and the name of the taxable's employer if any any and to state plainly written all such particulars in his assessment list

The duly authorized clerks assistants deputies and employees of said Board shall have the right of access at all times to all public offices in said county for the purpose of examining any lists of taxables on file in such office

Section 6 PREPARATION OF THE JURY ROLL It shall be the duty of said Board to meet at the seat of justice of said county at least ninety days before the first term of the court of common pleas in each and every year and thereupon to proceed with due diligence to select from the certified list of taxables of said county and not otherwise the names of persons who may be required for service as jurors in all the courts of said county for the ensuing calendar year duly qualified to serve as such in the manner hereinafter provided

Except as otherwise herein provided said Board shall place in the manner now directed by law the names of the persons so selected in the proper jury wheel which wheel shall be securely locked and safeguarded from interference and shall remain in the custody of the Board and the keys thereof in the custody of the president judge of said court

Said Board shall be the sole judge of the requirements and qualifications of any person for jury service Provided however That if before trial any party to the cause shall submit satisfactory proof to the court that any juror on the panel does not possess the necessary qualifications or is exempt from jury service the judge shall order his dismissal from the panel and the striking of his name from the jury roll

At the end of each year the Board shall ascertain the names of all persons on the jury roll during the preceding year who have served and who have been excused and the names of such as have served be omitted for the following year and those who have not served and are duly qualified to act as jurors shall again be put on the jury roll for the following year

Section 7 JURY ROLL The names of taxables so selected with their respective addresses and occupations shall in the presence of the Board be written on separate pieces or slips of paper which shall then and there be placed in a closed wheel to be provided by the county commissioners and kept in the exclusive custody of the Board securely locked sealed or otherwise guarded from intrusion and a list of all names appearing on the jury roll with their respective residences and occupations shall be certified to and filed in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of said county for preservation and public inspection One other such list shall be made out and kept in the office of said Board

The foregoing prerequisites are mandatory and in order to obtain the foregoing information the Board shall cause a reliable investigation to be made to ascertain such facts as well as the other facts relating to the qualifications of such taxable as a juror

No person other than those whose names appear on the certified list of taxables hereinbefore mentioned shall be placed upon the jury roll

The Board shall have the power to obtain in whatever manner it deems most suitable the information required in the performance of its duties hereunder and for this purpose the jury clerk in person or by deputy may visit as often as necessary every house office shop building or other place within the county

The jury roll shall be of convenient form arranged alphabetically and classified as to cities boroughs and townships The jury roll shall as to each name specify age occupation office address and residence address

Section 9 EXCUSES FROM JURY SERVICE No juror shall be excused from service when drawn from the wheel except

(a) For personal incapacity by reason of illness or injury or such illness in his or her immediate family as in the opinion of the court shall require his or her attendance at home or

(b) When it shall appear that service at that particular time shall cause an exceptional hardship arising from the affairs or business of the juror or his employer

(c) The mother of a small child or children

The name of any juror excused under the provisions of clauses (a) and (b) of this section shall remain upon the jury roll and shall not be returned to the wheel but shall be set apart for service at such later date in the same or following year as said Board may deem best Any juror whose name is so set aside shall be deemed to have drawn from the jury wheel at the later date fixed for service by said Board

Section 10 DRAWING OF JURORS FROM THE WHEEL As often as directed by a judge of a court of record of said county the Board shall cause to be drawn from the jury wheel the number of names required who shall be summoned to appear before said judge at the time designated in the venire in the manner hereinafter mentioned The jury clerk personally or by his deputy or assistant in the presence of one of the members of the said Board shall draw the names from the jury wheel A record of each drawing shall be kept which shall specify the court for which the juror is drawn the name of each juror drawn together with his or her address and occupation which shall be signed by the person in charge of the drawing and the judge present

A certified copy of the record shall be delivered to the clerk of court for which the jury is drawn on the return day of the venire together with a return stating the time place and manner of serving each juror Such return shall be presumptive evidence of the fact of such service

The names of jurors drawn shall not be given to any person by the jury clerk or any employee of said Board unless authorized in writing so to do by the judge issuing the venire which order shall be preserved among the records of said Board

Any person in the employ of said Board giving any such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor in office and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars and to undergo imprisonment not to exceed one year or either or both at the discretion of the court

Section 11 CUSTODY OF WHEEL The jury clerk shall preserve the said wheel secure from all interference by others and if the said Board on any examination the members thereof may make into the condition of the said wheel and its contents shall discover that any names have been surreptitiously withdrawn therefrom or that the contents of said wheel have been in any manner tampered with it shall be evidence of a misdemeanor committed by the jury clerk and thereupon unless the Board shall be satisfied he is free from all blame on the matter it shall be the duty of said Board to bind him over to answer at the next court of quarter sessions and upon conviction thereof he shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars and to imprisonment not exceeding one year or either or both at the discretion of the court

Section 12 NOTIFICATION OF JURORS ON JURY ROLL AND AFFIDAVITS AS TO JURORS Within thirty days after the jury roll is completed the jury clerk shall cause notice to be given by mail to each of the persons whose names appear thereon

Thereafter any person shall have the right to file with the clerk of said Board an affidavit setting forth any facts relating to the qualifications or disqualifications of any person whose name appears on the jury roll and it shall be the duty of the clerk to investigate and report thereon to said Board and if any such names are drawn from the jury wheel the Board shall at that time determine whether or not the person is or is not qualified and in the event of their determining that the person is not qualified under the terms of this act the name of such juror shall be stricken from the jury roll and cast out of the wheel and another name drawn in place thereof

Thereafter any person whose name appears on the jury roll may if he or she so desires file an affidavit with the jury clerk setting up any ground of exemption or disqualification or any reason for not being called upon to serve at a particular time of the year by reason of the exigencies of his or her business or affairs If the Board determines that the person filing such affidavit is disqualified from serving or is entitled to exemption the name of such person shall be stricken from the jury roll and such name if thereafter drawn from the wheel shall be cast out If the affidavit filed requests that the person be not called to serve at a particular time of the year by reason of the exigencies of the person's business or affairs or employment the Board may in proper cases order that the name of such person if drawn from the wheel shall be set aside for jury service at such other later time in the year as will be more suitable and if the name of such person is drawn from the wheel too late in the year for service at such convenient time as the Board may determine to be right in view of the nature of the person's business or affairs the Board may relieve the juror from service for the current year the name however to be set aside for service at such time in the following year as the Board may deem best The names of all jurors so set aside for future service shall be deemed to have been drawn from the jury wheel at the later date fixed by the said Board

Section 13 SUMMONING JURORS The Board shall have the right to summon jurors in either of the following ways

(a) By having the jury clerk mail the summons by registered mail with return receipt requested

(b) By service of such summons by clerks or deputies duly appointed for the purpose such summons to be served on such persons in the manner now provided by law for the service of such summons by the sheriff of said county

(c) By causing the summons to be served by the sheriff of said county in the manner now provided by law

Said summons shall be served upon each juror at least fifteen days before the time fixed for his or her appearance

The person making the service pursuant to the provisions hereof shall make return thereof to the proper court under oath stating the time and manner of such service and the same shall be presumptive evidence of the service thereof

If a juror neglects or refuses to appear the judge shall thereupon summarily cause said person to be brought before him and punish each and every offender as contempts of court are now punishable

The names of all persons excused by the court or failing to appear shall be transmitted to the jury clerk and the slips with such names shall not be returned to the jury wheel but shall be set apart for service at such later date as the Board may direct at which date their names shall be deemed to have been drawn in accordance with the provisions thereof

Section 14 LIMITATION OF RIGHTS TO OBJECT TO JURORS No exceptions objections or challenge to any juror grand juror or any panel of jurors shall be allowed at any time because of any failure to comply with the provisions of this act unless the complaining party shall raise the question before the case has gone to trial or if raised thereafter the facts were not known before and that an actual in justice has been done as a result thereof

Section 15 OATHS The jury clerk and such assistants and deputies as shall be named by the Board shall have the power to administer oaths in any matter or thing connected with the selection and qualification of jurors or other matter relating to jury service

Any person who solicits demands or receives money or anything of value or the promise thereof from any person for securing the selection of any person as a juror or for the purpose of excusing any person from jury service or who being a jury clerk deputy or assistant jury clerk or employee of the Board unlawfully tampers with any juror roll jury wheel jury ballot or jury list with the intent of preventing hindering or subverting the execution of any of the provisions of this act or with the intent of unlawfully securing the selection or excusing of any person from jury service shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding two years or both or either at the discretion of the court Thereupon if he be jury clerk deputy or assistant jury clerk in addition to the penalty imposed he shall be forthwith deprived of his said office and be thereafter incapable of holding any public office created under the laws of this Commonwealth

Section 21 WHEN ACT TAKES EFFECT This act shall take effect forthwith upon its passage and the jury wheel now in the sheriff's custody with the names of the jurors selected for the present year shall be turned over to said Board and the jurors for the current year shall be drawn therefrom until a new list is drawn by the Board appointed under the provisions hereof

Section 22 LAWS REPEALED All general or local or special acts or parts of acts relating to the custody sealing locking opening of the jury wheel or the qualification selection drawing from the jury wheels of jurors or summoning them other than as herein provided together with all general local or special acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed in so far as they relate to the County of Allegheny.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, this jury bill had a hearing for the people who were in favor of it this morning at ten thirty. It was arranged that the opponents of the bill should be heard before the Senate took action. There was some understanding and the Committee granted Mr. Brennan, of Pittsburgh, a hearing this afternoon. I am sure that they have seen the proposition in an entirely different light. I do not know whether it is the proper thing to send the bill back to Committee or to vote on it finally here tonight, but if it does come to a vote I hope that the members of the Senate will vote it down. I think it is the most outrageous thing that has ever been presented in this Senate. It is unfare, it is uncalled for. I know of no one in Allegheny County that wants it, except three or four people who are members of organizations and who have not presented the matter to the organization. The Bar Assocation of Allegheny County has not approved it and the State Bar Assocation has refused to recommend it. It is the work of a few gentlemen who feel that they would like to do something for the County. I think that this bill is known as the "Jury Joke". A lot of people who are with it and joked about it called it the "Jury Fixer". This man has unlimited powers. He really secures our juries for us and I am sure that you will not vote for a bill of this kind. If you will just look it over I am sure you will say no.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I concede to every member of this body the right to his opinion on this or any other piece of Legislation that I may offer here. I do not believe this to be an unfair bill. If I had believed it to have been, I would have never presented it. I see nothing about the bill that is unfair, unless we are to assume that the judges of the Courts of Common Pleas of Allegheny County are unfair. Under the present law there are two jury commissioners in Allegheny county, one representing the Republican party and one representing the Democratic or minority party. These men are paid $1200.00 a year. I have never felt that there was anything wrong with these men or anything dishonest in their actions and have no fault to find with them. They are permitted, each of them, to select one third of the number that go into the jury wheel and the judges of the Court of Common Pleas are permitted to select the other one third. It has been the custom for the different jury commissioners to permit the Republican committeemen and the Democratic committeemen to furnish them with the names to put in the jury wheel, and certainly I have never had anything to do that was connected with the jury, and that makes this in no way a personal matter to me, but it has been stated that only a few people want this bill and I do not think that is a fair statement. This bill was brought to me by Lee Beatty, an attorney in the city of Pittsburgh, who drew the bill, and who I believe every one respects as a high class lawyer. He recently received an appointment to the District Court of the Western District of Pennsylvania as a United States Judge. He was accompanied when he called upon me, by Mr. Frank McGirr, who is now president of the State Bar Association, and by Mr. W. L. Dalzell, who is an ex-president of the State Bar Association. Mr. Beatty rather prepared the bill and submitted it to these men and a number of other lawyers and they thought it was a good fair bill. Many of you men know George Alter, and know whether he would be connected with anything that is unfair or not, and I want to read to you what he says about the bill:

"There is no doubt of our need of a better system, and I think the plan provided for in your bill would work well. It is better (because more simple) than the one I introduced at the instance of our Bar Association, in 1911, and which passed the House but failed in the Senate. If you can secure the enactment of this legislation, I think you will have rendered a distinct public service."

I would also like to read to you what Thomas Patterson says about the bill and about the conditions:

"The conditions in regard to the selection of jurors in Allegheny County have been very bad. This bill is a step in the right direction, taken the matter out of politics and making it a matter subject to judicial control. I greatly hope that the bill will be favorable considered."

Mr. Beatty says that he drew this bill "for the purpose of carrying out a needed improvement in the method of selecting jurors in Allegheny County. The agitation for an improvement of this sort has been long and inconsistent and this bill has been endorsed generally by those persons who are desirous of having an improvement in the jury system for the purpose of securing an honest and impartial trial of issues of fact.

"All partisanship, political or otherwise, must be eliminated from the selection of jurors if our jury system is to be preserved. The files of the Bar Association of this County show that as early as the year 1884 this subject was giving grave concern to the members of the Bar.

"I see no reason for any objections by anybody who is interested in securing a fair and impartial trial to the provisions of this bill and the bill was drawn up with this idea in mind and not for the purpose of giving any particular class of litigants any advantage over the other. An act of this sort is vital to a county such as Allegheny County on account of the diverse nationalities making up its population. The present law may be sufficient for counties with a smaller population and with no mixture of nationalities but it is not sufficient for the County of Allegheny.

"The Pittsburgh Post, the official Democratic organ of this county, has unhesitatingly advocated the passage of this bill. I hope the Legislature in the interest of justice and the promotion of much needed legal reform will pass this bill."

Richard W. Martin, City Soliciter of the City of Pittsburgh says:

"The method of selecting jurors in Allegheny County is entirely inadequate for the present needs and is entirely without any system or means of securing qualified jurors. Many good jurors are called from time to time but there are very many citizens of this county who are perfectly qualified to serve on jurors and are quite willing so to do from a sense of public duty who have never summoned for this service. It is just as important to have intelligent, and impartial jurors as it is to have learned and upright judges. This act will undoubtedly secure a better and more representative class of citizens for jury service and its passage will promote the fair administration of law in this county."

I have a number of other letters from attorneys in Pittsburgh and I believe, members of the Senate, the fact that they are unanimous for this bill, should be sufficient reason for the members to pass it and pass it at this time.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, The proceedings on this bill before the committee have been somewhat irregular. The proponents of the bill were heard one day and the bill reported out and the opponents the next day. I feel quite confident in saying that if the two sides to the bill had been heard before the committee that the bill would never have been reported out of committee. This would establish a new method of selecting jurors in the County of Allegheny. Justice is justice and what is justice in the County of Allegheny should be justice in any other county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Nothing whatever has been pointed out to prove why a separate and distant method of selecting jurors should be established in the County of Allegheny. Our courts are fundimentally established upon two separate and distinct parts, the Court, consisting of the Judge on the bench, and the jury. The jurors are the judges of the law and the facts in the case. They are supposed to listen to the instructions of the court and receive the law from the court, but they are to be entirely independent and free from all influences of the court whatsoever in arriving at their conclusions as to what the facts are in the case, and regardless of what the court instructs the jury to be the law, the jury is the final judge of the law. This bill provides that in the County of Allegheny, the President Judge shall appoint three other members of the Court of Common Pleas, who with him shall constitute a Board of Jury Commissioners, putting the entire method and system of selecting jurors in the County of Allegheny in the control of the President Judge. These four judges shall appoint a clerk to go all through Allegheny County with the most extreme power to appoint deputies and assistants and clerks and investigators with the right to go to every home in the county of Allegheny and investigate every voter as to whether or not he is qualified to serve as a juror. This bill vitally discriminates so far as the qualifications of jurors are concerned. Certainly the qualifications of jurors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should be uniform. This bill provides that a juror cannot be less than 21 years of age and no more than 70. If nobody is qualified beyond the age of 70 years in the County of Allegheny to serve as a juror then nobody beyond the age of 70 years is qualified in any other county of the Commonwealth, and to me that is a most absurd proposition to write into the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that no individual beyond the age of 70 years can serve as a juror. It provides a string of qualifications of a juror all entirely different and distinct from the qualifications of jurors in any other part of the State. It assigns grounds on which jurors may be excused from serving on the jury. Every individual in every other county of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should have the same grounds on which to be excused as a juror as the people of the County of Allegheny have. It is a discriminating, special legislative act, giving to the people of Allegheny County, between the ages of 21 and 70, certain privileges and rights under which they may be excused from serving on the jury.

Mr. President, I think it is a most vital principle that a juror can remain entirely free and independent from the influences of the Court and if it becomes an established fact and known to the voters of the county that whether or not they shall be permitted in the future to serve on the jury rests within the power of the Court, they will at all times be amendable to the influences of the Court, and they sit there and listen and watch with eyes and ears open to see and to hear what the Court indicates that the verdict should be, in its opinion, and they will be just as anxious to follow the instructions of the Court and to render the verdict that they believe the court wants, regardless of what they themselevs think is right and proper, as I have seen, certain individuals do in listening to the voice of authorities higher up in Departments of the Government. Let us not write into the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania anything to the effect which will make jurors sitting there sworn to try the case according to the evidence as it is presented forget all about them, and wait until the Court charges the jury and then find out what they think the Court wants, and render a verdict according to the dictates of the Court.

Mr. President, I thoroughly agree with what Senator Harris has said. This, in my opinion, is a bad piece of legislation. Every lawyer when he loses a case thinks that we ought to have a new jury system. I have heard that, I have experienced that, and if you make this the law of Allegheny County, the same lawyers that are today asking to have this law passed, when they try cases and lose them, will come back and want a new jury system again Let us quit changing things unless we are absolutely convinced that the changes are improvements. Let us stand by the old landmarks that have been established and handed down to us from time immorial until we have something that we know is an improvement on established conditions. The Courts of this Commonwealth are at the foundation of our rights and our liberties and we ought not to tamper with these things because some modern day theorist and reformer thinks that a change is due, and I sincerely hope and trust that the Senate will vote down this bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am regretful that a division of Allegheny County has occured tonight, because I have great respect for the Senators who are opposing each other in this bill, but I would be untrue to my convictions and untrue to myself were I not to take a stand for this bill. It seems to me that the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, has made an argument without the facts in his possession. I do not think that he has any right to come to the floor of this Senate and indict the judgment of a majority of the members of the Allegheny County Bar and particularly the high grade men whose letters were read by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield. There is not a higher grade lawyer in Allegheny County than Thomas Patterson, there is not a man who is the superior in Allegheny County as a prosecutor than Richard Martin. There is not a man more respected than William Dalzell, ex-president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association or Mr. McGirr, president of the Bar Association of Pennsylvania who was in my office together with Mr. Beatty, in the interest of this bill. It is true that Mr. Beatty was offered a District Judgeship in Western Pennsylvania and refused it. The papers of the County of Allegheny are for this bill, to a finish. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, talks about sticking to the landmarks, but when a panel of a jury is exhausted and when the authorities of the Court are compelled to step out of the Court Room and gather unto themselves men who, it is said were planted without the court house door and they are drawn to fill the jury box to try a man, who, I believe, was as guilty as hell of murder—and when that man is acquitted by a planted jury—and I sincerely believe it is so, it is time, gentlemen of the Senate, that the landmarks of the jury system should be abandoned and time that there should be a change in the Jury System. If Allegheny County has the courage to lead the way for the other sixty-six counties of the State of Pennsylvania, I say to you that this bill merits the support of this Senate. It merits the support from the standpoint of the courage of the men who belong to the Bar of Allegheny, who have put forth an effort to pass this bill, through Senator Mansfield's leadership, and it is time gentlemen, that the landmarks should be blotted out. The Senator from Lehigh comes to the floor of the Senate without the facts, he has come to this floor and argued this bill from theory and not from facts as they exist in our County. I say to you with all my heart that the papers in the County of Allegheny, the Civic Associations of the County of Allegheny and a very large majority of the Bar Association of the County of Allegheny, will be very glad to see this bill passed, and a majority of the people of Allegheny County too.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, the way to acquire the facts and learn what the facts in the case are, is to hear both sides of the case. I attended the meetings of this committee, I heard both sides of the case and I read the bill. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, was there yesterday and he heard one side but he was not there today and he did not hear the other side. He is one of those prejudiced, one-sided, determiners of facts, who prejudge a case and make up their minds in advance and do not care what the facts are, and they do not care what the facts are. I ascertained the facts in this case by hearing the two sides and by studying the bill and he only heard one.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I inform the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, that I have lived in Allegheny County for almost 25 years, and I have gathered the facts through all those years. The Senator listened to arguments from two men and he means to come in and tell this Senate that he has gathered the evidence where it has taken another man 25 years to gather the evidence living in the county where the conditions complained of exist. Now then if that is good evidence, if that is good logic, follow the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz. He said that the report on this bill was a little out of the ordinary, that only one side was heard and then the bill was reported out. May I inform the Senator that the gentleman from Pittsburgh who asked for a hearing was accorded that hearing by the courtesy of the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee and the gentleman was called to Lancaster or somewhere else and he could not here, on account of the fact that we are drawing to a close here he asked that the bill be put out and the courtesy be extended to the gentleman to be heard on Wednesday afternoon. I do not indeed, sir, need to hear that argument, I know the facts, I do not need to go to that hearing. I might have been there, had I not been engaged on some other work of the Senate; I again assure the Senate that I did not need to go there to learn the facts, as I understand them and have learned them over a period of a quarter of a century.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, when my good friend and colleague, Senator Barr, has said that his experience has covered 25 years, I want to say that my experience in the County of Allegheny has been all my life, 51 years. There is just one thing more I want to say. This very bill, with a very slight change, was defeated in the House not more than three or four weeks ago.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, the change that was made in this bill was this: The bill that was presented in the House provided that the jury clerk be paid a salary of $7500 a year. The bill now provides that the salary shall be fixed by the Salary Board of Allegheny County. The argument that was presented against this bill in the House was the $7500 salary.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, ordinarily I do not interest myself in legislation that does not refer to my district. This bill applies only to the County of Allegheny and I also say that it is with considerable regret that I am obliged to oppose tonight because it is the first time this session that I have had occassion to vote against a bill presented to this body by my good friend and colleague, Senator Mansfield. I must oppose this bill, however, because I am convinced that it is wrong. I think I can speak with some little authority from the standpoint that I earn my living practicing law, and I, of necessity, in order to earn that living, must have some knowledge of the jury system. I might say further, gentlemen of the Senate, that I practice law right next door to Allegheny County, and I will say to you further that I have tried many cases in the courts of Allegheny County. I do not believe the jury system in Allegheny County is bad and I say that to you in the face of the fact that I never won a case in the Allegheny County courts yet. I have been licked every time, but I have taken my medicine and have not complained about the iniquity of the jury system, because I have a further reason for opposing the bill. I am a member of the State Bar Association, I attend almost all of its meetings. Many times within the years that I have been a member of that Association proposals have been made to it that various changes in our present jury system should be endorsed by that Association and on every occasion it has denied such requests. I have another reason for voting against the bill. The Bar Association of my own county had a meeting within the last month and passed a resolution deploring changes in the present jury system of the state and asked me to oppose such proposed changes. I am willing to admit that the jury system is not perfect but I say to you as a lawyer and a student of legal procedure that it is by far the best system that we have been able to provide for the disposition of differences between men and the fact that it has survived without change for many hundreds of years is proof that we have not been able to devise a better system. I have no desire to go into the intricacies of this bill. It is an absolute turnover of our present system of selecting jurors. We have no need for it in Beaver County, or in Lawrence County. Our Bar is opposed to it. My experience in the courts of Allegheny County has led me to believe there is no need for it there. I have had experience with the jurors in Allegheny County and I believe them to be as honest and capable as the jurors in other counties of this Commonwealth. There may have been instances in which bad men have been selected on juries. There may have been instances such as have been told you by my good friend, Senator Barr, of talesmen being picked up in the corridors of the Court House who were not unprejudiced and who were not of an open mind, and I say to you that that condition exists everywhere, every lawyer regrets very much to see the exhaustion of the jury panel and being forced to the neecessity of picking up talesmen to try his cases, and it is a fact that cannot always be prevented, though from the lawyer's standpoint it only happens very occasionally, because as a student of legal procedure, I am opposed to changes such as contemplated by this bill in our system and I am obliged to oppose this bill, much as I regret to oppose Senator Mansfield, but my individual judgment is backed up by the request of my Bar Association at home and I also take this stand because of the refusal of the Pennsylvania Bar Association to endorse it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1073, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and one and sections three hundred six and three hundred and seven as amended of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an electric schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder"

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred and one of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 301 When employer and employe shall by agreement either express or implied as hereinafter provided the provisions of article three of this act compensation for personal injury to or for the death of such employe in the course of his employment shall be made in all cases by the employer regard to negligence according to the schedule contained in sections three hundred and six and three hundred and seven of this article provided that no compensation shall be made when the injury or death be intentionally self-inflicted but the burden of proof of such fact shall be upon the employer

The terms "injury" and "personal injury" as used in this act shall be construed to mean only violence to the physical structure of the body and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom and wherever death is mentioned as a cause for compensation under this act it shall mean only death resulting from such violence and its resultant effects and occuring within three hundred weeks after the accident the term "injury" in the course of his employment" as used in this article shall not include an injury caused by an act of a third person intended to injure the employe because of reasons personal to him and not directed against him as an employe or because of his employment but shall include all other injuries sustained while the employe is actually engaged in the furtherance of the business or affairs of the employer's premises or elsewhere and shall include all injuries caused by the condition of the premises or by the operation of the employer's business or affairs thereon sustained by the employe who though not so engaged is injured upon the premises occupied by or under the control of the employer or upon which the empolyer's business or affairs are being carried on the employe's presence being required by the nature of his employment

Working in violation of any of the laws of this Commonweath shall not defeat the right of an employe to compensation under the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, page 3, line 5, by striking out "empolye" and inserting in lieu thereof "employe"

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further amendment and further consideration.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President this bill had a hearing yesterday afternoon by the Judiciary General Committee of the House. It was reported out, agreed to unanimously, and reported out by the Chairman of the Committee. The purpose of this motion to recommit is to delay and to kill the bill. I do not think that a vote ought to be taken on it.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President this particular bill has been under consideration for a long time. There was much opposition to the bill as originally presented to the Senate. It went too far. Most of the Senators thought it went too far. After a number of hearings we had hearing after hearing on this bill, It was considered in committee the other day and took it up with the Judiciary General Committee section by section, almost word for word, and the bill as it now appears on the calendar, with the slight changes that were made here this evening, was practically agreed upon by everybody, and the impression was left that we had agreed that the bill should now go on its regular course in this Senate. We are nearing the close of the Senate and any delay here would mean that this bill would not have a fair chance of getting through. It seems to me that after those deliberations and the practical agreement, that it should go on its way. Is is unfair to ask that this bill be returned to the Judiciary Committee at this time. There can be no other purpose, it seems to me, except to delay and defeat this bill in a sort of surreptitious way rather than stand out here in the open and vote for or against it as men ought to vote on a proposition of this kind. If it is to be defeated let us defeat it on the Senate floor and not be chasing it from pillar to post, and have these men who are interested in the bill kept at Harrisburg, as they have been all during this entire session, and at this late hour undertake to defeat this bill in this way. I was not in favor of the original bill as it was first introduced, I thought it went too far, but it seems to me, while therewas no written agreement, and a bond was not signed, or anything of that sort, yet the general impression, I think, by all those who were present at the last meeting of the Judiciary General Committee when this bill was considered and directed to be reported out, was that the bill could go forth and take its regular course and whatever would happen to it would happen, but do not in this way try to defeat the bill, delay it and get it into a jam here at the end ofthe Session and try to defeat it in an unfair way.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, by the confession of the friends of the bill themselves the bill is on the desk to-night in a very imperfect way that nobody can understand, and it is impossible by offering amendments on the floor of the Senate to make a perfect bill out of a bill as imperfect as this one is as it comes up. There are other amendments that are desired to be offered by the people who are opposed to the bill and it seems to me that the motion of the Senator from Potter is an entirely proper one and the only manner in which the bill can be corrected in an understandable form that we can have on the desk and have everybody know just what the bill provides. I hope hat the motion of the Senator from Potter will prevail.

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I wish to state for the benefit of the Senate that the amendment presented to-night is just to correct typographical errors in the bill.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I was reading the bill over as I sat here and it seems to me that the amendments that Senator Joyce offered do not cover all the errors in the bill and it looks to me as though on page 7 in lines twelve and sixteen there should be some correction, and on page eleven, line nine.

The PRESIDENT, Do I understand that the Senator is discusing the amendments which have been sent to the desk and which have not been read?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. President, I thought they had been read.

The PRESIDENT. The amendments to the first section are the only amendments that have been read.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, it seems to me that the Senator was entirely within bounds. He was merely saying that the bill was in a very incomplete condition at this time and I want to say in reply to my good friend, Senator Long, that during my service in this Senate there has been no time when a vote was taken that could not just as well have been taken in the open in this Senate as in any Committee. I do not think this bill has been considered with the thoroughness which its importance deserves. I do not think that any member of our Committee,—and I am only speaking of the members of the Judiciary General Committee, and that does not mean the majority of this Senate, who are not members of that Committee,—has any idea of how far-reaching the effect of this bill is going to be, or what it is going to cost if enacted into law, and certainly I would want, as a voter in this body, much more information than I have now before I voted for the passage of a measure of this kind, and I think it is only fair, inasmuch as we are going to be in session to-morrow, and the Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee is here,—that this bill be given the attention and consideration that its importance, in my judgment, deserves.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President. This bill has been in the House for several months and when I was present at the original hearing every phase of this bill was thoroughly discussed and resolved itself down to this,—shall the original compensation act, with its subsequent amendments, or the Act of 1915, be amended so that a workman will receive compensation after a lapse of seven instead of ten days and that compensation be fifteen dollars instead of twelve dollars per week. Mr. President, I think that is the whole truth in a nutshell, reducing in this bill the time that a man has got to be injured before he is entitled to compensation. By the Act under which we are now working a man must lie injured for ten days before he is in a position to draw any benefits and this bill reduces the time three days and increases the pay three dollars. Mr. President, I ask whether the life of a Pennsylvania Employee is worth the three dollars and three days? Everything else has advanced and we are simply giving him the benefit of time and an increase in the compensation, trying to take care of him in the proper way. Now there would be no other amendments made to this bill in any committee to any portion of it, in my judgment, that will not affect those particular items, the time and the money, and, Mr. President, the time is coming in Pennsylvania when we had better stop measuring a man's life and limb by dollars and cents. Mr. President, it is a shame and from the people of Pennsylvania, outside in the back districts, there comes no cry to change this bill or that it is to be put back into its original form, and now why talk about sending it back for amendment. Mr. President, I wish the State of Pennsylvania to have the benefit of this bill. and I would like to hear the expression of a group of men who would tell us that seven days is not sufficient time in which a man should lie injured before he is entitled to benefits and that three dolars increase is too much. Mr. President, I stand here and I know what I am talking about when I speak of labor. I stood shoulder to shoulder with them; I toiled with them. I know what they are striving for. I know what they want, and I tell you the average laboring man is interested in the inscription in every temple of Justice in this State, and all they ask is a big square deal. Pennsylvania ought to be big enough and generous enough to give it to them, and I ask the Gentlemen of the Senate to let this bill go on either to victory or defeat. We have passed the old age pension, and other bills of that kind, now can we forget the man who is blind and lame and not care anything about him? It is the duty of the Legislature to see that it is done and I believe that every man is willing to do his part. If the Gentlemen who advocate this bill being sent back to the Committee want to amend it let them amend it right here on the floor of the Senate. We will give them time to do that, to present the amendment here to-night. This bill has been here since January. There were men who were opposed to it in the original form but not one single protest has come to this bill in its present form, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, and again I tell you it is simply a change from ten days to seven days and from twelve dollars to fifteen dollars per week. I hope that the Senate will not send this bill back.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I want to correct the gentleman from York when he says this bill has been before the Senate since January. This bill was only introduced in this body on the thirtieth day of April and is not in the bill that was introduced in January, and it does have other provisions, as the members of this Senate know, than those suggested by the Senator from York.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, what I meant to say was that the original bill which really embodies the cardinal features of this bill was in the Senate in January or February and that this bill which Mr. Joyce drew up as a new bill is the successor of the first bill. But the aim is the same; it was the reduction of the time and an increase in the compensation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JOYCE and Mr. BARR. and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurs,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section of the bill read as follows:

Section 2 That section three hundred and six of said act which was amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act aproved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensattion and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compenastion thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective" and the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and sixty-six) entitled "An act to amend clause (c) section three hundred and six of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' " is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 306 The following schedule of compensation is hereby established for injuries resulting in total disability

The loss of more than one phalange of a thumb or finger shall be considered equivalent to the loss of the entire thumb or finger

For the loss of any two or more such members or the permanent loss of the use of the hand arm foot leg or eye as hereinbefore provided not constituting total disability sixty per centum of wages during the aggregate of the periods specified for each

For serious and permanent disfigurement of the head and face of such a character as to produce an unsightly appearance and such as is not usually incident to the employment sixty per centum of the wages not to exceed one hundred and fifty weeks

Unless the Board shall otherwise determine the loss of both hands or both arms or both feet or both legs or both eyes shall constitute total disability to be compensated according to the provisions of clause (a)

Amputation between the elbow and the wrist shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a hand and amputation between the knee and ankle shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a foot Amputation at or above the elbow shall be considered as the loss of an arm and amputation at or above the knee shall be considered as the loss of a leg Permanent loss of a leg Permanent loss of the use of a hand arm leg foot or eye shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of such hand arm foot leg or eye

This compensation shall not be more than fifteen dollars per week nor less than six dollars per week Provided That if the time of injury the employe receives wages less than six dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation

(d) No compensation shall be allowed for the first seven days after disability begins except as hereinafter provided in clause (e) of this section

(e) During the first thirty days after disability begins the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical and medical services medicines and supplies as and when needed unless the employe refuses to allow them to be furnished by the empolyer The cost of such service medicines and supplies shall not exceed one hundred dollars If the employer upon application made to him refuse to furnish such services medicines and supplies the employer may procure the same and shall receive from the employe the reasonable cost thereof within the above limitations In addition to the above services medicines and supplies hospital treatment services and supplies shall be furnished by the employer for the said period of thirty days The cost for such hospital treatment service and supplies shall not in any case exceed the prevailing charge in the hospital for like services to other individuals If the employe shall refuse reasonable surgical medical and hospital services medicines and supplies tendered to him by his employer he shall forfeit all right to compensation for any injury or any increase in his capacity shown to have resulted from such refusal

(f) Should the employe die as a result of the injury the period during which compensation shall be payable to his dependents under section three hundred and seven of this article shall be reduced by the period during which compensation was paid to him in his lifetime under this section of this article No reduction shall be made for the amount which may have been paid for medical and hospital services and medicines nor for the expenses of the last sickness and burial Should the employe die from some other cause than the injury the liability for compensation shall cease

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JOYCE. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 2, page 5, line 15, by removing the bracket before the word "and"; also line 25, by removing the bracket after the word "amended"; also page 6, line 12, by striking out the word "following" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "followed"; also page 7, line 12, by striking out the word "four" after "sixty"; also line 16, by striking out the word "four" after the word "sixty"; also page 11, line 7, by striking out the word "or" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "of"; also line 22, by striking out the bracket before the word "pr" and after the word "paid"; also by striking out the word "or" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "for".

Mr LONG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third, fourth and fifth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 3 That section three hundred and seven of said act which as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective" is hereby further amended to read as follows

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty-five dollars per week nor less than ten dollars per week

This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of three hundred weeks until such child reach the age of sixteen at the rate of fifteen per centum of wages if there be but one child with ten per centum additional for each additional child with a maximum of fifty per centum The board may if the best interest of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a widow or widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as herein after provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount of such minor dependent or insane or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the Board may order and direct and the Board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure application of the money received by such person

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall not apply to any accident or injury occurring prior to midnight on the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three but all such accidents and injuries shall be compensated in the manner and according to the schedule as fixed by law prior to the passage of this act

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

An Act to amend section three hundred and one and sections three hundred six and three hundred and seven as amended of an act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for determination of liability and compensation thereunder"

and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1391, as follows:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and thirty-three) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of architecture in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for the examination and registration of architects by a State Board of Examiners defining the power and duties of said board of examiners and providing penalties for the violation of this act

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and thirty-three) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of architecture in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for the examination and registration of architects by a State Board of Examiners defining the power and duties of said board of examiners and providing penalties for the violation of this act" is hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1399, as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 211.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg June 6. 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 211, entitled, "An Act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for any lawful purpose defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purposes intended providing for the payment of interest on and the redemption of such bonds by the Sinking Fund Commission and fixing the compensation of the loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth in connection therewith".

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 5, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three adjourn sine die Thursday, June fourteenth, at twelve o'clock noon.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to the resolution on which you have just heard read fixing the final date of adjournment of this session of the Assembly on June 14th, I believe that all the facts necessary to fix this date are in the possession of the House. The Rules Committee is of the opinion that we can act upon this matter now, and for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I move you that the rule requiring this resolution to be referred to the Rules Committee be suspended so that this resolution can be acted upon at this time.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as our calendar has been so advanced that we can easily get through with our business by next Thursday, the 14th of this month, I believe that we should concur in the resolution of the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILLEGE.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, several weeks ago a number of the members of the House decided they would like to have a game of baseball for the benefit of the Home for Children here in Harrisburg. About six years ago we did hold such an event over on the island, and realized somewhere between six and eight hundred dollars for the Home for the Friendless. Now the game has been advertised, the cards are out in the hall and the same will take place on next Wednesday afternoon on the island at 4o'clock. This game will be between the Democrats and the Republicans. For the benefit of the House, I have been handed a score card, and desire at this time to announce the teams. I will send it to the clerk to read, but would like every person who comes here to Harrisburg, who has been coming and who has received favors and consideration and courtesy from the members of the House that they shall take into consideration that this baseball game is for the benefit of a very worthy charity here in Harrisburg, and I ask each person to contribute their mite toward this very worthy cause. There will be no tickets sold at this time. I will ask the lady members of the House to act on that occasion as hostesses and they will have baskets for the reception of any money that people desire to contribute for the benefit of the cause. I have already spoken to Mrs. Pitts and she has promised to get in touch with the other members of the House so that we will have an organization properly formed on Wednesday, the 13th of the month. There is nothing more I can say, only this, I would ask the captains of the teams to provide themselves with some baseballs and bats and clothes, baseball suits, and appear in a regular way. Let it be a regular game. The umpires on this occasion will be the honorable Speaker of the House, Clyde Harer, and I will run around the bases a little myself. I would ask the ex-members of the Assembly, Bill Ramsey and Duncan Sinclair to perform the duties they performed in 1917 as special policeman. I will ask the clerk to read the announcement from the desk. I ask each and every man and woman to take an interest in this affair and see if we cannot make it a success. Please remember the baseball game will start at 4 o'clock.

The Clerk read the official line-up as follows:

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Albert Stevens, short stop	Howard Smith, catcher
Betts, third base	Alexander, pitcher
O'Boyle, pitcher	Bluett, catcher
Munley, catcher	Fields, pitcher

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

HOUSE BILL No. 683.

An Act making an appropriation to the Northern Tier Home Harrison Valley Potter county Pennsylvania

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

> Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out after the word "of" the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "four"; also in line 4, after the word "dollars", strike out "($3,000.)" and insert in lieu thereof "($4,000)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is an appropriation bill for a childrens' home in my county. The original request made was for $6000 and the sub-committee of the House granted an appropriation of $3000. When the bill got into the Senate, Senator Baldwin asked that this amount be increased by the sum of $1000 and I say to you that the amount is as small as it should be in that amount and I trust that the House will agree in these amendments made by the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 163.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 163, entitled:

An Act relating to the organization maintenance and operation of the Banking Department and the scope of its supervision and control over corporations partnerships unincorporated associations and individuals and the assets and liabilities thereof providing penalties for the enforcement of its provisions and repealing the Banking Department Act of nineteen hundred and nineteen with table of contents

And has appointed Messrs. Craig, Clark, and Sones a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate and that a conference committee be appointed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as such committee of conference. Messrs. Spangler, Joseph C. Marcus, and Edmonds.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTIONS.

HOUSE BILL No. 960 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1923.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 960, File Folio 7401, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the Canonsburg General Hospital Association at Canonsburg, Pennsylvania," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTIONS.

TO ADJOURN OUT OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF HONORABLE ROBERT SCOTT AMMERMAN.

Mr. DIETZ offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1923.

Whereas, the Honorable Robert Scott Ammerman, a former Member of the House of Representatives from Montour County, died on the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, after a life devoted to public service, and

Whereas, As a lawyer he rapidly rose to prominence in his home county, and commanded the respect, admiration and confidence of his neighbors, and

Whereas, In the testimony of the place he had established in their esteem, he was twice elected district attorney by the citizens of Montour County, and served as their representative in this House during the sessions of nineteen hundred and three, nineteen hundred and five, nineteen hundred and six, nineteen hundred and seven and nineteen hundred and nine, with marked credit to himself and his constituents, and

Whereas, In his death the County of Montour has sustained the loss of a prominent son, and has been deprived of the services of one always interested first in the affairs of this community, and

Whereas, There has been stricken from the roll of the former Members of this House the name of one whose experience, ability and wide knowledge was ever used and exercised for the best interests of the Commonwealth, therefore be it

Resolved, That when this House adjourns on Wednesday, the 6th day of June, it adjourns out of respect to the memory of the Honorable Robert Scott Ammerman, and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the journal of the House, and a copy thereof be forwarded to his family.

RELATIVE TO SCARCITY OF FARM LABOR.

Mr. RINN offered the following resolution, which was read and laid over under the rules for printing:

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1923.

Whereas, There is a serious scarcity in farm labor throughout the Nation, and a continuous movement away from the farm to the city, which is evidenced by the number of vacant farms which may be found in most every county of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Said movement is due largely to the cheap prices obtainable for farm products, the heavy taxes imposed upon farm lands, and the high prices required to be paid to labor to compete with wages paid in industries, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That a commission is hereby created to be composed of three Senators to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House which shall consider ways and means which will in some measure aid and assist in alleviating the unfavorable conditions facing the farming interests of the State and assure farmers of reasonable profits for their labors. The Commission shall hold such hearings in different parts of the Commonwealth as may be deemed necessary and shall make a report to the Session of the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three containing such recommendations for legislation as may be deemed advisable.

Resolved, That an item not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) shall be inserted in the general appropriation bill to pay the expenses of the commission.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1058, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities and boroughs to appropriate moneys to organizations of veterans to assist in paying rent

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That each city and borough may by a two-thirds vote of the council appropriate money to any incorporated camp or post of veterans of any war in which the United States was engaged to be used in the payment of the rent of any building or room or rooms in which such camp or post has its regular meetings

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsitent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.
(Special Order)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the Special Order fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1618 (Senate Bill No. 586), entitled:

An Act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and certain existing new Administrative Departments Boards Commissions and officers abolishing combining changing the names of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative Departments Boards Commissions Bureaus Divisions offices and Agencies defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several adminstrative Departments Boards and Commissions fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administration officers of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain Departments Boards and Commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the Deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain Departments and Commissions shall be determined

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, before the bill was read I attempted to object to the reading of this bill because it is not properly on the calendar. The bill as it went from this House for reprinting, on page 62, line 7, I am referring now to the bill as it went for the reprint, on page 68 of the last reprint, lines 6 and 7, are as follows: "The Commission shall annually elect a chairman and a secretary". The file at the present time that is on the record has in it: "The Commission shall annually elect a president and", and the words "a secretary" as in the bill when it was reported from this House for printing are not in the bill. The bill is, therefore, not properly upon the record and I object to the reading and further proceeding on the bill.

The SPEAKER. On what page is that?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Page 62, line 7.

Mr. SPEAKER. And what was the file folio on second reading?

Mr. ALEXANDER. 3875.

RECESS.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now take a recess for 30 minutes, after which the special order shall be resumed.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion.

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it

Whereupon a division was called for, and 131 members, or more than a majority of the House, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The time of the recess having expired, the House will be in order.

The business before the House is the special order of the day, House Bill 1618 (Senate Bill 586).

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution:

The resolution was read as follows:

"Resolved that the House of Representatives resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of the consideration of the special amendment herewith.

Amendment to Senate Bill 586: Amend page 69 by striking out line 11 thereof as it appears on file folio 3875 and so as to accord with the reprint thereof, file folio 4687 at page 62."

On the question,
Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ALEXANDER. As this bill is not upon the files there is nothing before this House to consider. This bill must be properly printed. It being erroneously printed, it is not upon the files and therefore not being before us at this time it is not proper for us to consider it, either in a motion to go into a Committee of the Whole or any action whatever concerning the same until it is properly upon these files.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, is not well taken.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, has appealed from the decision of the Chair, on the decision on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander. The Chair requests the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, to take the chair pending the appeal.

MR. FLYNN IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is, shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House.

On the question,

Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to request if the gentleman from Delaware will not state clearly just what is the ground for his objection to the Speaker's ruling.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia bear with me as I have borne with him and his advisors?

Mr. EDMONDS. Certainly, I have borne with the gentleman for a good many years and I am glad to do it for a few minutes more.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Chairman, according to the constitution of Pennsylvania, article 3, section 1, "No law shall be passed except by bill and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either House as to change its original purpose." Section 2, "No bill shall be considered, unless referred to a committeee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the members." This bill has not been printed. We might just as well at the present time have some chapter of the Bible before use and call that Senate Bill 586, because Senate Bill 586 is not in this book. I should think further than that instead of me doing a disfavor or throwing a monkey wrench into the machinery, as somebody has talked about, I think if these wise men and Chaldeans around here who have been examining the thing and want to get it straight and take out a few of the objections, they would not take such a chance as this, and I think I am doing them a favor to a certain extent by insisting that the rules of this House, to wit, and above all, that thing which we are preached to obey and follow, the Constitution of this Commonwealth, should be at least lived up to, not only to the letter but in the spirit. This House, I don't think in these days is going to leave that Constitution and the rules of this House to roughly pass through a bill as important as this is, even if the coronation is postponed for a day, to put this monarchy into existence, that the king may be crowned on noon of today. I say even for that small affair I think the people who are interested in this bill should go far enough to see whether it is properly and legitimately passed. I object to it and I have raised the exception and it is my contention that the bill at this time is not properly before this House.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that the gentleman from Delaware always deserves our thanks for directing our attention to ways by which procedure may be improved, but I think emphatically that he has misconceived the purpose of the Constitution, "No law shall be passed except by bill and no bill shall be so altered or amended in its passage through either house as to change its original purpose." What is the bill therein referred to? Obviously this bill that lies upon the Speaker's desk, upon which the certificate goes on the action of the House, which the Speaker himself signs in testimony of the fact that the House has passed it, and it goes from the Speaker's desk to the Governor for his signature. That is the bill. Now, then comes the Constitution there, "No bill shall be considered unless referred to Committee, returned therefrom and printed for the use of the members." What does that mean? That copies of the bill are printed and placed in our files for our convenience, for the purpose of examining the thing. Does that mean, therefore, that if the printed copy has a mistake in spelling there is no bill before the House? Heaven forbid! Last night we passed the Emergency Profits Tax Bill. There were mistakes in spelling the words estate and imposed. Does that mean we had no bill before us last night? If the construction of the gentleman from Delaware is accepted, it means that every time there is a mistake in spelling, a typographical error on the part of the printer, there is no bill before the House. That, to my mind, is absurd, in place of becoming a legislative assembly we would merely become a debating society, for the purpose of illustrating to the whole world the ingenuity and the brightness of the individual members. We are here to pass laws. The laws we have considered are the laws which lie upon the Speaker's desk. Errors in the matter of printing are errors within the judgment of the House to be corrected, and if I understand the motion of the gentleman from Delaware, it is an intention to consider in the House an amendment which will make the copy as it lies upon the Speaker's desk of the House of Representatives correspond with the printed copy we have on our files. Under those circumstances what possible objection can there be to it. It seems to me, Mr. Chairman, that we should vote to sustain the Speaker in this matter.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker. I always dislike very much to apeal from a decision of the Speaker of this House and I want to say in respect to the present Speaker that it givec me great displeasure to be obliged to do it. No man has been ever fairer to the House, more honorable, more conscientious than he is. He has my highest regard and kindest respect, but we are here as a legislative body, we are here to pass laws. The gentleman from Philadelphia surprises me somewhat. Of course, I recognize the fact that he is a lawyer and he can pick the niceties, he can paint his picture with all the beauty that nature could picture for herself. He speaks about some bill of his last night permitted to go through because it was misspelled. No man under the sun, if he looks for a word "and" and it is spelled "ande" does not know what that means, but I want to ask you who under the sun in this House can tell from looking at this bill what should be in that line. I want to ask if the gentleman's argument stands any weight at all, if it has the least, and this is with all respect to my friend from Philadelphia whom I think a lot of, but if his argument has any weight or is entitled to any merit at all, then all you need in a bill is the title of it, the first paragraph, and maybe not that, and the last paragraph and they might leave out the whole bill besides that and the bill would still be before you. I want to ask you if you don't think it was a wise consideration in that article of the Constitution if the interpretation of the law as laid down by my friend from Philadelphia is correct, and we could go through and pass bills in that way, I want to ask you if you don't think that this Constitution of ours and the gentlemen who wrote it, irrespective of the objections that are being made against it daily if they were not pretty far sighted and far-seeing when they had any idea that any man would attempt to pass a bill in this House that was not before them, and was not printed, and they didn't know what it was. I say, and I contend, not for the purpose of raising objections, but in the name of right, in the name of everything that is spelled that way, I ask this House to put at the present time, your stamp of disapproval upon any such legislation as that, or any interpretation as this, and to say that before the bill is here, because unless that bill is printed as it should be that bill is not here, and as I said before you might take the first chapter of Genesis and read that and call it 586 just as well as you can call this thing that is on our file now, and I say the bill that is on the file at the Speakers desk at the present time is not sufficient. The bill on his desk is not printed except as the print we have here and the Constitution provides that that shall be printed and for use on your desk. What is the use of these bills? What is the use in having all this expense that you see with the big piles before you if it was no for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Constitution? Now, are you, with all due respect to the Speaker, are you going to give your sanction at the present time to a bill so important as this to simply say, "Well, we don't care even if the form is not carried out, especially if the letter is not carried out?" I still insist upon it and I propose to fight it to the bitter end, that this bill is not before this House and therefore we have nothing to go into the Committee of the Whole and therefore this House has nothing to act upon.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the question before this House is not a question of the merits of this bill. It is a question of Parliamentary procedure. The gentleman from Delaware is a very capable lawyer and has often, I presume, been placed in very tight pinches, and I believe that the gentleman from Delawae is in an exceedingly tight pinch at the present time when he cites articles of the Constitution to sustain his case. The question as to this bill's being upon the files, it strikes me is a question that will allow of no argument. The bill is unquestionably upon the files which correspond in number and in file folio. If there is an error in the bill that is no reason for the contention that the bill is not properly upon the files and cannot be considered at this time. At least that is my view of the case, and the bill being on the files, there can be no question why the House shall not be permitted to amend the bill at this time, following the course that has been suggested by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar. If the gentleman can cite any authorities for his contention why this bill is not on the files, I should be greatly obliged to him if he would submit the same to the House.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not of a legal mind, but my mind reverts back to 1917 while I was a member of the House at that time. It happened that at 5 minutes of 12 before this House adjourned, a question similar to this, a mis-print in the bill, something had been stricken out in the 11th hour, and a filibuster in this House took place, and the House did not adjourn until 2:30 the following morning. I believe the decision of the Chair at that time was that the bill must be reprinted, regardless of the question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia in regard to constitutionality. We have referred from time to time to previous rulings in this House and I am going to ask of the Speaker presiding at this time for a little information regarding that ruling of Speaker Spangler at that time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the question before the House at this time is whether or not the bill under consideration is properly upon the files of the members. It has nothing to do with the question of a reprint.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker that very question was also asked at that time. The bill was not on the files in 1917.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now rules that the bill is properly on the files of the members.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I am referring now to the decision of the House, rules of the House on page 1286, at the foot of the page, "Bills not properly before the House until printed and on the files of members. On a motion to recommit a House Bill to Committee, the point of order was raised that this bill is not the property of the House, as it has not been printed, and it is not on the calendar or the files of the House and under the Rules of the House cannot be recommitted at this time." That being the case, the bill not being before the House, and not being recommitted, that is the same in the analysis, that is absolutely the same as this question here.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Delaware?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Does the gentleman from Delaware, gazing as he does at his file folio 4687, does he say as a matter of fact that Senate Bill 586 has not been printed?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I say that it is not on our files.

Mr. EDMONDS. Has the gentleman nothing to correspond with 4687, which is on my file?

Mr. ALEXANDER. No sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. Do you mean to say there is no paper corresponding to my paper on your desk?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I cannot see what your paper is, but I take it for granted they are all the same. They are all I suppose the same, the one on the Speaker's desk, yours, and every member of this House, and that bill does not have this line in it and notwithstanding the figures show it is 586, Senate Bill, and notwithstanding it shows 4687 on the file folio, it is not in fact the bill which should be on these files.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then if I understand the gentleman from Delaware, it is his point of view that if a printer's slug is omitted in the reprinting of the bill, that therefore the bill has not been printed?

Mr. ALEXANDER. It is my opinion that if that bill is not printed in toto, every letter and every word of it, that bill is not on our file, and further than that, as I said before; in further answer, pardon me if I am not correct about that, then you can leave every paragraph in this bill out. There apparently have been a number of paragraphs left out of it as it stands on this record at the present time, according to the appearance of the bill and therefore it is not before us at this time.

Thhe SPEAKER. May the Chair make a suggestion for the purpose of clarifying this situation? The question before the House is a resolution to go into a Committee of the Whole on which the gentleman from Delaware has appealed from the decision on the question of the bill's not being properly before the House. This motion in effect is the same as recommitting the bill to a committee, then, if the contention of the gentleman from Delaware is correct, the bill could not even be recommitted to the Committee for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Not until it is on the files, that is my contention and I have cited that decision to show it.

Mr. HARER. May I read a decision of the House in Smull's handbook on page 1287?

The SPEAKER. Proceed.

Mr. HARER. "A Senate bill was called up from the Final Passage Postponed calendar for consideration. The point of order was raised that there are no calendars or file folio of bills on the desks of the members, therefore, we cannot conduct legislative business. The Speaker, Pro Tempore, decided the point of order well taken. An appeal was taken from the decision of the Chair. The House reversed the ruling of the Speaker, Pro Tempore."

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that personally I am very much indebted to the gentleman from Delaware for the absolute fairness with which he has stated his position. His position is that we cannot proceed to do business with a bill unless the printed copy on the desk of the members is letter perfect. Now, I believe, Mr. Speaker, that is a nonsensical point of view to take. It practically means that for every mis-print we can have the business of the House stopped in just the way it has been stopped this day. I submit there is nothing in the law or in the Constitution or in common sense that justifies that point of view. If the bill is before us, then the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny is well taken. The gentleman from Delaware has made a point of order against it, the Speaker has ruled against the point of order, and it seems to me clearly that in the interest of the business of the House we ought to sustain the Speaker.

On the question recurring.

Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Alexander and Mr. Rhodes and

SPEAKER GOODNOUGH IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker. I withdraw my resolution to go into the Committee of the whole.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I may say that I have agreed to give the opposition all the objections I have at the present time, providing this bill is properly reprinted, properly amended and properly upon our files in proper order. That is all I am asking for.

SPECIAL ORDER CONTINUED.

Mr McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this special order be continued until 12 o'clock noon tomorrow, and that in the meantime the bill be printed and placed upon the desks of the members.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I say just a word in connection with the motion that has just been made? The members of the House will know that the gentleman from Delaware said there were sections omitted from the bill. If it is merely the matter of the correction of the spelling of a word, we could do something in the Committee of the Whole, but if there have been sections omitted in the print, that ought to be corrected, and that is the reason why this arrangement, mutually satisfactory to everyone, has been entered into.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

Alexander,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. VAN ALEN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 225, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand one hundred and seventy-three) entitled "An act constituting a commission to make an investigation of the battlefields of France and Belgium and to select points for the erection of monuments and markers of appropriate design to commemorate the achievements of Pennsylvania soldiers during the World War defining the powers and duties of the commission and making an appropriation" continuing said commission providing for the erection of certain memorials in France and Belgium and making an appropriation.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RETURNING HOUSE BILL No. 225 TO GOVERNOR WITHOUT AMENDMENT.

Mr. VAN ALEN. offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, if the Senate Concur, that House Bill No. 225 which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL RECALLED.

Mr. GOLDER asked and obtained unanimous consent to recall House Bill No. 1751, (Senate Bill No. 1005), which was reported this morning, for the purpose of a correction.

RESOLUTION No. 18.

Miss MacKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 18, file folio 7677.

The resolution was read as follows:

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that

Whereas the number of officers and employes of the House of Representatives as fixed by an Act of the General Assembly approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen entitled "An act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment term of office and manner of filling vacancies" has provided for employes greatly in excess of the number actually required to properly perform the duties imposed upon them and

Whereas a considerable number of such employes not being needed to assist in the performance of said duties have been giving little or no time in the service for which they have been appointed and

Whereas the same has resulted in the useless and needless expenditures of money and a less number of employes could properly and efficiently perform all the duties necessarily required

Therefore be it resolved that the members of the House of Representatives at the Session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three recommend to the members of the Session of one thousand nine hundred twenty-five that said Act of Assembly be amended to decrease the number of said employes in order that said useless extravagence and the unwarranted expenditure of the State funds be eliminated

And be if further resolved that it is hereby recommended to the House of Representatives for the Session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five that the number of officers and employes be fixed as follows

Six Assistant Sergeants-at-Arms two messengers four Pasters and Folders five Clerks to committees five Custodians of the Hall of the House and Committee Rooms and Wash Rooms and Basement three Transcribing Clerks and one Desk Clerk which said number of employes together with the other officers and employes as designated by said Act of Assembly are ample and sufficient to properly and efficiently serve the House of Representatives and to perform all the duties required of them

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that Resolution No. 18 be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Miss MacKINNEY. The resolution carries no provisions in it whatsoever for an appropriation. Why should it be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. There is no good reason why it should be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. It has been on your files for about two weeks, and you have had plenty of time to consider it. It has been not only discussed in the House, but it has been discussed in all parts of the State. I think you know and I know, as the representatives of our particular districts, that your people at home feel that economy should begin in the House. We are taxing the people of the Stat in order to carry on the State government, and they feel that they are laying burdens upon them and that we should begin economy here at home. Suggestions for the increasing of the number of employees have come from people who serve in that capacity and who have had the experience, and who have reported to their people at home that this service could be rendered to the House by a much less number than is now on our payroll. Therefore, the recommendation is made to the next session of the Legislature that they decrease the number of employees. The reason a bill was not introduced into the House was because before the information had come to us, or at the time it had come to us, the limitation had been placed upon us for the introduction of any new bills. Therefore it was impossible to do anything at this session. I trust that you will vote this motion down. I at least would like to have the House go on record because your people at home will not know if you stand for economy or if you are extravagant in the House and tax them to pay the bills.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am as much in favor of economy as any member of this body, but it seems to me that this resolution has all the earmarks of a big piece of grandstand play. If there was any sincerity in a resolution of this kind, I would like to know why it was not brought here in the beginning of the session instead of at the end of the session. We know that the Legislature of 1925 is not bound by any action of the present Legislature, and to come here at this time in the session, in the closing days, and to pass a resolution of this kind, I think is merely writing us down as playing in a big piece of grandstand play before the people of Pennsylvania. I am, therefor, not in favor of this resolution at this time. As I said before, I believe in economy, but I believe a resolution of this kind should come in the beginning of the session, and not at the end of the session.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret very much to oppose a resolution of my colleague and friend, Miss MacKinney, but I would have to do that if I am to be true to my platform. I didn't have very much of a platform to run upon, but one of the planks in my platform was that I was not coming down here, if elected to the House, to clean the Legislature. As one woman, I wish to go on record as not being for the action of Miss MacKinney in attempting to do what looks to me like housecleaning. There are now in the Legislature a great many things prehaps, that are not right, but there are things that are not right in everybody's home, and everybody's lives, and for my part I am getting tired of the word "efficiency." I think we have a little too much efficiency, and I think we need a little more humane kindness. I for one, am not for making any changes in the matter of employees of the Legislature, and I am opposed to this resolution.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I have been in touch with some af the clerks of this House and I want to say to you that it has almost been impossible for me to have a letter written in this House. Some of the members have had as high as 125 letters written by the stenographers in this House in one week. I have tried to relieve them by just working one finger on my own typewriter. Let me say to you there have been a great many reformers coming to this House. Let me say last night we were sitting here and they were working 16 hours a day trying to take down the dictation of the members of this House, and due to the fact of the legislative days they were charged up with one day's employment. I want to say to you that I have respect for this boy who is now taking down my dictation, and I am going to make it short, that if the lady would only understand how much work this boy has got to do, she would not attempt to put through this resolution at this rtime. This work and these boys who are taking down the notes in this House are going to work from now until the 14th of this month. Let us have some consideration; let us have some consideration for the employees of this House. They were reduced in numbers in the beginning of this session. They were reduced down to the very lowest mark that we could reduce them, and I want to congratulate now the men and women employed in this House for the efficient work they have done in this Assembly; and in honor and in protection of the integrity of these boys and these women who have worked, I think rather than introducing a resolution insulting them, we should offer them a vote of thanks for the great work they have done. Let the session of 1925 take care of itself. We will find just as great a representative body in 1925 as we are. I have no hesitancy in saying that the voters that will elect the 1925 legislature will show just as much intelligence in electing that Assembly as they did when they elected this crowd of men and women who are here today.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am very much surprised at my colleague, Mr. Sarig, the reformer of the House. If he had been accorded the distinguished privilege on behalf of the Democratic minority to present this resolution criticising the Republican majority, it would have been entirely another matter, but he arises here to criticise my lady colleague representing Butler county on a matter that he himself knows is in the line of absolute economy. Now, there has been much misconception concerning this resolution. There is nothing said concerning the reporters, there is nothing said concerning the stenographers. It says that the number of officers and employees of this House be fixed as follows: "6 assistant sergeant at arms, 2 messengers, 4 pasters and folders, 5 clerks to committees, 5 custodians of the hall of the House and committee rooms and wash rooms and basement, three transcribing clerks and one desk clerk, which said number of employees together with the other officers and employees as designated by said Act of Assembly are ample and sufficient to properly and efficiently serve the House of Representatives and to perform all the duties required of them." In the session of 1921, the record shows we had 137 employees in this House. Prior to the meeting of the session of 1921, a Round Robin went around this state, I did not have the privilege of signing it, but I would have been very glad to, in which we called for a reduction in the number of employees of the House of Representatives at its session of 1923. What was the result? When the committee went into session to fix the number of employees for this year how much of a reduction did they provide for? According to the records there are 134 employees in this session. There is a reduction of 3. Now, I leave it to you men and you women that the ladies did not necessarily come here to clean the House, but I admire a lady who has the courage to present a resolution calling upon us who should stand primarily for economy and who should begin that economy at our own door rather than anyone who would arise and make a captious criticism, such as the gentleman, Mr. Sarig has made; and I want to say to you that it would have been more fair and more proper on behalf of this House to have manfully and with courage gone to a vote on this resolution rather than by a Parliamentary subterfuge sent it to a committee, when you know it cannot be returned to the House in time for action, just to prevent there being a vote upon this resolution. I call upon all of you who are in favor of reducing the number of employees in this House to a basis where they ought to be, to a basis of efficiency and economy, to vote against this motion, and thereby you will be casting an equivalent vote against placing it in the hands of the Appropriation Committee, and thereby you will be in the position of voting in favor of such a resolution.

Now, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in behalf of my lady colleague, I want to say that this is not grand stand play. The reason it was not put before this House earlier in the session, was that the absolute evidence concerning the manner in which employees of this House would remain at home and draw their salary was not at hand. I want to say to you that if you want that evidence presented to you, it is at hand. If you want to know the men who were employed and paid, and who have been away and have been here but a few times this session, you can have it.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BLUMBERG. The gentleman is not speaking on the motion before the House, but rather upon the Resolution itself.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. WONER. I confess I have been speaking upon the motion, as much as any other man, but I shall yield to that ruling. The motion is that this resolution shall be referred to the Appropriations Committee, and my reason for asking you not to send it to that committee is that it ought to be given an honest to goodness consideration by every man and woman in this house by an open discussion. I hope you will vote this motion down so that we can present the resolution and put everybody on record as to whether or not they are in favor of paying more money for men and women on the payroll in this House than is absolutely necessary. Now, then, just a moment, if you will not call me to order on this. I have no reflection on a solitary one of the very capable and hard working and efficient clerks and so forth in this House. I don't stand here and criticise any of them, and as for the stenographers I suppose I have had at least 125 letters written in a week.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Heffernan, Sowers, Joseph Marcus, Burd P. Evans, Golder, Dilsheimer, Drinkhouse, Blumberg, Nolte, Huber, Miss Grimes, Mrs. Pitts, Messrs. Staudenmier, Wheeler, Gibbon, Schaeffer, McBride, McCaig, Wettach and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

The Speaker declared the ayes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and 78 members having voted in the affirmative and 46 in the negative, the question was decided in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Woner and Mr. Vickerman.

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

So the question was determined in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to this pending question as to the number of employees in the legislature, early in January I had an inquiry made with reference to the matter for the purpose of communicating the results to some of those who were interested in the legislative organization. I have here a chart of the total number of House employees from 1897 to 1921. All of these totals were taken by the Bureau of Municipal Research of Philadelphia from Smull's Legisative Handbook. I will read the totals for each year from 1897, including the session of 1898, and so on right down to 1921, because the employees are given for the session, which includes this year. The totals are as follows: 67, 66, 67, 67, 69, 69, 66, 66, 78, that is in 1906; 97, 97, 101, 101, 109, 118, 126, 126, 128, 128, 119, 119, 126, 126, 135. The session of 1921 had the largest number. That was because the session employed not only the employees mentioned in the act of 1919 but a supplementary list of extra employees. And so, before the organization of this House, I had a conference with my friend the Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and we were given every kind and courteous assistance. A resolution was drafted which was adopted in the Republican caucus which limited the number of employees to those specified in the act of 1919. We are therefore on a more economical basis than two years ago by probably 10 or 12 employees. It may be rather interesting to show this diagram which perhaps will not be visible in all parts of the House. The blue line represents the Senate, the red line the House. It starts in 1898 and closes in 1921. You will see that the course has been steadily upward so far as both of these legislative bodies are concerned. Now, at the same time, I had an inquiry made as to what was the condition in other states. I present this just for what it is worth. In Pennsylvania, there were 240 Senate and House employees in 1921. In Illinois 143 Senate and House employees, in Massachussetts, 68 Senate and House employees, and in New York during the session of 1922, between five and six hundred employees. I have a summary for some other states as well, but do not want to take the time of the House. It would be sufficient to reach the conclusion that in New York there is a vast number in excess of what we have and in most of the other states of the Union there are very much fewer than what we have at present time. I think this resolution before us, in so far as it is a recommendation to those who come after that economy can be effected, is a wise resolution and deserves our support; but there has been a good deal of criticism of the statement in the last portion of the resolution as to the exact number of employees who are needed in each line of service. Of course, everyone understands that there is no criticism of the efficient employees of the House and there is no criticism of those who serve at the desk and who worked so hard, but if the work on the floor can be done with a fewer number, perhaps you don't all agree with me, but if that can be done it would be unquestionably a question for the Commonwealth, and it would be in the interest of good government. I would, therefore make a suggestion, which I hope emphatically will appeal to the sponsor of this resolution. I would like to move that this Resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules, which is, to a certain extent, responsible for what you may call the efficient conduct of the business of the House, and that the Committee on Rules be instructed to report it back to us again, making any revision of those statistics in the last part of the resolution as seems necessary. I would like to ask the sponsor if that motion would meet with her approval.

Miss MacKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the gentleman's motion be laid on the table.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion,

The SPEAKER. The "ayes" appear to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and eighty members voting in the affirmative and sixty-nine in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend page 2, by adding after line 21, the following:

"And be it further resolved, That the membership of this House be immediately reduced in number to thirteen so as to expedite and dispatch the public business now pending before the House, and that the compensation of the Members of this House as so reduced be fixed, in the interest of economy, at thirteen dollars per week for each full week that said members are present and actually engaged in the discharge of their public duties in this House.

"And be it further resolved, That the House as so reduced in membership, in the interest of economy, vacate the Hall of the House of Representatives, and meet in one of the committee rooms so that the Hall of the House may hereafter be made available for office rooms, and be occupied by executive agencies now forced to occupy rented quarters due to a lack of office space in the Capitol building.

"And be it further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Senate, so that said body may be advised of the measures taken by this House in the interest of economy."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the amendments be laid upon the table.

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't suppose I should object to the rest of the House having a little fun today; at the same time, this matter is more or less of a serious nature. I don't think there is anybody in this House that has not had a number of fights on the floor of this House; but I like to fight fair, I like to fight honorably. I have never accused anybody on the floor of this House of any improper motives, and I don't believe, notwithstandiug I may have my own opinion, that the resolution may not have much merit. I am not saying that this one does not, understand, but always the motives are always good, the intentions are always proper, and I would be the last one in the world to accuse the honorable lady from Butler of improper motives in this respect. The honorable lady asked me at the time if I would sign this resolution, and I told her I would not. While I believe in strict economy I did not think that this resolution had the earmarks of a proper consideration and a proper investgation. Now, when you talk about six assistant sergeant-at-arms if the members of this House have been in here late at night, looking up errors in bills, the code for instance, or early in the morning, when most of the members have not been in the House, they will find that the Seargeants-at-arms, every one that they have employed are working here on the floor of this House or down in the Sergeant-at-arms room. True it is that while we are working they don't work, but after we leave here then their work begins, I know I have been in the Sergeant-at-arms room hunting bills and hunting papers and resolutions along towards the early hours of the morning and found every one of the Sergeants-at-arms there working. In the morning you will see the sergeants-at-arms, and not only the page boys help put these on the calendars so that we can go to work and many times then have to be held up. You must remember that while we run this business as nearly as we would our private business, we must know, and those of us who have been here now for a number of sessions do know that we cannot do it exactly to the letter as it is done in our private business. For instance this work must be done. People will get sick even if they have political jobs, they cannot help it. They are not the guardians of their own destiny and they will get sick. Now, suppose you get this down to the low minimum of six, as this provide for, where all of those six may be sick at one time and that will hold up two hundred and eight members in this House while we went out around the town attempting to hunt those who are green perhaps, which would be very false economy. So, that you see when they speak about two messengers, while two messengers at this present time might be two too many, at certain times in the day it would not be half enough. The four pasters and folders, and all the way down the line we can go in the same way. Therefore, I say to pass a resolution of this kind, and it was my advice to Miss MacKinney at the time, that this resolution should not be presented at this time. We have nothing to do with the next session, and while it is true it is only a recommendation, it should bear as a recommendation to have any effect on anybody with any experience in the next House, and I suppose some of us at least will be back the next time, and we have had a little experience here and they would look at a resolution as this as not having the earmarks of a careful investigation, therefore, I think with all due respect to the motives to the lady from Butler, I think at this time fairly, squarely and honestly, without criticizing anyone, with fair play all along, that this resolution should be defeated.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't want to prolong the discussion of this resolution notwithstanding it is important, but to give my own experience. When I was an employee of the Senate in various sessions, I was employed as proof reader and in the capacity of sergeant-at-arms. Now, I want to say to you, ladies and gentlemen, there was many a night I worked until two and three o'clock in the morning. As sergeant-at-arms many Sundays I had to come up here and pick bills all day long, sometimes we had sixty and seventy bills to pick. Then we had to go on the floor and many times we had to ask the assistance of the clerks to committees to help us out so that the meetings of the Senate could take place at the proper time, otherwise we would not have had the bills on file. Now, there is nobody. I think in this House that knows the amount of work that is attached to it, and I want to say this, if anything the number of employees should be increased instead of decreased.

Miss Mac KINNEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to answer what my colleage, Mr. Alexander, has said. If you refer back to the records you will find that in 1911 this House employed the number of sergeants-at-arms that is provided in the resolution, the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms, the first assistant and six assistants, or eight altogether, and that is what the resolution provides for. If the House at that time found that a sufficient to conduct the business, why not at this time. Surely the two members that have been added from the time of 1911 to 1923 have not necessitated the increase that is now provided for, if they were all present and performed their duties, but I know not only at this session but the session of 1921 and 1919 that some of Sergeants-at-arms never came to Harrisburg only to lift their checks. I know at this session of the Legislature and in past sessions that many clerks to committes never performed any of their duties and are drawing their salaries. Now, I know that we don't want such a condition. The amendments that have been added to the resolution are wholly inconsistent and I had supposed that the dignity and the fairness with which a legislature should be conducted would afford a fair consideration to this resolution. Do you want to conduct your business in the interest of economy, or do you want to place additional burdens on your tax payers at home, that you may have a small political job to hand to one of your constituents. One of my constituents at home told me that he had an appointment in Harrisburg in the session of 1915, and never came here only to draw his money, and he was heartily ashamed that he had ever accepted it. The condition in the State has come to be such that people really hesitate to accept a position in the House because it carries a stigma with it. Now, I trust that you will vote the nonsensical amendments to this resolution down and give the resolution a fair trial. It may not be binding upon it, but it represents the sentiment of this House as expressed to the House of 1925. The reason why the bill was not introduced as I have explained before, was we didn't know the conditions. As you understand' I am a new member and I only knew what had been told me. I wanted to find out for myself, and so I took the time to investigate conditions and by the time that I knew of the conditions here, the time had already expired for the introduction of new legislation. Therefore, the only thing left was a resolution. I trust in all fairness you will vote these nonsensical amendments down and let this House go on record before their constituents on the resolution itself.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Evans.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Evans permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker I would like to say that now that the House has had the levity out of the reading of the amendments which I offered I wish to withdraw those amendments.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if there is a motion before the House at the present time?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny the Chair would state that the question before the House was "Will the House agree to the amendments?" The gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Evans has asked that the amendments be with drawn. The question now recurrs on the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, it has been my privilege to be a member of the Slate Committee for the past four or five years if I recall, and in making the assignments of the various employes it was done with good intentions and after conferring with some of the members of the House relative to economizing in the appointment of these employees. That was carefully observed and if the people who are criticizing the employees of the House will come here early in the morning and see the work that is being performed not only by the Sergeant-at-Arms, but the page boys and the various employees who are obliged to look after this work and do it quickly they might have a different attitude. After we get through at night, whether it be two or three o'clock in the morning, these men who work on the desk and the stenographers and people employed in the Journal Room, the transcription of their work just begins, so that I feel that in cutting down the number of employees we would be crippling the work of the House, which must be done quickly when it is assigned to these clerks, and I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that the resolution be laid upon the table.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION NO. 22.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up Resolution No. 22, which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

Whereas It has been charged that on Thursday night May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three between the hours of ten and eleven a detail of State police came into the borough of Ashland Schuylkill county for the purpose of securing the aid of citizens to extinguish a fire raging on Broad Mountain and that with out just cause the said State police officers discharged their pistols within the limits of the borough and that when several persons who were requested to assist fighting the said fire asked permission to go to their homes for the purpose of changing clothes pistols were thrust into their sides and they were summarily ordered into trucks and taken to the scene of the fire therefor be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a legislative investigating committee is hereby created to be composed of three Senators appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker which shall have power to investigate the conduct of State police officers in and about the borough of Ashland Schuylkill county on Thursday night May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to subpoena witnesses to require their attendance and to compel them to testify If any person shall refuse to obey a subpoena so issued the committee shall report the facts to the General Assembly for appropriate action

Resolved That the committee shall make a report of its findings to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three

Resolved That an item not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) shall be inserted into the General Appropriation bill to pay the expenses of the commission

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. BLUETT, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1751, (Senate Bill No. 1005), entitled:

An Act to amend part of Section two as amended part of section four and part of Section nine as amended of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eleven) entitled "An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process of warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" by providing for the election of a president judge and conferring certain powers heretofore exercised by the president judge upon the Board of Judges of the Municipal Court.

BILLS ON FIRST READING.

Mr. BLUETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1751, (Senate Bill No. 1005), read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1751 (Senate Bill No. 1005), entitled:

An Act to amend part of Section two as amended part of Section four and part of Section nine as amended of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eleven) entitled "An Act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process of warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" by providing for the election of a president judge and conferring certain powers heretofore exercised by the president judge upon the Board of Judges of the Municipal Court.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time. This is a bill of the Auditor General that would enable the Auditor General to use his present force in the collection of the emergency tax. It is in the interest of the economical collection of the tax, and for that reason I ask unanimous consent to introduce the bill.

The SPEAKER. The title of the bill will be read for the information of the House.

The Cerk read the title as follows:

An Act authorizing the Auditor General in the collection of any emergency taxes to use the clerks appointed to assist County Officials in the collection of State taxes in the various counties.

The SPEAKER. Are there objections? The Chair hears none, and the bill will be filed with the Chief Clerk.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 442 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. SAMPLE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred and four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled “An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith” is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1204 (1) The word “teacher” as used in this section means any person employed in the public school system of this Commonwealth as a teacher principal supervisor or supervising principal who holds a State permanent certificate

(2) The word “board” as used in this section means the board of school directors of any school district the board of trustees of any normal school district or any other committee or body by which a teacher is appointed

(3) The phrase “indefinite term” as used in this section means a term beginning with the employment of a teacher for such term and ending only by resignation or the retirement of the teacher as provided by law or the dismissal of the teacher only in the manner provided in this act

(4) Hereafter any re-employment by a board of a teacher who has been heretofore employed three consecutive years in that district shall be for an indefinite term Any teacher who at the date of the approval of this act has been employed by a board for three or more years shall be re-employed for an indefinite term in that district

(5) Whenever any teacher who has been employed for an indefinite term by a board shall accept employment from another board or whenever any teacher who has been employed for an indefinite term by a local board is re-employed after an interim such teacher shall be employed on probationary service for one year unless the board shall upon the written recommendation of the superintendent extend such probationary service for an additional period not exceeding one year Any re-employment after such probationary service shall be for an indefinite term

(6) Any teacher employed for an indefinite term may be dismissed only by a two-thirds vote of the board in the manner hereinafter provided for any of the following reasons

(a) Incapacity to discharge his or her duties by reason of physical or mental disability

(b) Inefficiency

(c) Presistent neglect of duty

(d) Immoral conduct

(e) Unprofessional conduct

(f) Persistent violation of the school laws of the Commonwealth or of the rules and regulations of the Board and Superintendent

(7) No teacher employed for an indefinite term shall be dismissed for any of the causes provided for in this section until he or she has been furnished with a written statement of the charges made signed by the superintendent or the president or secretary of the board The board shall at the request of such a teacher fix a time for hearing which shall be not less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the receipt of the written charges by the teacher The hearing shall be public or private at the option of the teacher At any such hearing a teacher may submit a written answer to such charges and may offer such oral or written evidence including the evidence of others as he or she may deem proper The teacher may be represented by counsel

(8) At or after the date fixed for such hearing a teacher may be dismissed by the board if

(a) The teacher fails to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing or fails to make answer to the written charges made or

(b) In case of an answer or appearance by the teacher the board by proper vote shall sustain the written charges made or any of them sufficient under this act to dismiss a teacher

No member of the board shall be qualified to vote on a question of dismissal unless present during the entire hearing

(9) Pending a hearing and final determination of such charges a teacher may be suspended by the superintendent or the board In case the charges so made are not sustained by the board the teacher shall not suffer any loss of salary during such suspension

(10) Nothing contained in this section shall limit the power of the board to release or dismiss a teacher employed for an indefinite term when such action is taken to reduce the teaching force for any of the following reasons

(a) An actual decrease in the number of pupils in the district: or

(b) Discontinuance of a particular kind or branch of teaching service

Any such release or dismissal shall take effect only at the end of a school year and be effective only if a written notice giving proper reasons for such release or dismissal was given to such teacher at least two months prior to the close of the school term at which the term of the teacher is to end

Any release or dismissal under this clause shall be the teacher or teachers last employed in the district in the particular kind or branch if teaching service decreased or discontinued

A teacher so released or dismissed shall be given a statement of honorable dismissed and shall for one year be carried on a perferred list for the re-employement in the kind of service from which the teacher was released and in case of re-employment while on the perferred list the same shall be for an indefinite term without any probationary service

(11) Nothing contained in this section shall limit the power of a board to make a general revision affecting the salaries of all teachers of the same grade or kind in the district but in no other case shall a teacher employed for an indefinite term suffer a decrease in salary

(12) No teacher serving an indefinite term shall resign during any school term nor shall any teacher resign at the end of any school term unless such teacher shall give to the board at least sixty days' notice of the time when such resignation is to take effect Any teacher who shall resign without giving notice herein provided for shall not be employed by any other board for a period of one year unless such teacher shall show to the satisfaction of the employing board that the resignation of the former position as teacher was for just cause

Amend bill by striking out everything in said bill beginning with “(1)” on line 15, page 2, to and including the word“cause” on line 22, page 6, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

BILL REFERRED.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Speaker to refer to committee at this time the bill which I introduced earlier in the day.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will refer the bill at this time. Are there objections? The Chair hears none.

By Mr. SPANGLER. HOUSE BILL No. 1762.

An Act authorizing the Auditor General in the collection of any emergency taxes to use the clerks appointed to assist County Officials in the collection of State taxes in the various counties.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. ARMSTRONG asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, House Bill No. 12, file folio 8361.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 12, entitled:

An Act establishing a State Highway in the County of Luzerne providing for its construction improvement and maintenance by the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, my reason for asking for this is that this is a bill which is wanted in the Senate in order that it may be amended by the addition of a section in which every member of this House will be interested. We expect to make it an omnibus bill, on which account the Senate wants the bill tonight.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REPORT OF JUDICIARY GENERAL COMMITTEE RELATIVE TO CHARGES AGAINST HONORABLE CHARLES E. BERGER AND HONORABLE HARRY OLIVER BECHTEL.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer at this time the report of the Judiciary General Committee relative to the charges brought by William Wilhelm, of Pottsville, Pa., against Hon. Charles E. Berger and Hon. Harry Oliver Bechtel, Judges of the twenty-first judicial district.

The Clerk read the reports as follows:

To the Honorable the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In the matter of the charges made by one William Wilhelm, of Pottsville, Pa., against Honorable Charles E. Berger, Additional Law Judge of the Twenty-first Judicial District, your Judiciary General Committee submits the following report:

1. The petition of William Wilhelm praying the House of Representatives to institute impeachment proceedings against the said Honorable Charles E. Berger, Additional Law Judge of the Twenty-first Judicial District, was submitted to the Judiciary General Committee with the request "that said Committee advise the House whether there seems to be sufficient evidence to indicate that a committee be appointed to investigate the charges therein contained."

2. The Judiciary General Committee made diligent personal inquiry into the charges made against the Honorable Charles E. Berger and has investigated all the facts and circumstances in connection therewith and secured all the information possible relative thereto, and your Committee finds that the charges are unfounded in fact and unsubstantiated by any evidence secured in relation thereto, and the Committee, therefore, advises the House that there is not sufficient evidence to justify the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges contained in the said William Wilhelm's petition.

Respectively submitted,

Section 37 All act or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is commonly termed the blue sky bill, and if it were a blue sky bill I believe that we all would be in accord with the passage of this bill, but the bill does not seem to meet with the approval of people in business by reason of the fact that the purpose of the bill does not meet the requirements for which it was intended. I call your attention in this bill on Page 4, section 7, near the top, where the company must, under the law of the state, dispose of its own securities in good faith and so on. In other words, that section substantially means this, that in the event that three citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would desire to incorporate a business under the state laws of Pennsylvania, they could issue their own stock and after it was issued, the company could proceed to dissolve despite the fact that they have issued practically worthless stock. I don't believe that the sponsor of this bill ever had that in mind. I also call your attention to the fact that on page 9, every company which is in business for the purpose of selling stock shall file with the secretary or the Commissioner of Banking a list of securities, and its purpose in selling same, with its prospectus and everything about its business, and then that the State Commissioner of Banking would proceed to issue a license. It would then be very easy for some other people, some other individual, to come in here and secure a license and then after they had made their first issue in the State of Pennsylvania, they could proceed to unload on the State, their worthless securities. I don't believe the sponsor of this bill ever had that in mind. I also call the attention of the members of this House to a most particular fact which is substantially this: That a broker who is a member of any stock exchange pays a license of $150.00 a year, and in addition thereto a broker in the county of Allegheny pays $10.00 license to be registered, so he can be under the supervision of the state, and in addition to that particular license, he pays a broker's mercantile license, and in addition thereto pays a certain percentage, or a small stamp tax on the transfer of stock. This bill in addition to the provisions which the broker is under now requires the following qualifications, for the filing of any original or renewed application, $10.00 for each registration $10.00, for each registration certificate $20.00. In addition to what the broker is paying now, in addition to what this bill provides, it places the broker in the position of being burdened with taxation. I would say that this bill does not meet with the approval of the legitimate men in business and I would ask the members to vote this bill down.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as the gentleman from Allegheny has well said, this bill comes before us known as the blue sky bill. The bill is also known as the securities act. It comes to us from the Senate, sponsored by Senator Clark, a man who I am sure has the confidence of all of you. It comes to us as the product of the extended work of a committee which devoted months of time to its preparation. That committee was appointed especially to try to frame for Pennsylvania a law which would protect the people from spurious securities and was headed by the Honorable John S. Fisher, former Commissioner of Banking of Pennsylvania, and the other members of that Committee include, Frank M. Hunter of Harrisburg, Dr. J. T. Holdsworth, President of the Bank of Pittsburgh, H. P. Vaux, of Philadelphia, Aaron Hess a former member of this House, of Lancaster, C. F. Zimmerman, Lebanon and J. R. Kinsloe, Allentown. Those gentlemen were the ones who originally prepared this bill. This bill was in the hands of the Senate Committee on Banks for several months. It was given a public hearing. It was reported out and came from the Senate with but one negative vote. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill which the gentleman from Allegheny has criticised as being a bill which would not be of any effect in protecting the people has the endorsement of the Investment Bankers Association of Pennsylvania, and it has the endorsement of Mr. Paul V. Keyser, Washington, D. C., attorney for the Investment Bankers of the United States. The gentleman from Allegheny says that this bill can accomplish no results. Let me just give you one paragraph from Mr. Keyser's report upon this bill. He says, "The effectiveness of any measure must, of course, depend to a very great extent upon its administration, but under this bill it should be possible to reach promptly any one attempting to put out securities through fraud and misrepresentation, and at the same time it avoids giving official sanction to any offering. It is probably one of the most progressive measures yet placed before any legislature, and its trial may prove that its proposals come as near a solution of the difficult problem of dealing with fraudulent securities promotions as can be done by legislation." And I submit that this bill comes before this House tonight as an honest endeavor made by men who want to protect the people of Pennsylvania from wild cat stocks and fly by night agents, without at the same time hamstringing ligitimate business.

Mr. Speaker, I rejoice in the fact that Pittsburgh Stock Exchange has its own blue sky committee; I rejoice in the fact that it is protecting the people of its community from many of these fly by night agencies. I rejoice in the honest effort which it is making, this Pittsburgh Stock Exchange, to elevate the tone of securities generally. But, Mr. Speaker, I call your attention to the fact that the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange, honest as it is, zealous as it is, did not prevent those poor people from investing hundreds of thousands of dollars in a squab farm out in Butler county, and those people lost their money. I rejoice in the fact that the Philadelphia Stock Exchange is honestly endeavoring to uphold the character of the business in which its members are engaged; for its honest endeavor to get after these wild cat promoters and these fly by night agents who sell these wild cat securities, but honest as it is, Mr. Speaker, it could not prevent the Dier failure, it could not prevent the Chandler failure, it could not prevent thousands of those people from losing their money in the chain auto stores, while the promotor of that was down on some island, out of New York, enjoying palatial circumstances. I tell you, Mr. Speaker, the exchanges may be honest, I give them every credit for being honest, but they cannot prevent many people from being fleeced out of their money, they cannot prevent those people, being unwise, from coming in and exchanging worthless securities, gold bricks, if you please, for liberty bonds and their other legitimate securities. Mr. Speaker, this is an honest attempt to get somewhere. I have on my desk, as I suppose you have on your desks, letters from men who are protesting against this bill. Those letters come to me from my best friends. They come from men who are interested in the things in which I am interested, and because of my friendship would ask me to vote against this bill. My political interests might ask me to vote against it, but I am going to support it, and I am going to give it my vote in the honest belief that it does meet a needed situation, and that it will be a great benefit to the people of Pennsylvania without jeopardizing or hamstringing the legitimate buisness interests of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am only too glad to add one word to what my friend, Mr. Whiteman, has already said in regard to this bill. I don't think that any legitimate business dealer has anything to fear from this bill, and if it goes but one step toward doing away with this illegitimate business of swindling people out of money, I think we are going to do a wonderful thing by passing it. This bill has the endorsement of all prominent bankers in the State of Pennsylvania. I have letters to this effect. There is nothing in it, they claim, that is injurious to their business. The small amount of fees that is being asked does not make it a revenue raiser. It is simply a matter of protection of the people, and the very smallest thing we can do is to take this step and pass this bill.

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I thought that this bill would protect innocent buyers from purchasing worthless stock, I would give it my hearty support, but I don't think it would have that effect. In the first place, how would the State Banking department know when a man comes to them with his propectus of his stock, whether this stock was any good or not. If you could find a man that could tell the public that a stock was a good stock, he could go to a banking institution, a banking house, and get $100,000 to $200,000 a year picking out good stock, because there are lots of stocks which are very favorably spoken of in the prospectus, and they look pretty, but in a year they are all gone by the wall.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that no more legislation is needed in this Commonwealth than a proper blue sky law, and I am heartily in favor of one. I would be glad to support a bill which was adequate. I think, however that the bill under discussion is in no sense a blue sky law. I don't propose to take up your time but call attention to three features very briefly, and those are that this bill is to be more of a mere license bureau than anything else and provides for no investigation of the security without which I imagine the entire bill is voided, because the investigation is the prime requisite of efficiency in a matter of this kind. Now, I want to call attention to Section 6 of the bill on page 9, and will ask anyone in the House to answer it if they can and if my point is well taken. Ladies and gentlemen, what I say may not be worth hearing but I respectfully submit that you can't judge whether it is worth hearing or not unless you hear it. This bill provides that every foreign corporation or nonresident individual shall file with the application a written consent, irrevocable, that actions may be commenced against it in the proper court of any county of this Commonwealth in which the cause of action happens to arise. Now, I ask you if that will not probably bar from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the investment of conservative corporations which we want and I ask you if any good concern, foreign concern, will submit to that imposition in order to sell securities in the State of Pennsylvania. Now I say again that the objection to this bill, in view of the fact that it doesn't apply to Pennsylvania corporations, in view of the fact that all that is necessary to evade the provisions of the bill are to recognize or rather increase the capital stock of a corporation where the first issue may be taken up, and then it is not amenable to the provisions of the bill at all. I say that the bill is not efficient to effectuate the purposes for which it is intended, and I think it is a bad job for us to put upon the statute books an inefficient bill of any kind.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that during the time when I am not attending here in the Legislature I am in a business from which I can judge the need of a blue sky law such as this about as well as any member of the House that is, as trust officer of one of the large trust companies in the city of Pittsburgh, with trust funds aggregating about sixty million dollars. I want to tell you in just a few words about one case which came to my attention about six months ago and let you judge for yourselves whether or not an act such as this act modeled along the same lines is justified. The case in question was that of one of the large steel companies of the City of Pittsburgh. As you probably know, that position is one involving a great deal of skill and is a very dangerous occupation. This old Welshman had been working for a long period of years at this position and had earned during that period somewhere as I understand between fifteen and sixteen dollars a day. My company was appointed administrator of his estate, and at his death there came into our hunds a batch of securities which, when compressed on my desk, was about that thick (indicating about two feet) and I ascertained, from the stubs of his checks and from letters and papers in my possession, where that man had put into those securities about $150,000. When his estate was inventoried and those securities were checked up, they came to something less than $1,000. Now, I don't say that this is the best bill in the world. It is not the bill that I would have if I were having prepared by experts the very best blue-sky law that I could pick out; but I do think that it is a step in the right direction and I hope that every member of this House will support it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to say just a word in endorsement of the position that has been taken by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Price, and the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman. It seems clear to me that we ought to recognize that during the war a great many people we taught to invest in securities who never invested in securities before. It was an encouragement of the habit of thrift, which is a fine thing for the nation. Now, that is being taken advantage of in a great many communities by these investment people to which reference has been made. Certainly, the investor who is not able to acquaint himself with the assets back of the securities is entitled to some protection. We had presented to us tonight the first step along that line in Pennsylvania. I don't suppose that this bill represents the kind of bill that we will have on the statute books five years hence, but it does give the opportunity to work out a sensible and rational plan of protection for the investor, and therefore it seems to me that we ought to welcome the opportunity to vote for the bill.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 996, as follows:

An Act to amend further section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended providing for the reinstatement of licensees in certain cases

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assemby met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" which was amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and seventy-one) entitled "An Act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' as amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled 'An Act to amend title and sections three and four and five and six and nine and eleven of an act entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven by providing for further instruction prior to examination for licensure by clarifying sections five (5) and twelve (12)" and the act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and fifty-eight) entitled "An Act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred thirty-nine) the title of which was amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred twenty) reads 'Relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' by amending sections three (3) and four (4) and five (5) and six (6) and twelve (12) by providing certain equivalents for preliminary education by omitting certain required published notices by reconstituting a quorum by omitting second year examinations by recasting and extending terms on which reciprocity may be established and by clarifying the several sections" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 12 The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure shall refuse to grant a license to practice medicine and surgery to an applicant upon the presentation to said Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of a court record showing the conviction in due course of law of said persons for producing or aiding or abetting in producing a criminal abortion or miscarriage by any means whatsoever and further the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure upon such evidence and proof shall cause the name of any physician licensed to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be removed from the record in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction

The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure may for a definite or indefinite time refuse revoke or suspend the right to practice medicine and surgery in this State for any or all of the following reasons to wit The conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits or stimulants narcotics or any other substance or any condition which impairs intellect and judgment to such an extent as to incapitate for the performance of professional duties

Any person who is licensed to practice medicine and surgery or any of its branches in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or who is an applicant for examination for licensure to practice medicine and surgery in this State against whom are preferred any of the foregoing charges for causing the revocation or suspension of license or for causing refusal of the right to be examined for licensure shall be furnished by the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure with a copy of the complaint and shall have a hearing before the Bureau or by attorney and witnesses may be examined by said Bureau respecting the guilt or innocense of said accused

The revocation or suspension of license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery shall be removed when said narocotic or vicous habit hereinbefore specified shall have been adjudged by the said Bureau to be cured or overcome and said suspended licentiate deemed capable of practicing his profession The revocation or suspension for any other cause of the license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery may be removed at such time as it shall appear to the Bureau to be just and proper to do so Provided however That any action taken in regard to suspension or revocation of a license or removal of any suspension or revocation and the reinstatement of any licentate must be by an unanimous vote of the members of the Bureau

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar at this time. I ask this in view of the fact that Senate Bill 554, on page 11, sponsored by Senator Smith, practically covers the same subject matter as House Bill 996, and I desire that my bill shall give way to Senate Bill 554.

Mr. EARLY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1468 (Senate Bill No. 797), as follows:

An Act relating to the powers and duties of probation officers in counties of the first class

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter a probation officer of any juvenile court or of any court sitting as a juvenile court in any county of the first class may attend any session of the grand jury of the county at which a male minor under the age of sixteen years or any female minor is present such probation officer shall be present during the entire examination of such minor by the grand jury and may with the consent of the grand jury assist in said examination

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like someone who understands this bill to explain its effect. As I understand it permits probation officers to go before the grand jury in behalf of a person under 16 years of age being accused of crime. I would like to know what the use of that is, and what the purpose is.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Senate Bill No. 797 has been amended so as to apply only to Philadelphia. The object is to permit the probation officer, a woman, to go in with the child before the grand jury in cases of rape and things of that kind. This thought was developed by the recent grand jury investigation in Philadelphia and the thought is really the creation of Mrs. Willis Martin, who was foreman of that grand jury. She found great difficulty in rape cases in having young girls of 10 to 12 years of age coming before the grand jury intimidated by someone and the thought is that the probation officer shall come in with the child in order that the grand jury can get its testimony. It only applies to Philadelphia, and I would ask the House to pass the bill.

Mr. Stoner. Mr. Speaker, I apologize for taking the time of the House.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1486 (Senate Bill No. 554), as follows:

An Act to further amend section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended providing for the reinstatement of licenses in certain cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twelve of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and thirty-nine) entitled "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith which was amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and seventy-one) entitled "An act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' as amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled 'An act to amend title and sections three and four and five and six and nine and eleven of an act entitled "An act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses given by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven' by providing for further instruction prior to examination for licensure by clarifying sections five (5) and twelve (12)" and the act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and fify-eight) entitled "An act to further amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred thirty-nine) the title of which as amended by an act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws twelve hundred twenty) reads 'Relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its branches may be obtained and exemptions therefrom and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act and providing for revocation and suspension of licenses by said bureau and providing penalties for violation thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith' by amending sections three (3) and four (4) and five (5) and six (6) and twelve (12) by providing certain equivalents for preliminary education by omitting certain required published notices by reconstituting a quorum by omitting second year examinations by recasting and extending terms on which reciprocity may be established and by clarifying the several sections" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 12 The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure shall refuse to grant a license to practice medicine and surgery to an applicant upon the presentation to said Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure of a court record showing the conviction in due course of law of said persons for producing or aiding or abetting in producing a criminal abortion or miscarriage by any means whatsoever and further the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure upon such evidence and proof shall cause the name of any physician licensed to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to be removed from the record in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction

The Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure may for a definite or indefinite time refuse revoke or suspend the right to practice medicine and surgery in this State for any or all of the following reasons to wit The conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits or stimulants narcotics or any other substance or any condition which impairs intellect and judgment to such an extent as to incapacitate for the performance of professional duties

Any person who is licensed to practice medicine and surgery or any of its branches in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or who is an applicant for examination for licensure to practice medicine and surgery in this State against whom are preferred any of the foregoing charges for causing the revocation or suspension of licenses or for causing refusal of the right to be examined for licensure shall be furnished by the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure with a copy of the complaint and shall have a hearing before the Bureau or by attorney and witnesses may be examined by said Bureau respecting the guilt or innocence of said accused

The revocation or suspension of license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery shall be removed when said narcotic or vicious habit hereinbefore specified shall have been adjudged by the said Bureau to be cruel or overcome and said suspended licentiate deemed capable of practicing his or her profession The revocation or suspension for any other cause of the license of any person licensed to practice medicine and surgery may be removed at such time as it shall appear to the Bureau to be just and proper to do so Provided however That any action taken in regard to suspension or revocation of license or removal of any suspension or revocation and the reinstatement of any licentiate must be by an unanimous vote of the members of the Bureau present at the meeting at which such action is taken

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure is a board in this state, which grants licenses to the physicians and surgeons to practice medicine. It has also the power to revoke and suspend licenses. It has not, however, at the present time, the power to re-instate physicians whose license has once been taken away, no matter whether that man has corrected the defect which caused the loss of his license or not. This bill merely permits the Board to give the physician whose license has been taken from him another chance; in other words it is a bill which gives a re-hearing. All of our court systems within this Commonwealth give the defendent a chance to appeal his case, but the Board of Medical Education and Licensure has no right to re-hear a case, and no right to reinstate a license once taken away, and the Board is desirous of getting that power. For the last four years this Board has not revoked a license for the very simple reason that it felt it was doing an injustice when they cannot reinstate a doctor whose license has been taken away from him.

Section 12, in the first paragraph is not changed at all. You will notice that one of the worst crimes that a physician can commit, a professional crime, is discussed in that paragraph, and in case a physician commits that crime his name is removed from the records of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and he never has a chance to come back in case he commits that terrible crime.

The second paragraph enumerates all instances where the license may be revoked. First for the conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, second, for habitual intemperance in the use of drugs or alcoholic drinks, and third for any other condition which impairs his intellect or his efficiency to practice medicine. Now, in case the license is removed for any of these reasons, this bill simply gives the Board an opportunity to meet again and re-hear the case. If the man has cured himself, or if he is in a position where he can now practice, the Board is given the right to put him back again where he was. There is just one precautionary measure in this bill. It is in the last part of the last paragraph. It provides against a small number of the members of the Board of Medical Education and Licensure gathering together and showing a favor to some physician whose license has once been removed. It states here that there must be a unanimous vote of the entire Board to reinstate a license. I ask you to, for the advantage of those who should be given another chance, if they are now going right to vote in favor of this measure.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALL. With pleasure.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin whether the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure has prepared and endorsed this bill?

Mr. HALL. This bill was prepared, or endorsed, it was not prepared by the Bureau, but I understand it was endorsed by the Bureau of Medical Education anl Licensure.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a very important piece of legislation for the people of this Commonwealth. Only last week, on May 11th, the governor vetoed a similar bill introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle. While this bill was more drastic than the one presented by Senator Smith of Dauphin County, yet the fact remains that the purpose of this bill is to wipe out the intention of the Act passed in 1911 to protect the people of this Commonwealth from incompetent physicians who have been convicted of crime, involving moral turpitude, habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits or stimulants narcotics or any other substance. Now the act of 1911 was for the purpose that when a physician was taken in doing this kind of an offense and served a prison term for it, he was not eligible then to become a physician and treat the people of this Commonwealth, and that was the act of 1911. The purpose of that act was to prevent the reinstatement of a man who was a drug addict, or who was intemperate to such an extent that his service to the people might be detrimental instead of a benefit to the people. Now, the Governor vetoed that act. It seems to me that is is very important that these people must get this bill passed because the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall, introduced a bill of a similar character, then the Senator from Dauphin introduced another bill, so that there were three bills of almost the same character for the purpose of reinstating those men who will be a detriment to their profession, and the Act of 1911 was passed to prevent those people from being reinstated. If the Bureau of Medical Education prosecutes a physician who is violating the law they will take the license away from those who are in prison for violating the law and that is a benefit to the medical profession. I have here a clipping of one whose license has not been taken away by the Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure. A man who is serving a term in Philadelphia county today for being intoxicated while driving a machine in Philadelphia, Dr. Bayard Knerr, I have here another doctor who was used by the medical profession as an instrument to detect other people who were practising their cults, as a detective, a physician caught in his own trap, Dr. Saltzmann, who had planned a snare for other people, he is serving in jail while he is licensed to practise medicine and the medical board has taken no action. I have another one here, Dr. Koenig, who was arrested and convicted in the federal courts for taking liquor into his house, I think it says, 100 cases. I have another one here of a physician who is serving a term in jail, and the Bureau of Medical Education is not cleaning their profession. Now, they want to bring those back who have been in jail, they want to bring them back in this clause and give them a license to practise on the people of this Commonwealth. I think it is a most vicious piece of legislation, three times they tried to put it through this House, that has ever been put before this body.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that it is only fair to explain the bill which was vetoed by the Governor a week or two ago. That bill as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, has well said, was more drastic than this bill. The Attorney General advised the Governor that an interpretation may be put on that bill which would require and insist upon the reinstatement of a physician after a certain period of five years. There can be no interpretation of that kind placed upon the present bill. There can be no insistence by physicians to an Appelate Court that his license should be returned. It is entirely up to the Board that has taken the license away, and all of them must be in favor of returning his license and giving him a chance to go back to his profession. Ladies and gentlemen, we are all prone to make mistakes. I doubt whether there is one of us here who will admit that he has not made a mistake, and physicians are in the same class. If they have been convicted of some small mistake and have been put in that class as having committed a crime involving moral turpitude and their license has been taken away for some years. If they come back and are ready to practice their profession in a clean way, why should not this Board give them another chance. We try to give everybody else a chance. Why not give this Board an opportunity to re-hear that physician and give him an opportunity to practice again.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL PLACED ON THE CALENDAR.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1685, (Senate Bill No. 611,) File Folio 4347, entitled:

> An Act to repeal an act approved the twenty-fourth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and fifty-five) entitled "An act relating to the office of surveyor and civil engineer for the county of Allegheny" be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Judiciary Local committee.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in making this motion to disregard the negative recommendation of Judiciary Local Committee, I desire to call your attention to the fact that this bill pertains to Allegheny county. It is a bill which places the county engineer under the jurisdiction of the County Commissioners and not the common pleas judges. Despite the fact that this bill was referred to the Judiciary Local Committee I went to a number of the Allegheny County delegation who happened to be members of that Committee, and despite the objection to that bill from other sources outside of Allegheny County, I feel it to be a matter which pertains to Allegheny County, only, it being a bill to repeal the Act of 1873, by which Allegheny County will be placed in the same category as the other 66 counties giving the county commissiones the right to appoint the county engineer for whom they make the budget and under those circumstances, I ask the members of the House to put the bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Judiciary Local Committee.

Mr. McKIM Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, as has been told you by my colleague from Allegheny county, is a bill that effects only Allegheny county. The gentleman from Allegheny has told you that no person appeared in opposition to the bill before the committee except from outside sources, and out of the county of Allegheny. I want to say to the members of this House that the Judiciary Local Committee had three meetings in which this bill was discussed. At one of those meetings, I, myself, together with my colleague, Dr. Patterson, and my colleague, Mr. Vickerman, appeared before the committee and stated our objections to the bill. The Committee in its wisdom after a thorough consideration of the bill, has seen fit to report the bill back with a negative recommendation and that in my judgment is what should have been done. It has been stated by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, that this is a bill repealing an Act of Assembly, passed in 1873, in which act the appointing power of the surveyor of Allegheny county was placed in the common pleas judges of that county. Snce that time, since 1873, we have been working under that bill, and the members of the Committee who are here present will recall that Mr. Marcus and the proponents of that bill went before the Committee and stated that during all those years, more than 50 years, there had not been a breath of scandal against the appointment to that office, that as far as they knew every appointee made by the Common Pleas court was an efficient, able and honest official. They stated further to the judiciary local committee, not once but every time they appeared before it, that there had been an arrangement made to the effect that if this bill passed, the present encumbent would be retained.

Now, I take it, if the bill has been working as I have stated, for the past 50 years, that there has been no scandal, no objection, to the manner in which that office has been conducted, if the present appointee has been an efficient faithful servant of the county of Allegheny, then what reason has been placed before this House that would justify the House in setting aside the report of the Judiciary Local Committee? After thorough consideration of the bill, and in their recommendation, they negatived the bill and said that it should not go on the calendar. I take it that the only reason suggested by my friend from Allegheny county is that we are not in accord with some of the other counties in Pennsylvania. I don't take it that that is a serious objection and ought not to be considered by this House at this time. We are now approaching the last hours of this session and I think it is a mistake to overturn and set aside the honest conviction of any committee in negativing any bill at this time. The calendar is now culled. If they would state to you a single instance in which the office is not now functioning in accordance with the wishes of the county commissioners, if they cited a single instance in which there is friction between the county commissioners and the surveyor of Allegheny county, if they cited to you anything derogatory to the present encumbent, or his methods, then I would say there might be some justification; but when they say to you that the only reason why this should be changed is the fact that some of the other counties do it, and that the county commissioners make up the budget to pay this official, then I say that the reason is far fetched, and I would ask this House to sustain the action of the Committee and refuse to put this bill on the calendar.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. The bill that is mentioned in the motion at the present time to be put on the calendar notwithstanding the action of the Committee was referred to the Judiciary Local Committee, of which I am chairman. I am not interested in this bill as to whether or not it is put on the calendar or as to whether or not it is enacted into law, but as chairman of the committee I want to say in behalf of the committee, and I feel as chairman, it is my duty to do so, that this bill has had careful consideration in the committee. It was attempted by the committee to give it fair consideration and in behalf of its members I desire to make this statement. Any action the members take in the House, is perfectly agreeable to me. I merely speak as to the action of the committee when the bill was before it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it. Whereupon a division was called for and 106 members, or more than a majority voting in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO CALL UP BILLS OUT OF ORDER.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the members of the House shall have the privilege of calling up any bills, Senate or House on the third reading calendar for immediate consideration regardless of the position of the bills on the calendar.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as has been stated a number of times this evening we are on the last lapse of our course. We all of us have some important bills on the calendar which we would like to have considered and would like to feel safe about. This is not a new method on the part of the House in asking this privilege. It has been granted heretofore, and it is merely for the purpose of accomodating those members who have important measures upon the calendar, in order that they may have those bills acted upon at this time and so that they wont be lost in the crowded business that accures the last days of the session, and for that reason I ask the House to pass this motion.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARER. How will this affect appropriation bills?

Mr. SPANGLER. It will devote one day of the session at this time to the passage of these bills, and will not necessarily exclude appropriation bills except the bills on the calendar which take their regular course.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I object to this motion if it will in any way interfere with the appropriation bills having the right of way. They are the most important things we have to consider at this time, and we cannot afford to set them back at this time.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is very hard to follow bills when somebody is able to call up a bill here and there. Every evil that has crept into the legislature of this House, has crept in with just that procedure. A snake is placed in a bill before it comes over here. They call it up, you have to grab that bill and read it immediately, and this calendar is much too large at the present time for any man to sit down and know everything that is in these bills, and when they are changed or amended, it is absolutely impossible to keep tabs on these bills. I, for one, endeavor to watch all bills and know what is in them before they come up. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think this motion should not prevail, at this early date at any rate.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that it might be great relief if we could be absolved from Mr. Alexander's objection to all these bills, and if for no other reason that, at least it seems to me, is a strong argument for the passage of this motion.

Mr. ALEXANDER. If my friend from York don't have any more respect for his duties in this House than he pretends, it is only pretention and I know he does not mean it, I feel sorry for the people he is representing back in York. It is no wonder that the York Bank went up, if he has anything to do with it, if that is the way he attends to business.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I understand this motion correctly, that any bill may be called up on the calendar at any time, beginning tomorrow, on the third reading, it will mean this that Senate bills may be called up before House bills, and it would seem that we ought to pass our House bills first. According to a rule, which has been passed, House bills do have a preference. It would also mean that if this motion passed there would be a scramble after the passage of each bill to get the recognition of the Chair. It would also mean that bills, probably the last ones on the calendar, would get a preference over those which are nearly at the top of the calendar and which have remained there for some time.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. If the motion of the gentleman from York were to prevail the orderly method of procedure would give way to a mad unseemly scramble for preference. The person who would be fortunate enough to get recognition to call up a bill out of order would get the preference, and I certainly hope the motion will be voted down.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this is not revolutionary, this motion, it was done two years ago to the unquestionable satisfaction of the House. The only purpose of this motion is to permit members who have legislation, a particular piece of legislation that they are very much interested in, to have that legisaltion considered and to ease their minds to that extent. Take the bills we now have on the postponed calendar, a person who wanted to get preference on a third reading bill could amend the bill by adding a word a, or striking out the word a, and having the bill placed on the postponed calendar, which would place his bills on the final passage calendar and when those bills become the order of the day, that bill could be called up and considered. These permissions we have tolerated constantly in this House. Why, now as the session is drawing to a close, when we are going to be rushed for time and when everything else has taken precedence of the bills we are particularly interested in, why now should we not have the permission, if we want it of considering those pieces of legislation, which we deem to be of vital importance to our constitutents? I can see no reason for it.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messers. Posey, Gelder, Eaches, Haslett, Hall, Earley, Hetrick, Baker, Geo. W. Williams, Alexander, Heyburn, Dunn, Lucas, Haas, Harer, Fratt, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Nolte, Mathay, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than 20 members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,
Shall the main question be now put?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was not agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. J. W. SMITH,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 345, entitled:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Horne,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of the House Bill No. 324, entitled:

An Act providing for the collection of city and school taxes in third class cities by the city treasurer and fixing and providing for the payment of his salary and expenses and the salaries of his assistants and clerks

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I should call attention to this bill because it changes or would change a system which has been in vogue for some time. We have in the State of Pennsylvania a very marked condition in the salaries paid third class city treasurers. This condition I believe to be entirely unfair to third class cities, and I would like to read for your information some of the salaries paid, including only the salaries or commissions and school taxes. Now, that does not take in commissions paid on licenses either for vendors or for retail merchants, so that this does not include county taxes or poor taxes and therefore is not merely the total that is paid to some city treasurer. I would like to go down through this list but I will call attention to some of them only. I will take, for instance, Altoona, first on the list, the school tax commission paid there for collection is $4,028, the salary of the treasurer is $6,000 making a total of $10,028. The city of Chester, the salary and commissions are $1,000, $10,720, respectively, and $8,000, making a total of $19,720. In the city of Harrisburg, salary $100 paid from the school tax $4,062, and a salary of $9,000, making a total of $13,162. Another is the city of Johnstown, my city, pays a salary of $1500, and for school taxes $5,562, and commissions of $13,500, making a total of $22,562. This has been paid for the years 1921 and 1922, or making up just one year. The city of Erie, perhaps, is the most striking example. I would like very much for the members of this House to become familiar with these figures, as I believe you will have to deal with them either now or later because this is a burning question in some of these communities. In the city of Erie the salary is $2400, the commissions paid from the school tax $17,685, and the commissions paid for the collection of State taxes $15,000, making a total, not counting water tax commission paid, tax on county or poor tax of $35,085. It seems to me that these figures would be enough to make every man in this House and every woman realize that these salaries are out of proportion to the other salaries paid to these communities or elsewhere in the State. It seems ridiculous that a city treasurer anywhere in this State should receive a salary, as in Erie, of more than $40,000 a year. I am counting in the other taxes they receive their commissons on, such as the water tax and other licenses. I believe that the question of taxation is the most burning question in this State and in this nation. This fact has been apparent during the last campaign for president of the United States, and both the Democratic party and the Republican party pledged themselves to a program of economy. That was true in this State. Scarcely one of you men coming from third class cities or elsewhere were free from the question which was uppermost in the minds of more people and that was the matter of economy. I am not pleading here to make a meager salary. I am not pleading here to take a job away from someone, my bill would pay a salary, a minimum of $3000 and a maximum of $7500 a year, the bond to be paid for by the State, the salary paid fixed by council before the election, for this year to be fixed in the month of July. If this bill becomes a law, there is no attempt here to rip out an officer or change his salary now. I do not like to take your time now, this is a warm evening, and I would like to get through with this quickly, but I would like to have you hear this for this reason: Unless I mistake the times the next two years will show a campaign on the matter of economy in this State and in this nation, and undoubtedly it will be a part of the national program as it has been in Harding's administration, and as subscribed to by the Democratic candidate in the last campaign. I believe you can afford to try and save some money for your district honestly, which you cannot do otherwise. Perhaps you went out to your dear people at home and told them you wanted to represent them here and told them how, if you had an opportunity, you would conserve for them their taxes and save for them costs in government, thereby realizing that the cost of government is too high in this country. There is a general tendancy to reduce it, and I believe that will be a part of your issue in the next campaign. In the third class cities where this question has become vital I cannot help but believe that that will be perhaps the leading issue unless this bill becomes a law. The saving to the districts, in a district where the net salary like in Erie was over $28,000 in the last year, is so outlandish that it seems to me it would be better to be a tax collector than it would to be a supreme court Judge in the supreme courts of our State or the supreme courts of the United States, the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, or any other office we have. For instance, the State Treasurer for the State of Pennsylvania receives only $10,000 a year, a very meager salary compared with some of those back in these districts. I am aware that this affects only third class cities, but I believe there is no man in this House who would not like to right a wrong, to correct an evil, and to make a system which has been obnoxious in our communities better for us. I want to say to you that in the city of Johnstown in the last four years we paid to the city treasurer more than $4,000 the system is fixed so we cannot change it unless we change it by a law of this type. There are other cities just as marked and even more so. I am aware that there are some men who have lobbied against this bill, that is I think one or two of them wish to be elected as city treasurers in certain cities of this State, at least two that I know of. It seems to me most unfair that men in this House should be pursuaded to vote against a bill which allows a perfectly fair salary, and even a good salary, in favor of a tax collector or a man who may serve for one or more terms as city treasurer I very much doubt if there is a city treasurer in this State who could not give his services for $7500 per year. I call upon every member in this House to take cognizance of these facts because they are absolutely correct, as secured from the city treasurers of the boroughs and municipalities. They are not mere figures which I have tried to juggle for you to secure your vote, but I ask of you that you help correct in these third class cities a system which is entirely unfair to the citizens and which you have no other opportunity to change. I believe that a third class city member cannot do otherwise than to vote for this bill to justify himself to his people. I am sure I would be unwilling to go back and face them and say that I had not made an honest effort to try to relieve them from possibly $15,000 of an excess cost for the collection of taxes. I appeal to you in the most earnest way I possibly can to help relieve a very unsatisfactory and a very bad condition.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that this bill deserves a great deal more attention than the members of the House are giving to it. Not very long ago this House went on record as being in favor of strict economy, and this bill is a bill that would carry out that principle. There is no reason why in the State of Pennsylvania an isolated officer should be paid an abnormal salary from or through the means of the fee system. As a matter of fact all our county officers should be placed on a salary basis, which they are not, and it seems to me that the treasurers of the various counties and of the various cities have been permitted to remain aloof from the tendency of the times. Why a city treasurer or a county treasurer should receive twice as much as the judges of the courts who do three or more times more work and whose jobs are much more responsible, and require expert training and knowledge, is incomprehensible to me, and why the Legislature refrains from giving support to these measures that mean true economy, and that mean proper method and good business principles I never could understand. I have always been of the opinion, and I have always voted for adequate salaries for public officers because I believe they deserve it, but I believe that in giving adequate salaries to public officers we should bear in mind the fact that there are a great many officers who are not now on a salary basis and who should be placed there, and therefore when my good friend from Cambria, Mr. Horne, comes before this House with a bill bearing the merit that this bill bears, it certainly seems to me that it should receive the most earnest consideration of each and every member of this House.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Posey, Mathay, McBride, Himes, Armstrong, Dunn, Spangler, Haws Weamer, Dilsheimer, Heffernan, Fields, Philip M. Myers, Gibbon, Golder, Nolte, Huber, William T. Bell, David Fowler, Brewster, Irvin and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty gentlemen having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EDMONDS.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 661, entitled:

An Act making the report of the board of view viewers or jury of view upon appeal to the court of common pleas prima facie evidence of benefits therein assessed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelhia, Mr. Edmonds.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker before replying to an interrogation, and before it is even stated, may I say that I introduced this bill at the request of the City Solicitor's Department of Philadelphia, and so personally I am not familiar with it and I have asked my colleague, Mr. Bluett, if he would answer any interrogations upon the bill, so if the gentleman from Delaware does not mind, I will refer him to my colleague, Mr. Bluett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bluett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUETT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will the gentleman explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. BLUETT. As I understand it, the purpose of this bill is that the report of the Board of Viewers in land damage cases is now used as prima facie evidence in cases originating in the court of common pleas, while in cases originating in the quarter sessions court, the report of the board of viewers cannot be used as prima facie evidence on the benefits assessed.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. What jury of view is appointed by the court of quarter sessions, in what instances does the court of quarter sessions appoint a board of viewers in damage cases?

Mr. BLUETT. In the opening of roads.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 950, as follows:

An Act providing for the publication of the estimated cost of all public construction or repair work exceeding five hundred dollars performed by day labor providing that the proper officers or agents of every county city borough township school district or other sub-division of the Commonwealth shall keep complete and accurate accounts of the cost of all such work providing for the furnishing of certified copies of such accounts and fixing penalties.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all cases where the proper officer or officers of any county city borough township district or other political sub-division of the Commonwealth except cities of the first class shall determine that any public construction repair or maintenance work is necessary to be performed and may be performed according to law by day labor instead of by contract through competive bidding an estimate of the cost thereof shall be made by him or them and if such estimate shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) in the aggregate the total amount of such estimate shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which the work is to be performed at least fifteen days before proceeding with the work Provided however That in all cases where it is now required that any county city borough township or school district publish such estimate under the provisions of any local law or ordinance no further publication shall be required under the provisions of this section

Section 2 That all such officers or agents under whose authority such public work is performed shall be required to keep and preserve a complete and accurate record of the cost of such work the said account shall show in all cases where the work is performed by the agents servants or employees of any county city borough township school district or other political sub-division of this Commonwealth except cities of the first class in accurately tabulated form under appropriate heads the totals of all classes kinds and descriptions of work performed and of all materials used in such work and also the total cost of all materials supplies and labor furnished such work together with the cost of all superintendence the cost of engineering and all other expenses involved in the total cost of such public work including a charge for the proportion of the time of regularly employed public officials which may be devoted in any manner to such work

Section 3 The records and accounts required to be kept by the provisions of this act shall be open to the inspection of the public at all reasonable times Certified copies thereof shall be furnished to any citizen of the state upon demand being made and upon payment of a reasonable fee for the transcribing and certifying of the same

Section 4 If any public officer or agent included in this act shall wilfully neglect to keep the records or accounts required to be kept by this act or if any such officer or agent shall wilfully neglect to make any proper entry in the records or accounts required to be kept or if any such public officer shall wilfully in order to circumvent the provisions of this act divide any public work under his control into small units which would be considered economically unsound from an engineering standpoint if the work was performed by contract instead of by the agents servants or empoyees of the Commonwealth or of any political sub-division thereof the same shall be deemed a misdemeanor in office and in addition to the other penalties for such offenses he shall upon conviction thereof be deemed incapable of holding longer his said office

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Howard Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. Will the sponsor of this bill kindly explain its purpose?

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. This bill as on the floor now is not the bill as amended yesterday. The bill previously amended is not on the file. The file is 8961. The purpose of this bill is where work is done not by contract, but by day's work, there shall be an accurate account kept of it, where the work would amount to $500.00. That is the principal part of the bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to interrogate the gentleman further. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, why he is so interested in a bill not pertaining to Philadelphia. I notice in this bill they have excepted the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. This bill was given to me by one of the members of the Auditor General's office who asked me to introduce the bill. The bill was amended yesterday. When a copy of the amendments was presented to me yesterday morning, I put them all in here. After the bill was amended and we got through with the bill, and on my calendar the bill has not the proper file folio, I, therefore, move that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. As we have quite a large delegation from the country districts it is strange that a bill of importance to the country districts is not presented by someone from those districts, and it is strange also that a bill that is not good enough for a city of the first class should be put unto us fellows out in the country. If you will look at this bill the only thing in this bill, it is an advertising bill, and I have an idea that the person who has presented this bill to Mr. Smith is someone who is interested in a newspaper somewhere, it provides that the borough and the townships today who have a very large expense, at any rate, are obliged when they make up their accounts to make out a bill of over $500.00 or they have to advertise it in some newspaper. Now, every borough, as you know, and every township keeps as good records of the business of the borough and township on their minutes, as cities of the first class do. There is no reason why the Clerk of Council of a borough or of a township that at the present time labors under a heavy expense at the best, and don't have a dollar to spare outside of their improvements of their boroughs and their townships should have to pay some newspaper a nice amount of money for putting an advertisement that perhaps nobody ever looks at or ever sees at any rate. I tell you that this bill, the members of the country districts, should have the right of saying whether this bill s a good one for them or not, and I ask you to vote against it.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members from Philadelphia certainly do not wish to impose upon the members outside Philadelphia, any legislation which they don't think is good enough for their own city. When this bill was originally introduced, it was intended to take in the city of Philadelphia, and since then an amendment has been introduced by others than those from the city of the first class. I have been requested by the sponsor of the bill to state that he has no interest in it. We have no desire in Philadelphia to impose upon other municipalities that which we don't want ourselves, and for that reason I move you that his bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1073, entitled, as follows:

An Act to amend revise change and consolidate the laws relating to the assessment of persons property and subjects of taxation in counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and in cities of the third class boroughs towns townships school districts of the second third and fourth classes independent school districts and certain poor districts permitting cities of the second class to accept the provisions of this act and become subject thereto and repealing existing laws

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that is under consideration at the present time is House Bill No. 1073. In all due respect to the gentleman from Montgomery county, I want to say that this is not altogether my bill. This is a part of the bill known as House Bill No. 940 and was presented by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow. This is, in other words,the assessment part of No. 940. It does not pertain to a city of the first class but only pertains to cities of the second class, providing that the cities of the second class accept the provisions of that bill. I have said to some of the gentlemen from Allegheny that because of the fact that the city of Pitsburgh has practically the same things that is contained in this bill, and if they so desire, if the bill passed the House and reached the Senate, that I would agree to have the bill amended in the Senate to exclude that city altogether, although it really does exclude them and it leaves it up to them whether or not they want to accept its provisions. Now, in order that I might explain why my name is attached to this bill; I have been accused by the gentleman from Montgomery County of larceny, and as I am called to plead at the present time, I will have to plead guilty. I believe that that part of Bill No. 940 was a good part of this bill. I find that a great many districts throughout the State were satisfied with that part of it, but were not satisfied with the tax collection part. Therefore, I asked the gentleman from Montgomery and the gentleman from Beaver who was interested in Bill No. 940 to separate the two bills so that we might save the assessment bill. This, however, they refused to do and I prepared Bill No. 1073, and made it a separate bill. Now, there is another reason why, at the present time, I am submitting this bill to this House. This, of course, is one of the new programs. Several of them have been presented, and I am presenting this one to you to give you a chance if you want it, to vote for it and I want to show you the reason I am interested in it at the present time, and why I think it should pass. You know at the present time all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and even in your own counties one of the greatest evils today is assessing evil. You, in one township, assess your properties at seventy-five or eighty per cent, while the property adjoining yours, which may be in another township, may be assessed at forty per cent. Now, if you have a county tax of three mills, as Delaware County has, you are paying twice as much in taxes as the man who is adjoining you, and whose property is worth just as much as yours. There is no greater evil than an inequality in assessments. As far as taxes are concerned throughout the State, the greatest of any qualities lies in the assessments, because if you and I both carry the same burden of taxation neither one of us complains, but if you are carrying just twice as much of a load as the other man is, then we commence to holler "ouch! it is hurting, it is pinching." Now, one of the best evidences of good I can see in this bill is that the City of Philadelphia, or the first class cities, have practically the same system that is in this bill. The second class cities have practically the same thing, and it is for the same purpose and the same principles are involved and the same results obtained. The equalization in taxation and in their asessments is better then in the country districts, and I want for the country districts just as good assessments, just as good regulations, as the large cities of the Commonwealth have. Further than that there is another reason: There was a resolution passed by this House and passed by the Senate and is now in the hands of the Governor calling for a commission to examine into the question of taxation. In this Commowealth, in other states and in other countries, and recommending to the next Legislature a scheme better than we think we have at the present time. I know that that resolution meets with almost the unanimous, if not the unanimous, consent of this House and of the Senate. Now, it is my hope that that commission if they meet, will organize some scheme of taxation, of raising revenues as is done in many other states at the present time, and especially in the large State of New York, in which they don't only take care of the revenues of that Commonwealth istelf, but also relieves the municipalities and the local districts of the burden of taxation. Now, the trouble in those states that do not have an equalization board such as this is that the returns made by the state must have some basis upon which those returns are made, and therefore they are made upon the basis of their local assessment, and as is done over in the State of New York at the present time, where the tax commissioners complain because they do not have an equalization board such as this, there are some districts receiving forty per cent of the amount which they should receive and other districts are receiving seventy-five and eighty per cent of the amount that they should receive. Therefore, in order to have an equalization such as this is, so that an organization working on a revenue proposition such as this is may work harmoniously together and on an equalized basis, I have taken this bill and presented it at this time and am now submitting it for your consideration. You are as much interested in it as I am. I have explained it to you now as to its purposes and have pointed out to you its qualities, and it is up to you.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the fact that the gentleman from Delaware is very sincere in his intentions, and that when this bill passes it will be amended in the Senate, but I believe the proper place to consider this bill is right in this House and before these members. The members from Allegheny County object to a board of assessors for the revision of taxes being taken out of the hands of the Allegheny commissioners and placed into the hands of the judges. It seems that in this session of the Legislature there is an epidemic to give control to the judges. First, we had a jury bill, which attempted to place that in the hands of the judges. Next, we followed that up by trying to vest the powers of other legislation in the hands of the judges, and in view of the fact that the system in Allegheny county has been satisfactory by reason of the fact that in years gone by, the Board of Assessment Revision was placed in the hands of the judges and subsequently placed in the hands of the Commissioners, and we believe that the system in vogue at the present time is right and sensible, I would ask the members of this House to vote this bill down.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House this looks like an effort to give us in small separate doses the same medicine that we rejected last night. Now, I feel that the same objections that we had against 940 prevail now. I know that in my district, in my county at least the people are opposed very much to the passage of this bill. If this bill were to be enacted into law, it would mean that in many cases, the assessors would come out from the city and make the assessments in the rural districts, where they are not familiar with values and vice versa. They would go in some cases from the rural districts making the assessments in the cities. Now, there are a number of reasons, but I don't wish to take up the time of this House any longer, simply to say that I want to register my protest against the passage of this bill and I ask you to vote it down.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KUNKLE. Does the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Alexander, feel that this bill, as amended, is in accordance with the Constitution and now properly before the members of this House?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Are there any lines out? If the gentleman will point to any special paragraph or section, I may be able to answer it. I think it is, as far as I know.

Mr. KUNKLE. I understand that the bill was prepared by you.

Mr. ALEXANDER. No, it was prepared by Mr. Ludlow. I stole it from him.

Mr. KUNKLE. You have, in the preparation of this bill that you are sponsoring, you have paragraphs, section 108, and jumped from Section 108 to Section 201, and from Section 213 to Section 301, and from Section 401 and from Section 438 to Section 501. Where are the intervening sections?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, this may have the same objection as the one to which I objected earlier in the day, and in answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland, it may, if it is not constitutional, meet with the same objection as the other one. I might say further, however, that it is a pity to go clear to Westmoreland to interrogate a man on the question, when the gentleman from Armstrong might have done it a good deal easier and I might not have had to holler so loud to answer him.

Mr. KUNKLE. I would like to call your atention, on page 5, line 15, to the word "meders," and page 7, line 7, the word "annaul"; on page 13, line 5,

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that there is a mistake on the part of the printers here in this bill, and therefore, in order to have it properly and constitutionally printed, I move that this bill be referred back to the committee in the proper and orderly way for amendments.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MINEHART. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in the first place, I ask that the regular constitutional provision be carried out and the bill be properly reported back to a committee. This bill it not properly on the calendar or on the files, therefore it is not properly before this House, and for that reason, in my opinion, it cannot be considered in any way at this time. On the other hand, it seems to me that the members of this House, if the gentleman from Westmoreland thinks that I am wrong and it is constitutional and properly on the files, I think the members of this House should have a right to say whether or not they want it passed. I have no special interest regarding it, but it seems to me that it should go through in the regular way. I want a regular procedure. That is all I have been demanding all day, and if the other gentleman would do the same thing, we would have little quarreling.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman from Westmoreland can see his way clear to withdraw his motion with the consent of the seconder, so that we can go to the bat upon the bill. It is perfectly proper for us to take an entirely consistent attitude in these matters. The gentleman from Delaware has been hoisted by his own petard. It was shown very clearly today that his point of view in reference to mistakes in spelling is an impossible point of view when it comes to legislating, and I am confident that the gentleman from Westmoreland will overlook the mistakes in spelling that there are in this bill. Now. it seems to me that it is perfectly right and proper, inasmuch as we understand what it is about, for us to go to bat and vote on the bill, and I hope sincerely that we can do it.

MOTION WITHDRAWN.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to withdraw my motion.

Mr. MINEHART. Mr. Speaker I withdraw my second to the motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, and the second of the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Minehart, is withdrawn.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, now that the House has decided that it is immaterial whether we bury or cremate, I want to relieve the minds of those present of just one thing. The gentleman from Delaware has accused me of in turn accusing him of larceny. That is not so. Mr. Marshall and I had adopted two twins, assessment and collection, and he came along and said, "I would like to adopt one of your twins, assessment;" and we said, "No" So he simply kidnapped it; that is all there was to it. Now, so far as the minor points of spelling is all there was to it. Now, so far as the minor points of spelling, and os forth, are concerned, I think we can very well go to the bat on the merits of the bill, and I don't want to be heard on that. I do want to say this, however, that if Bill No. 1073 is to be brought before you for consideration, in Mr. Alexander's behalf, I want to say that it lacks a very material clause. At the end of Bill No. 940, which you so considerately and democratically buried in the early hours of this morning, there was a clause providing that all acts passed at this session of the Legislature on the same subject matter be saved and that 940 should supercede it. That is not the case with Bill No. 1073, now under consideration; and therefore, if you adopt the bill, as you have a perfect right to do you will defeat, for example, the two bills introduced by Mr. Edmonds, which were passed by the Senate and approved by the Governor, relating to the personal property tax, which was a part of Bill No. 940 and is now a part of bill No. 1073, having been saved by a saving clause which is now buried and there is no saving clause in this other bill.

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman who sponsored Bill No. 940 don't seem to have confidence in even this part of his bill, I move that it be dropped from the calendar, and thus save further trouble.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ogle, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OGLE. Without any election upon my part, I happened to occupy a seat in the firing zone tonight, and while in conversation on the important measure then occupying the attention of the House, I was blinded by a discharge from some battery to my right, which struck me squarely in the face, breaking my highly-prized glasses and cutting my left cheek. What concerns me most now, is the repair of the glasses, whether that is to be paid out of the contingency fund of the House by the Chief Clerk or whether it shall, in the absence of the culprit, deliberately coming forward and confessing his fault and paying the damages be paid by direction of the House out of the contingent fund. I trust, Mr. Speaker, that during the remainder of the session a more tender regard may be paid for the gentlefen who occupy the seats in my tier and that these broken parts of calendars and discarded newspapers and cuspidors will not be turned into the instruments of a "roughhouse", but that we may proceed decently and orderly and in a dignified manner to conclude the business of this House.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman, under his question of personal privilege, will be spread upon the Journal. The Chair desires to say further, that he has a distinct recollection of the session referred to, when the gentleman was seriously injured by a piece of paper thrown without malicious intent; but true it is, that most of us have but two eyes and the loss of either or both of them would be a matter of some inconvenience as well as the source of lasting regret to any one who might cause such an accident. The Chair would ask the members to indulge in this form of relaxation as mildly as possible.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, I heartily concur in the voice of the gentlman from Somerset and also in the remarks of the Speaker, and if it is absolutely necessary that the members must have something to play with, I am perfectly willing to buy some tin rattles so that they can amuse themselves to their hearts' content and without injuring others by so doing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 926, as follows:

An Act to amend section twenty-three of an act approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Yes, sir.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Will you kindly explain to the members of the House the intent and purpose of this bill.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, as I take it the primary intent of this bill is to include under the eight mills gross receipts taxation law of 1879, revised by the law of 1899 to take in more particularly the hydro-electric companies of the State. At the present time these companies do not pay any taxes because they are not designated as water power companies, and they are not designated as electric companies. There is a large project on the Susquehanna River by men I understand largely from outside of the State of Pennsylvania, and they pay no taxes; there is a project being formed on the Clarion River at the mouth of the Clarion on the Allegheny at Oxburg, Clarion county, where there will be many millions expended, and that company will be absolutely tax free if this bill is not enacted into law. Then aside from this you will find at the present time under the eight mills gross tax receipts law that transportation companies, that is, all railroads, pipe lines, steam boat, canals, slack water navigation companies, and transportation companies, street passenger railways, pay the eight mill tax on the gross receipts. Now this bill includes therein taxicabs, auto bus lines, and truck transportation companies. It does not include truck transportation companes which are incorporated and are already paying a tax. You will notice that telegraph and telephone companies are taxed under the present law on the eight mills on the gross receipts. This taxes any individual partnership, firm or unincorporated association, and so on and so forth. At the present time the palace car and sleeping car companies are taxed, but not the water power companies. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the House before and I want to say to you who voted against it before that it is an effort on the part of the Auditor General to equalize the imposing of the eight mills gross receipts tax feeling that that classfication of lines of all companies or all business that comes within the same as are not now included under the act of 1889 shall be brought thereunder. This bill will raise a considerable sum of money and is imposed upon those companies which logically should pay. I therefore ask the House to support this measure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to get a few figures again on the taxing question, to see if there have been changes in the last day or two. What was the profits tax to raise?

Mr. WONER. The estimate on the net profits tax, Bill No. 1648, is about twelve to fourteen million dollars in the biennium.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And the gasoline tax passed last night, how much is that?

Mr. WONER. The estimate on that is between six and seven million dollars.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That makes from eighteen to nineteen million dollars, those two tax raisers. There has also been reported by the Ways and Means Committee a fifty per cent increase in license taxes for automobiles. Is that correct?

Mr. WONER. There was reported today, Bill No. 1118, known as the Blair bill, which proposes a fifty per cent. increase in the license fees of all motor vehicles having a horse-power of twenty-five or more. Now, then, members of the House, I hope the gentleman who interrogated me will be indulgent for inasmuch as that question has been raised I feel that there should be an explanation made. This, it is estimated, will raise about $7,000,000 and it is not going to be presented to this House with the idea that the gas tax is also to be enacted into law, but it is the alternative proposition before you, and is on special order for 4:30 tomorrow evening with the idea that if the House, in its wisdom, thinks that the imposing of the additional license upon higher-powered cars is wiser or better or more reputable than the plan that imposes a tax on gasoline, which catches all who use gasoline, including the owners of the lower-powered cars, if you think that is a wiser proposition than the gas proposition, the proposal is that this shall go to the Senate and the Senate will adopt either one of the two, but by no means and under no circumstances any more than one of these proposals.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman allow himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WONER. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Aren't we, if this thing keeps on, all likely to be inflicted with the tax mania pretty soon, all be "taxidermists"?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the amount of money that we are required to raise in order that the State may be able to pay its expenses is somewhat a matter of discussion, somewhat a matter of compromise. We have dealt in figures and we have doubled them and turned them and rolled them until we have come to the conclusion that figures amount to very little. We have gone over the proposition and find that we will have to raise about $20,000,000 in order to square and to clean up the debts of the State and to balance the budget; and so we are not thinking of raising any more than the $20,000,000. This particular bill, while we are asked the question, will not raise a vast amount of money. The Auditor General estimates that it will amount to about $200,000. It depends upon the number of hydroelectric companies that spring up throughout the State. My good colleague, Mr. McCurdy, has advised me that there are a number along the Juniata River. Now why permit those companies to go without paying any tax, when the other incorporated companies in the State are compelled to pay the eight mills gross receipts tax.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't know what we are going to have next by way of tax raising. The gentleman has told you about the rolling of figures and of figuring this way and that way. I think a certain old maxim has been pretty well demonstrated to this House during this session, and that is the old saying that "figures won't lie, but liars will figure." There is something wrong somewhere, but I don't know whether we are going to contract a mania for raising taxes here or not. We have been a good while in getting started, but we are certainly rolling and rolling and rolling as the gentleman has said, not only in figures but rolling in taxes. I think we have about reached the limit so far as taxes are concerned. The next tax I would suggest, if any, would be a sin tax, and then stop.

Mr. WONER. I am heartily glad that my good colleague from Delaware has questioned me on taxes. I want to refer, members of the House, to the excellent somersault which our distinguished friend has taken on the tax question in the last few weeks. On Monday, May 14, 1923, when we had the famous tax progam before the House, Mr. Alexander was a very ardent, a very enthusiastic, in fact, a very vehement advocate of the whole tax program, and among other things he said: "We today should straighten up our backbone a little bit and take our responsibilities as they come, not fliching when a responsibility meets us but as men and women, face that responsibility as we should face it. When I take into consideration what has been said here tonight about the raising of taxes and I look to our sister state, the great state of New York, and I see the action of their Legislature and then compare it with us here tonight, I confess that I am almost ashamed of myself. The great State of New York not only appropriated $158,000,000 for one year, but they have, like men and women, raised that $158,000,000 and weren't afraid of that responsibility,"

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. The gentleman is not speaking on the question. Mr. Alexander is not on trial before the members of this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I don't wish to impose anything on the House, but it occurs to me that the relevancy of the gentleman's opposition to the tax tonight on what he said on May 14th is particularly pertinent. I haven't anything further to say.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I want him to go ahead. I want a chance to answer. This is fine.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner.

Mr. WONER. Yes sir.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Do you favor the Code?

Mr. WONER. Very strikingly so.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Then why cause an expense upon the State for printing the speech a second time?

Mr. WONER. I confess, Mr. Speaker, that if you will examine the records of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania for the session of 1923, you will find about one hundred words spoken by the gentleman from Lackawanna to one that I have spoken that caused expense in printing.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is unnecessary for me to show you the difference between today and the time that last speech was made. At that time we had no tax whatever. At that time we were told by certain people, even though I said what I did, we were told that we needed taxes. On that night, this very bill that he is speaking about was one of them that was voted down by this House. After that, I followed it up to find whether the rest of the members of this House were correct or whether I was wrong, and I found after getting the report from the Auditor General that I was wrong, and when I find that I am wrong, I am willing to admit it and I don't propose to go ahead after a man shows me where I am wrong and insist that I am not; and I say tonight that I believe that the night the rest of this House voted against taxes they were right and I was wrong, and that is the reason I am opposing that at the present time, notwithstanding that the night that speech was made we hadn't a nickel. At the present time according to his own confession, we have raised now, eighteen millions of dollars, which was all the Governor has ever said that we needed, and therefore, why do we go on any further with it?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAMS—4.

Alexander,
Baker.
Fields,
Stavitski,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1288, entitled:

An Act to provide for the compensation of institutions maternity hospitals and homes for service rendered in care of indigent dependent neglected and delinquent children and indigent persons in maternity hospitals or homes on a per capita per weekly basis fixing the method of giving such compensation classifying institutions coming under the provisions of this act and prescribing minimum standards of equipment and service

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he knows what the expense will be to carry out the provisions of this bill.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this is a companion bill to the one which just passed. I yielded to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman, who was chairman of the sub-committee on the part of the Appropriations Committee, and he is more familiar with the facts with regard to this question.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to say to the gentleman from Delaware that I don't know the cost of administering the bill. I would like to say to the gentleman from Delaware that these bills were in that committee and were prepared originally by the Department of Welfare in conformity with plans they had, relative to the control and government of hospitals and homes, and as the gentleman from Delaware knows, the committee on appropriations and also the committee on Judiciary General, changed those plans quiet materially, deciding upon individual appropriations, changing the per diem rates, and so forth. Now Mr. Speaker, the amendements which would make this bill conform with the revised plan, have been prepared and they are in my hands, and the reason they have not been presented is that they were just made ready yesterday, and the reason they have not been presented is that I intended to present them in the Senate in case the measure would go through the House. The bill as it stands now, I am authorized to state, would not do, it must be amended, and I think the gentleman from Delaware will take the word of the sponsor of the bill to the effect that he will register no objection to the amendments made in the Senate. This will avoid the delay of reading the amendments which would take considerable time.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the reason I asked this question which is partly answered by the sponsor and only partly answered by the gentleman from Westmoreland who says he does not know what the answer would be, but the answer from the sponsor of the bill indicates that there were three companion bills passed yesterday, regulating, regulating, regulating. The one preceeding this regulated, and the other bill was a bill regulating. I do not know where we are going to get with this welfare business after a while. It seems to me we are going beyond all reason in the matter. The old board of charities, which as I understood properly took care of this business of the hospitals and these homes and the people who are interested in all this work, they knew what they were doing, and they were working heart and soul in this without recompense purely for the honor of doing it and for the love of doing it, and that was costing this Commonwealth from $40,000 to $60,000 a biennium to carry it on, while we have had a request from the Welfare Department at this time for $325,000. Two years ago when this department was organized I said on the floor of this House that in another year it would cost us $300,000 and in a short time after that it would be $500,000, and if we kept on it would not be long before we had a million dollars. That is comming through, and if we continue with that condition day in and day out, every week it will be piling up, piling up, piling up. Now it takes inspectors, it takes an overhead in this department, and every time you put in a bill of this kind you can readily see that this department has to pay some one to take care of it. If that is the idea that this great Commonwealth is going to be a great big charitable institution after a while you can readily see that the Welfare Department is going to be a pretty big department to keep up. I want to call your attention to that. I want you to know something about the working of the old board. We had a board at that time, and never during their existence was there ever a question of suspicion, they were doing charity because they loved it and they were willing to do it, and there are thousand of other people in this Commonwealth today that are willing to do it. The people of these districts that this board wants to regulate are spending their time and spending their money for the purpose of helping these poor helpless children who need this help, and are doing it absolutely for nothing, and then we have here this Board of Welfare that wants to go into these homes and go into these places and regulate the people who are doing this work, in order to carry out the mandates of the Master doing charity and doing their utmost for nothing, and this board, at a great expense to the State, wants to regulate, regulate, regulate, and it will not only cause the Commonwealth to pay a barrel of money, but those people who are doing this charity for the love of it, it is going to cost them a lot of money, possibly, and I think it is about time that somebody called a halt on this welfare business.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to try and answer the gentleman from Delawre but I simply want to state to you that this is one of a series of five bills, four of which the House has passed. If you will permit this bill to pass, it will be amended in the Senate and every one will have an opportunity to study the amendments made in the Senate. The only reason the amendments were not introduced here was that it would take up so much time to read it section by section. If the Senate amends the bill and it goes through the Senate you can refuse to concur in those amendments. I do not intend to get into an argument with the gentleman from Delaware, it is rather too late in the day, and besides that we have already agreed to four out of the five bills.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1355, entitled:

An act to exempt from payment of inheritance taxes bequests and devices to institutions of purely public charity

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if the bill under consideration becomes a law to what amount it will affect the annual revenues of the State?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, I wrote a letter to the Auditor General, making that same inquiry, and his answer was that there is no separation on the records of his department of the moneys received on bequests and devices to any charitable institutions, within the meaning of the constitution. So I can only give you the total of the amount of all the collateral inheritance tax during the years 1921 and 1922. During the year 1921 the collateral inheritance tax paid to the State of Pennsylvania, from all sources whatsoever, whether they were brother or sister, nephew or niece, or persons not of the blood, or a charitable institution, the total was $798,306.37, whereas in the next year, 1922 the total from all sources was $408,309.29, and I am advised that the large item of the prior year was due to a very large extent to the payment of the collateral inheritance tax on the Frick estate in Allegheny County. I am further advised that the same bill, in the same words has passed the Senate and is now on its way over here, and probably has reached the desk of the Speaker, that this bill was introduced by Senator Patton and has passed the Senate and is on its way here. Today Senator Patton called to see me and asked me whether we would not pass this bill without waiting for his bill to reach the floor of the House because the calendar of the Senate is not so congested as that of the House and that it could go through the Senate at once, whereas the other bill might be lost in the suffle in the next week. I might say further that the situation has cleared up a little bit in the last month, and he may have met the situation ere this. Similar bills have been introduced, as my friend from Tioga knows, in prior Legislatures, which passed the Legislature but have for one reason or another been vetoed by the Governor. When Mr. Hampton Carson was Attorney General, he filed an opinion with the then Governor that such an act was entirely constitutional. In a conversation with Mr. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau over a month ago, he ventured an oposite opinion and said that such an act would be unconstitutional. However, during the month of May the supreme court of this State handed down an opinion by Justice Simpson in the Frick Estate, eminating from Allegheny County, in construing the act of 1919 exempting from the collateral inheritance tax, bequests and devises to municipalities counsel on both sides conceded the constitutionality of such an act, because Senator Reed was on one side and Senator Pepper was on the other, and there are no two lawyers in the State more able, and the question of constitutionality was not raised. Justice Simpson uses this sentence, which must be of interest to every member of the House when they consider a bill of this kind. "The argument took a wide range possibly because of the belief regarding the importance of the question raised, due partly to the large amounts involved, and perhaps also because of the conviction which the writer shares," and this is the important sentence, "That the State should have as a part of its public policy the refusal to tax any gift for a purely public charity since no valid reason can be given for taxing the public for the benefit of the public." What this act does is to exempt from taxation which finally comes into the public coffers a bequest or devise to an institution, a purely public charity, which in itself is an object of interest to every civic and social or municipality body in our Commonwealth. In many cases the same money goes into one pocket and goes out by appropriation to the other pocket. The auditor general cannot answer the question asked by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, nor can I answer it, but I can say that the total from all sources for the biennium was $1,200,000, and you can, it is a matter of guess work, approximate the amount that is for institutions of purely public charities. About six weeks ago there was a large headline in the Harrisburg Telegraph which said so-and-so dies and leaves $100,000 to charity. Under the existing law that is not the fact. When so-and-so dies and leaves $100,000 to charity, he leaves $100,000 less $10,000 which comes to the State of Pennsylvania. That seemed so inherently unfair that this bill was introduced to relieve that condition. The same bill, as I say, has passed the Senate.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 200, as follows:

An Act providing for the assistance of voters at General Municipal or Special Elections regulating the manner and return thereof providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter no voter at any General Municipal or Special Election be permited to receive any assistance in the marking of his or her ballot unless said voter shall first make affidavit upon a form to be provided by the County Commissioners or upon a similar form that he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or that because of a physical disability which said voter shall specify in the affidavit he or she is unable to mark the ballot and upon making such an affidavit that he or she is unable to mark the ballot because he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or because of physical disability the judge of election shall permit the voter to'select a duly qualified voter of his or her election district to assist in marking the ballot in the voting compartment

The affidavits so made by the voters requesting assistance in marking his or her ballot because he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or because of physical disability at the close of election shall be enclosed by the judge of election with the other papers required by law to be filed with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county subject to the same examination as other election papers

Section 2 Whenever any voter shall be assisted as aforesaid in marking his or her ballot because he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or because of physical disability it shall be the duty of the majority and minority inspectors of the election to enter in separate lists the names of the voters receiving the assistance and the name of the person assisting in marking the ballot opposite the name of the voter

One of the lists so made shall be deposited by the judge of election in the ballot box and the other list shall be enclosed in a sealed cover directed to and filed of public record with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county

Section 3 Any voter who for the purpose of receiving assistance in the marking of his or her ballot shall falsely make oath or declare that because he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he or she is unable to mark his or her ballot or who without having made the affidavit provided for in this act shall permit another to accompany him or her into the voting compartment or shall permit another person to mark his or her ballot for him or her shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) and to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years

Section 4 Any person who shall accompany a voter into a voting compartment without the said voter having first made an affidavit as provided in this act that he or she cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he or she is unable to mark his or her ballot or who shall accompany a voter into the voting compartment when the affidavit as provided in his act which the voter has made is false to the knowledge of such person or shall attempt to influence the vote of the voter whom he or she is assisting or who shall mark a ballot in any other way than that requested by the voter whom he or she is assisting or any member of the election board permitting a voter to be assisted in marking his or her ballot contrary to the provisions of this act or any judge of election who shall fail to properly file and return affidavits and other papers required by this act or by law to be filed and returned to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county or any inspectors of election who shall fail to keep a separate list of voters receiving assistance in marking his or her ballot and the person assisting as provided in this act shall for each such offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars ($2,000) and to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years

Section 5 The invalidity of any portion of this act shall in no wise affect the validity of any other portion thereof which can be given effect without such invalid portion

Section 6 That the twenty-sixth section of the Act of Assembly entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill provides that any voter requesting assistance must make an affidavit that he or she canot read the names on the ballot or because of a physical disbility is unable to mark the ballot without assistance. After making the affidavit the voter is permitted to select any duly qualified voter of his or her election district to assist in marking the ballot. Under the present bill the voter merely asks for assistance and it cannot be denied him, no matter how intelligent, no matter how sound physically, and the judge of elections is without authority to refuse him assistance. I think that every member of this House knows the loop holes of corruption that this bill closes. I think that every member of this House knows that when a man can go into the booth with the voter and mark his ballot that he can see positively that that vote is delivered. This bill does not deny the right to vote to any qualified voter, and would not impose any hardship upon any voter. I do not think it would cause any more embarrassment for a voter to make an affidavit to receive assistance because of the fact that he cannot read than it would under the present law where he merely asks for assistanc. No real objection can be made to this bill, because it simply applies to the general elections the law that now applies to the primary elections. I realize that certain politicians do not want a law of this kind, but I know that the people do. I have here letters from the Civic Club of Philadelphia and from a number of organizations of this State endorsing this bill. In the interest of fair play and common justice to the people, whose only means of expressing their word in their government is the ballot, which this bill seeks to safeguard, I earnestly ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I must disagree with my democratic colleague from Lancaster County that no reasonable objection could be raised to offset the argument that he has made concerning this bill. This bill, as he has stated, seems to provide for the granting of assistance to the voters who need it, but in fact, as it works out, it doesn't do that, but it does the reverse. It disfranchises somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty to twenty-five thousand voters in the city of Philadelphia alone, and I know not how many in the great State of Pennsylvania. In order that we may know exactly why this bill has been introduced and why it is urged at this time, let me read from a pamphlet which has been distributed in the House, which contains the following words: "In limiting assistance to the physically disabled voter this bill is in line with healthy public sentiment which has been reflected in the literacy test incorporated in the immigration bill, which limits the franchise to those ca- and of American citizenship." Now Mr. Speaker I contend that when the Legislature of 1893 passed the general election law and included in it a clause which provided that a voter who needs assistance by reason of being unable to read or being physically disabled, they had cognizance of the fact that unfortunately there were such people in existence. We are aware there are thousands of people who have not had the benefit of any education and who have not been as fortunate perhaps as we have been. Therefore why should they be deprived of the right of suffrage, which is a universal right, which is a constitutional right, which the constitution recognizes and does not attempt to take away, for there is no such requirement in the constitution of the United States or in the laws of Pennsylvania which imposes a literacy test upon any of the voters of this United States. The constitution of the State of Pensylvania concurs with the federal instrument in providing the same right of suffrage. However, there are certain requirements which are imposed upon the citizens which must be complied with before they can vote. Nowhere within the constitution can I find any restrictions requirement concerning the necessity of taking an affidavit as to physical disability when a voter desires assistance at the polls in order to vote intelligently and in the way that he desires. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, we must come to the conclusion that so long as we have universal suffrage that there should be no restrictions placed upon the voter which will make it more difficult for him to exercise the right of suffrage, or which would prevent any number of voters from coming to the polls to cast their votes knowing they needed assistance. During the course of many years our liberal naturalization laws have made it possible for many of the people of the old world to come to our shores and make their homes here and become naturalized citizens. Some of these have not had the advantages of the public school system as we have had, and therefore are deficient in education, some being unable to read and write. As you must admit, this is not a disgrace but there are some persons so constituted that rather than admit it by taking an affidavit in public to the effect that they cannot read or write, they will forego the privilege of suffrage which the law now gives them. This fact is borne out year after year in every election, in which thousands of people who have been registered have not voted. They have stayed at home, and there is no doubt in my mind but that some of them stayed at home for this very reason. I feel that this is not fair, and that it is not American to bestow upon these people, who number thousands, the right of suffrage, and at the same time limit that right by imposing upon them the requirement which is specified as a requirement in the provisions of the constitution. If this bill passes, many thousands of voters would in effect be disfranchised on this account. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you not to pass this law and not to deprive these people of the right to vote, because if this bill becomes a law you can readily see that soon we would be in the position where only persons of education and culture will be able to vote, and those less fortunate in educational qualifications would be deprived of their constitutional right.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, the bill which is introduced by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Howell, has been the subject of some little interest in my own city, and bcause of the importance of the subject matter it presented, I sent inquiries around to the people of the State familiar with the election conditions and asked their judgment upon it. To my mind the proposition involved in this bill is very clear. At the present time it is more difficult to get assistance at the primary election than it is at the general election, and the proposition involved in this bill is to make the law uniform, so that it applies to both sets of elections. Now what is the objection to assistance? If a voter is physically disabled or unable to read or write, he or she has a right to assistance and have at both times, but in the general election the voter may secure assistance by simply asking for it, and that makes the way open for corruption. The object of this bill is to prevent that kind of corruption which comes up when the voter asks for assistance, receives assistance in marking his ballot as the consummation of a corrupt agreement with the man who is to mark his ballot. There is no one in the city of Philadelphia who has given more careful attention to election laws than Thomas Raeburn White, well known as a member of the bar and as counsel to the committee of seventy, and recently, I believe, since the death of Mr. Winston, Chairman of the Committee of Seventy. Allow me to read his letter:

"I have your letter of April 21st. The bill to which you call my attention, House Bill 200, is a very good one. It strikes at the worst abuse now existing in the election machinery—the wholesale violation of the secrecy of the ballot under the pretense of affording assistance to voters. For many years the committee of seventy has been engaged in investigating abuses at elections. Its experience has shown that at some elections great numbers of voters are either intimidated or bribed; this is only possible where the ballot of the voter is inspected when he marks it in the booth. At close elections in many election districts of the City every voter, when he approaches the rail to obtain his ballot, is told he needs assistance and is practically forced to permit a district leader to go with him into the booth to observe how his ballot is marked or to mark it for him. You ask for some specific instances. Several years ago an election was carefully investigated where this evil was especially prevalent, and the Committee of Seventy found that not less than 38,000 voters had their ballots marked for them under the plea that they needed assistance. At this election one respectable Italian was assaulted and thrown from the polling booth in an unconscious condition because he attempted to reject the proffered assistance of the division leader, and to go alone to mark his ballot. A former member of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, now dead, told me that he had often personally assisted 250 voters in his district, whose votes had been purchased. The method used, he said, was to mark the ballot in the booth and hand it to the voter together with the sum agreed upon, and then watch him while he deposited the ballot in the box. I have no hesitation in saying that unlawful assistance to voters is the last stronghold of the election crook, and it will be a very great step in advance if the bill to which you have called my attention can be enacted into law."

Now Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill involved a very grave question and we are asked to put our stamp of approval on the secrecy of the ballot. If a man cannot read or write and is physically unable to mark the ballot, he can get that assistance under the primary election law, but if a man is able to mark his ballot he ought to do it himself. When a man is able to mark a ballot and yet wants someone else to assist him, there is a corrupt intent there, and where there is a corrupt intent which affects the elections, it strikes at the very fundamentals of the republican scheme of government, and it seems to me that this is a good bill and it should prevail.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I have been quite active in politics all my life, and have had some experience both at home and abroad. For over ten years I have listened to arguments like my friend from Philadelphia made, and I have had a little experience along that line. Let me give you an illustration. Only recently the women were given the right to vote and the first election was a primary election. When election day came along the women came in and requested assistance, but there was a man who stood there at the poll and said, "You cannot have assistance until you make an affidavit." Now if the argument of my friend should prevail, what would happen in the case of a husband and wife, where the wives wanted their husbands to come in and assist them in marking their ballots? My friend's argument that every man, that every husband who went into the booth to assist his wife in marking her ballot is corrupt, is maliciously false. How many husbands are there now, and there are a good many, that come down and help their wives mark their ballot? Is that wrong? If the husband wants the wife to go in with him, we should allow him that privilege, but a bill of this kind would prevent that. When a woman comes to the polls she is generally accompanied by her husband or brother or someone else, and if she wants that person to go in with her, we should not deny them that right.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if they do not have sample ballots in his election district, upon which it may be possible for the husband and wife to prepare their vote, for them to decide upon their vote?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, we have sample ballots, but I must say that most of the women are not yet familiar with the sample ballots, or even are aware that we have them, and the men do not take them home. I don't know of a single man or woman who has asked for a sample ballot.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from the Fifth District spoke both of the secrecy of the ballot and of the sample ballot. I would like the gentleman from Philadelphia to explain to me how there is any more secrecy in a man asking another elector to mark a sample ballot for him than there is in having your neighbor go into the booth and mark the original ballot?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I will try to enlighten my colleague. The answer is this: If the voter takes a sample ballot and goes into the both, he has the discretion in the matter, and he marks the ballot and gives it to the judges. So far as the other case is concerned, when the other man goes in with him, it is different. The other man sees what he does and knows it.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, as I see it then, it places a premium on a man being a petty cheater, and saying to his neighbor, "Please give me assistance and show me how to mark my ballot". and then say, "I am going to fool you, I am not going to follow the assistance for which I have asked". Now, I think I have taken the proper deduction from it. But members of the House, the secrecy of the ballot is for the protection of the individual. When I desire secrecy in my own ballot, that it is for my protection as an individual, and not for the protection of the community at large. This bill means nothing more than the disfranchisement of a great many people who otherwise would be able to vote. The present day ballot is so large and complicated that even though the ordinary person can read a newspaper and can read and write his own name and can read english fairly well, it is almost impossible for him to intelligently mark a ballot, and I submit that thought to you men who come from a district where the population is more or less cosmopolitan. They may be able to read, they may be able to write, but when you give them a ballot, sometimes in Philadelphia our ballot are over four feet long and have several names on them, I am corrected by my friend Mr. Marcus, I think it was five feet long in one of the recent elections, and when you have hundreds of names on them, how can they intelligently mark that ballot? Now then the voter who desires assistance has the right to select anyone within his own choosing to go into the booth with him. Now is it your thought that if a voter comes to the election booth and asks for assistance and when one of his neighbors in whom he has faith, there is any corruption if that man shows him how to mark the ballot. Is there any corruption in placing a premium upon the friendship and honestly and confidence of one of your own neighbors? I do not see it. Now there are committees n Philadelphia, committees of seventy or thirty, whatever you please, whose principle function seems to be not to find the good there exists in things which are for the benefit of the intelligent voter of the State, but they seem to find those things from which unfair inference can be drawn and they immediately see upon the unfair inference. To my mind it seems their nature is to see how many faults they can find, and they disregard the virtue and say, "This things must be regulated." It is only too true as the gentleman from Delaware has said, "Regulation, regulation and more regulation". I cannot see where we are helping any corruption if we allow a man to ask his own friends, in whom he has confidence, to go into the booth and mark his ballot. I say even though a man may be physically strong, he may be able to read and write but I say there are a great many people who cannot intelligently mark a ballot. I know from practical experience that a great many people come to vote and they ask for assistance and they could go in and read the ballots, but I am sure a great many of them could not intelligently mark a ballot; when you place ballots before them in which in one column there are four or five names, and it says "vote or two," you find intelligent men who can read and write who are physically able, who will probably mark five instead of two, because they do not understand. I have gone into the booth myself. I have gone in with my mother and marked her ballot, and I have gone in with my sister, and they are just as intelligent as anyone in Philadelphia. I have never cheated anyone of them. I have given assistance to my people in my own family, and I have never cheated them, but I have helped those people vote just the way they wanted to vote. If they had been compelled to go in by themselves they probably would not have voted as they wanted to.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. I will be happy to be of assistance to the gentleman.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Did I understand you to say that if this bill becomes a law it will disfranchise twenty-five thousand voters from the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. GOLDER. I did not mention any figures, the figures were centioned by one of my colleagues, but I will say to you that a great many more people in my judgment would be disfranchised and would not be able to vote intelligently, and therefore would not vote according to their own desires, many, many times more votes would be wasted than would be placed in the ballot boxes through any unscrupulous means, which seems to be the feature which this bill attempts to correct.

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, at the general election. Now there is no affidavit required at the general election, but in two years thousands have been disfranchised at the primary election.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Then how would these people be disfranchised at the general election?

Mr. GOLDER. A great many of the people do not vote at the primary election. I think the proper step would be to make the primary election as the general election now is, instead of making the general election conform with the primary.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of Mr. Williams, I would like to follow it with just one more question to Mr. Golder. How then is it true, if your assumption of disfrachisement is correct that in two years out of the last three there were more votes at the primary than at the general election?

Mr. GOLDER. I do not know, perhaps some of the reformers could tell us about that, they seem to be in the reformed wards.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I think nearly all of the members understand the provisions of this bill. Now there has been no move made in this Legislature to repeal the law so far as the primary is concerned. If this law is good for the primary, why is it not good for the general election? I can see no reason for this. If this is a good thing in the primaries and there has been no move made to repeal this law, when this is regarded even in the City of Philadelphia as a good law, if it is a good law in the primaries why is it not good in the general election. This is only a question of fairness, and I ask every fair minded man in this House, every man in this House who believes in honest and clean government, who believes in fair play, to cast his vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1923. No. 67.

SENATE

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1923.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

The Acting Chaplain, Rev. George Edward Hawes, offered the following prayer:

O Thou Christ of God, who in Thy day upon earth didst teach us to believe that if we ask anything of the Father in Thy name it will be granted unto us: We come in and through Thee because Thou art the great Mediator and we offer our prayers in Thy name to-day. We beseech Thee that Thou wouldst remember us and in Thy mercy Thou wouldst bless us. Thou who art the Master of assemblies we pray Thee to have the mastery over this Assembly to-day: Thou who art the great mind of the ages be pleased to make the minds of these men to think the things that Thou wouldst have them think and reach the conclusions that would be wise and that Thy name may be blessed. We thank Thee Father for any wise conclusions that have been reached by this assembly in these days of deliberations and conclusion, and we pray Thee that the laws which have been enacted and which shall be enacted may all be the means of writing down the laws of Thy name and may become operative in civil life, and may make our life to be a life of better citizenship because we are doing Thy will. To-day may Thy blessing rest upon the presiding officers, upon the committees, upon all men who shall have anything to say and to do and may it be when this session shall come to a close and these men shall look back upon the work they shall have done that they shall realize that they have wrought in righteousness. Our prayer for all the transactions of this assembly is that the blessing of God may rest upon them, that the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish Thou the work of our hands upon us; Yea, the work of our hands establish Thou it, And all that we ask is in Christ, our Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

A sum equal to the amount of this appropriation actually used for the organization and administration of the provisions of this act shall be returned and paid into the general funds of the State Treasury by way of reimbursement out of the fees collected hereunder but only at such time or times or in such instalment amounts as the Commissioner may deem expedient

Section 36 This act shall take effect on the first day of the second calendar month next succeeding the date of the Governor's approval of this act except that it shall be lawful for the Commissioner to perfect his organization and to appoint a deputy or deputies and such employes as herein provided for and except that application for registration may be filed prior to said time upon public announcement by the Commissioner that his office has been sufficiently organized to receive the same

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to direct the attention of the Chair and also of the Senate to the fact that these amendments that are made on page 7 are printed in exactly the same type as the bill and that section 4 has re-appeared in the bill as amended. The italics do not appear in this file folio 5073. This bill is not the bill that was sent to the House, and therefore, it cannot be considered as per Joint Rule No. 11. I raise the point of order, that this was not the bill that was sent to the House. For further proof of that I direct the Chair's attention to page 3494 of the Legislative Journal of May 22nd. By a comparison of this bill with the Legislative Journal you will find that it is not the same bill.

The PRESIDENT. The only thing before the Senate, as the Chair understands, is the bill that was voted on by the House and sent over to the Senate for action on the amendments, which is earmarked by the House.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I direct the Chair's attention to the fact that this Senate should take cognizance that the bill that went from the Senate to the House and was sent back here is a different bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, that the House has the right to amend the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I raise the question that the bill should come back here showing the amendments that were made by the Senate and the House and they do not appear in the bill. The amendments that were made in the bill by the Senate were in italics and they do not appear in the reprint, file folio 5073, the bill that was sent back to the House. I raise the point of order that the bill that the Senate sent to the House should have been sent back here showing the amendments made by the House. It should carry with it the evvidence itself. Thereore, I raise the point that there can be no committee of conference appointed upon this bill, as we do not have before us the bill sent to the House by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is on concurring in the amendments.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I understand what the question before the Senate is. My point of order is that such a motion cannot be entertained by the Chair because you do not have the bill before you.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair, and direct the Senate's attention to the Journal of May 22nd, as a matter of a square deal to the Senate. On May 22nd, page 3494 of the Journal can be made a comparison with file folio 5073. This bill is not the bill that the Senate sent to the House and I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Allegheny to inform the Senate as to what the variations are.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to state to the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, that when this bill came from committee it was sent back and amended and the bill as it appeared contained the amendments that came to the floor and were stricken out by the Senate. They were in italics, and as this bill comes back to the Senate the section is inserted, if you please, sir, as amendments, and they are not found here in italics showing that section 4 had been inserted from the Senate and afterwards stricken out. That is my point.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, what I would like to know is whether the point the Senator is making is only that the printing is not in italics or whether he contends that certain language is eliminated.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, I beg to say that the bill before the Senate does not contain the wording as it was sent to the House.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like if the Senator from Allegheny would inform the Senate just exactly what the variations in the language is, that I may vote intelligently on the proposition.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if I am in order, I will explain to the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, and I beg to say that certain forces came to the floor of the Senate who were interested in this so-called "Blue Sky Bill" and by their work succeeded in getting an amendment to this bill that would exempt the salesmen of public service corporations and other corporations that they would not come under the jurisdiction of the Banking Commissioner. They were allowed to run over this state without any supervision on the part of the Banking Commissioner, while every other man, whether he has been in business one year or fifty, the legitimate bonding business, must bow his knee to the Banking Commissioner and these other fellows are exempt, and the purpose of the amendment would have been this, if I am still in order to explain to the Senator from Lehigh, that any corporation could come into the State of Pennsylvania, get a charter from the State of Pennsylvania and put out these agents over the State of Pennsylvania and sell stock as long as it was a public service corporation of the State of Pennsylvania, and there is no protection for the investor. That is why I asked for the elimination and it went to the House, and the same force that put it in the Senate placed it back in the House, and the bill comes into the Senate without showing that the amendment had been put in and stricken out, but comes back as though it had been part of the original bill.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, then as I understand it, the objection of the Senator from Allegheny is that it does not show in italics. What I would like to have is the bill that we sent over and the bill that comes back and to be told what words are in the bill that we sent over that are now no longer in the bill, or if it is only to show the printing in italics; that is what I am trying to find out.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I think that the entire difficulty lies in the fault of the printer. You will find that the original bill was properly amended and as it went before the committee I think that the original bill is in proper form but that the printer has neglected to put in the brackets, or to add some other part. It is merely an error on the part of the printing department and it does not seem to me it ought to interfere in our action.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, as I understand the copy on the desk, it is not a proper copy, but it is an error on the part of the printer. The difficulty is that the matter that was stricken out in the Senate should remain in the brackets and then when it was put back again it should have been printed in italics and the thing that was done, they simply removed the brackets.

The PRESIDENT. That is the Chair's understanding from the remarks of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, that is not in accordance with the rules of the House and Senate.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, it seems to me that the whole matter can be simplified by adding to the motion the appointment of a committee of conference and to insist upon the bill as originally passed by this body.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The question before the Senate is the appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. President, I call the Chair's attention to the fact

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Potter, Mr. Baldwin, will take the Chair.

(Mr. BALDWIN in the Chair.)

The PRESIDENT. Gentlemen of the Senate, the question before the Senate is the appeal from the decision of the Chair, the question being, shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I just want to state this, that if I understand the facts to be that the language in these two bills differed I would vote to sustain the appeal, but as I understand it, the language is identical and it is only in the matter of printing, that the bill coming back is not printed in italics or underscored.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Senator from Lehigh is laboring under a misapprehension. Section 4 in italics does not appear here at all. It does not appear in the bill at all as it went from the Senate. The bill is not the same as it was sent from the Senate that is the point that I make.

Mr. President. I call the Chair's attention to the fact that the Chair did not properly state the question. I raised the point of order on the bill and then the Chair ruled and I appealed from the decision of the Chair that this bill could not be considered in a Committee of Conference because it was not the bill that was sent to the House. That is the point that is before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair decides that your point of order stated the question. The question is shall the decision of the Chair be sustained as the judgment of the Senate? Those voting in the affirmative will sustain the decision of the Chair and those voting in the negative oppose the decision of the Chair.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I do not think you have stated the point of order. As I understand, the presiding officer must state the point of order that was raised and then proceed as you have done.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would say to the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Long, that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, just stated the question on the point of order that has been raised.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in order to clarify the proposition may I add that when the Chair puts the question those that vote "aye" are voting to sustain the Chair, and those voting "no" are voting not to sustain the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. Those that are in favor of sustaining the decision of the Chair will vote "aye", those opposing "no".

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. LONG and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32.

Aron, Baldwin, Betts, Brown, Buckman, Christley, Clark, Daix,
Davis, Derrick, DeWitt, Eyre, Harris, Heaton, Homsher, Kutz, MacDade, Mansfield, Miller, Norton, Phipps, Quigley, Schantz, Sisson, Smith, Sones, Sprowls, Steele, Stineman, Vare, Weaver, Woodward,

NAYS—6.

Barr, Huffman,
Joyce, Lanius,
Long,
Snyder,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The PRESIDENT. The decision of the Chair stands as the judgment of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—3.

Daix,
Long,
Mansfield.

NAYS—38.

Aron, Baldwin, Barr, Betts, Brown, Buckman, Christley, Clark, Davis, Derrick, DeWitt, Eyre, Harris, Heaton, Homsher, Huffman, Joyce, Krause, Kutz, Lanius, MacDade, McClintock, Miller, Norton, Patton, Phipps, Quigley, Schantz, Sisson, Smith, Snyder, Sones, Sprowls, Steele, Stineman, Vare, Weaver, Woodward,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 818, (House Bill No. 579), as follows:

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1388, as follows:

An Act declaring it unlawful to make arrests without warrant except for felony upon view of the commission of a crime

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it is unlawful for any sheriff deputy sheriff constable deputy constable or State city borough town township or private police officer or policeman or highway patrolman or other peace officer to arrest any person without a warrant unless such arrest is made for a felony or on view of the commision of any crime

Any person violating the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months or both at the discretion of the court

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, this bill provides that no officer can make an arrest, except on view of a crime, except for a felony. In my opinion, after having years of experience as Deputy Mayor of the city where I live, this bill would materially interfere with the keeping of the peace and good order in the State of Pennsylvania. I believe before the bill is voted upon a thorough analysis of it should be made. If this bill were enacted into a law it would mean that if there were disorder out here on the street, with no officer in sight, and a reputable citizen should call an officer and point out to that officer those who had committed the disorder, it would be impossible for the officer to make the arrest, because, he had not viewed the crime. It would mean that if a person came into a man's place of business and acted in a disorderly manner and he called the police officer to his place of business and the man making the disorder had ceased to make it before the officer got there, although this reputable business man could point out to the officer that a certain person had created the disorder, it would be impossible for the officer to make the arrest. If a man would take a brick and throw it through the window of a business house and no officer happened to see him do it and the owner of the business would point out to the officer the man who had thrown the brick, it would be impossible for him to make an arrest until he went and secured a warrant.

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in order to save valuable time, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 412, (House Bill No. 75), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five of an act entitled "An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and and eleven as amended by an act entitled "An Act amending section five of an act entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' approved the fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by changing the manner of appointment and of determining the number duties and compensation of clerks and other assistants" approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen by changing the manner of fixing the compensation of clerks and other assistants directing same to be fixed by the salary board of which the president-judge of said court shall constitute a member when such salaries are fixed.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to know the purpose of the request to have the bill go over in its order.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, this is the bill that provides for placing the clerks of the county courts under the salary board of the county of Allegheny. The Clerks of the Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions Court are not under the salary Board of Allegheny county and I do not believe it is fair to have the clerks of the county court under the salary board and not these of the Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am sorry the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, did not consult his friend from Allegheny before he asked to have the bill go over. It is a step in the right direction and has the approval of the judges of the county court of Allegheny, and regardless of the fact that the clerks in the other courts are not under the salary board there is no reason why this should not be a step forward to place these clerks there: I think the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, is entirely wrong.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, have information from the judges of the county court that they are in favor of this bill?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I have just the opposite information.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, will state his point of order.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, my point of order is that there is nothing before the Senate to debate.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is sustained.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to inform the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Mansfield, that I gave the letter that I got from Judge Kennedy, the President of the Court, to the Chairman of the Judicial General Committee, Senator Weaver. He still has the letter in his possession, I believe, and Judge Kennedy approved his change, both in this bill and the bill following, which are companion bills.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from [illegible] Mansfield, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I got my information from Judge Jones, of the county court, and I was also advised to-day that Judge Snee did not favor the passage of this bill. I think the following bill is a good bill, it is different from this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 412, (House Bill No. 75), entitled:

An Act to further amend section five of an act entitled "An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven as amended by an act entitled "A nAct amending section five of an act entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny prescribing the powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' approved the fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven by changing the manner of appointment and of determining the number duties and compensation of clerks and other assistants" approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and fifteen by changing the manner of fixing the compensation of clerks and other assistants directing same to be fixed by the salary board of which the president-judge of said court constitute a member when such salaries are fixed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 541, (House Bill No. 595), entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of an act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws five) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' approved May fifth one thousand nine hundred and eleven constituting the said court the juvenile court of said county and prescribing its organization jurisdiction and powers therein and otherwise" as amended by requiring the salary board to fix the salaries of all employes of such juvenile court.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, what is the purpose of this request.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, this bill applies to fifth class counties. The county which I represent is a county of the fifth class and I have not had time to observe the bill since it came back in amended form. It was recommitted for the purpose of amendment. Senator Craig also represents a county of the fifth class and he is absent at this time. I made the request in good faith.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr President, I am perfectly willing to have it go over. I desire to say that Senator Craig looked at the bill, also Senator Schantz and others, who represent fifth class counties, and the amendments were agreed upon in committee. However, I am willing to have it go over.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

This compensation shall not be more than fifteen dollars per week nor less than six dollars per week Provided That if the time of injury the employe receives wages less than seven dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation

(d) No compensation shall be allowed for the first seven days after disability begins except as hereinafter provided in clause (e) of this section

(e) During the first thirty days after disability begins the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical and medical services medicines and supplies as and when needed unless the employe refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer The cost of such services medicines and supplies shall not exceed one hundred dollars If the employer upon application made to him refuse to furnish such services medicines and supplies the employe may procure the same and shall receive from the employer the reasonable cost thereof within the above limitations In addition to the above services medicines and supplies hospital treatment services and supplies shall be furnished by the employer for the said period of thirty days The cost of such hospital treatment service and supplies shall not in any case exceed the prevailing charge in the hospital for like services to other individuals If the employe shall refuse reasonable surgical medical and hospital services medicines and supplies tendered to him by his employer he shall forfeit all right to compensation for any injury or any increase in his capacity shown to have resulted from such refusal

(f) Should the employe die as a result of the injury the period during which compensation shall be payable to his dependents under section three hundred and seven of this article shall be reduced by the period during which compensation was paid to him in his lifetime under this section of this article No reduction shall be made for the amount which may have been paid for medical and hospital services and medicines nor for the expenses of the last sickness and burial Should the employe die from some other cause than the injury the liability for compensation shall cease

Section 3 That section three hundred and seven of said act which as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) entitled "An act to amend an act approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and thirty-six) entitled 'An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder' and providing when the same shall become effective" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 307 In case of death compensation shall be computed on the following basis and distributed to the following persons

1 To the child or children if there be no widow nor widower entitled to compensation thirty per centum of wages of deceased with ten per centum additional for each child in excess of two with a maximum of sixty per centum to be paid to their guardian

2 To the widow or widower if there be no children forty per centum of wages

3 To the widow or widower if there be one child fifty per centum of wages

4 To the widow or widower if there be two or more children sixty per centum of wages

5 If there be neither widow widower nor children entitled to compensation then to the father or mother if dependent to any extent upon the employe at the time of the accident twenty per centum of wages Provided however That in the case of a minor child who has been contributing to his parents the dependency of said parents shall be presumed And provided further That if the father or mother was totally dependent upon the deceased employe at the time of the accident the compensation payable to such father or mother shall be forty per centum of wages

6 If there be neither widow widower children nor dependent parent entitled to compensation then to the brothers and sisters if dependent to any extent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional borther or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian

7 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expenses of burial not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars (without deduction of any amounts thertofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses) payable to the dependents or if there be no dependents then to the personal representatives of the deceased

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable or self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include step-children and adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or remarry or should the widower become capable of self- support the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease Provided however That upon the remarriage of any widow other than a non-resident alien widow the employer shall pay to such widow the then value of the compensation payable to her during one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable but not exceeding one hundred weeks calculated in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and sixteen of this article but the payment of such compensation to the widow shall not diminish the compensation due the children and said children shall be paid compensation immediately after the remarriage of the widow within the terms of this act as though no lump sum payments had been made under the provisions of this section to the widow If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty-five dollars per week nor less than ten dollars per week

This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of three hundred weeks until such child reach the age of sixteen at the rate of fifteen per centum of wages if there be but one child with ten per centum additional for each additional child with a maximum of fifty per centum The board may if the best interest of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a widow or widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as herein after provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount of such minor dependent or insane or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the Board may order and direct and the Board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure application of the money received by such person

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall not apply to any accident or injury occurring prior to midnight on the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three but all such accidents and injuries shall be compensated in the manner and according to the schedule as fixed by law prior to the passage of this act

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. MacDADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. STINEMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday evening, June 11, at nine o'clock.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3:15 P. M., until Monday evening, June 11, 1923 at nine o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1923.

The House met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

Rev. Alonzo D. Thomas, a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee that we are permitted this morning to be the continuators of the practice that has obtained in the Legislative Assemblies of this State since the days of the illustrious Franklin. We thank Thee, Father, that it is possible for us to come before Thee and ask Thee for that guidance and that direction and that spirit which enables us to do things in keeping with the tenets of that great Constitution which Thou hast given unto us and to all men for the direction of their earthly destinies. Help us, then, Father, in all that we would do today to remeber those who have gone on before and to remeber those who gave of their liberties and their lives that the fundamental and the basic principles of pure democracy might not perish from off the earth. Help us to do Thy will in our every deliberation of this hour for the name and the glory of Thy Christ. Amen.

READING OF JOURNAL.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Whereupon the Clerk proceeded with the reading of the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further reading of the Journal be dispensed with.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the dispensing of the reading of the Journal and file this objection.

MOTION TO SUSPEND READING OF JOURNAL.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House suspend the reading of the Journal.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. This is objected to, and I wish this objection read.

The objection was read by the Clerk as follows:

"I object to the dispensing of the reading of the Journal of this House of June 6th, 1923, and ask that it be read at length for the information of this House.

William C. Alexander"

MOTION TO SUSPEND READING OF JOURNAL FOR PRESENT.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the rule be suspended and that the Journal be read at the end of the day's session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman will withhold the motion for the present. The Clerk will proceed with the reading of the Journal.

The Clerk proceeded with the further reading of the Journal.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is not the Journal which is being read. Those are loose leaves, loose pieces of paper and not the journal. The Constitution provides that the Journal itself must be read.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the gentleman from Delaware has arisen to, but he is making a speech during the reading of the Journal which is obviously out of order.

RESOLUTION OF RULES COMMITTEE TO DISPENSE WITH READING OF JOURNAL.

Mr. McVICAR offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk, as follows:

"Resolved that the reading of the Journal of June 6, 1923 be dispensed with.

Nelson McVicar,
John M. Flynn,
George W. Williams,
Charles F. Bidelspacher."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker while it is true and I agree with the proposition that the Rules Committee may dispense with the reading of the Journal for the present, the resolution offered at the present time is a resolution to entirely dispense with the reading of the Journal. Therefore I object to it because it is irregular and improper.

RESOLUTION OF RULES COMMITTEE TO DISPENSE WITH READING OF THE JOURNAL FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. McVICAR offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk, as follows:

"Resolved that the reading of the Journal of June 6th, in the session of June 7th, 1923, be dispensed with for the present.

Nelson McVicar,
John M. Flynn,
George W. Williams,
Charles F. Bidelspacher."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, under the rules of this House, no committees can meet during the sessions of this House. Apparently this last resolution, just read, must of been prepared by this committee during a session of this House.

RECESS.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The time for the recess having elapsed, the House will be in order.

RESOLUTION OF RULES COMMITTEE TO DISPENSE WITH READING OF THE JOURNAL FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. McVICAR offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved, That the reading of the Journal of the House for Wednesday June 6th, 1923, be dispensed with for the present, and that the House proceed with the regular order of business.

Nelson McVicar.
John M. Flynn.
George W. Williams.
Charles F. Bidelspacher.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I object to the adoption of the report. The recess just had is irregular. While a matter of business is before this House no other motion is in order. The reading of the Journal was the regular business of the day, it was in order, and no other motion except for adjournment was in order. A recess was not in order, Further than that under a ruling on this question on page 1297 of Smull's Hand Book, "one objection prevents dispensing of the reading of the Journal. An objection was made to dispensing with further reading of the Journal of the previous days' session. The point of order was raised that one objection will compel the reading of the Journal under the rules of the House. The Speaker decided the point of order well taken. (Legislative Record, February 13, 1906, P. 573; Journal, H. R. p. 240)".

The SPEAKER. The Chair overrules the objections of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

APPEAL FROM DECISION OF THE CHAIR.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to object to the ruling of the Chair, and appeal from a decision of the Chair.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the appeal from the decision of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, to take the Chair pending the appeal.

MR. FLYNN IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House, shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

On the question,

Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?

APPEAL FROM DECISION OF THE CHAIR LAID ON TABLE.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I think that this appeal is so plainly frivilous that I move it be laid upon the table.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker,——

The SPEAKER. The motion is not debatable.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Alexander and Mr. Heyburn and
